Hero-Worship! Ah me, that a man be self-sistent, original true, or what we call it, is surely the farthest thing in the world from indisposing him to reverence and believe other men's truths! It only disposes, necessitates, and invincibly compels him to disbelieve other men's dead formulas, hearsays untruths. A man embraces truths with his eyes open, and because his eyes are open does he need to shut them before he can love his Teacher of Truth? He alone can love with a right gratitude and genuine loyalty of soul, the Hero-Teacher who has delivered him out of darkness into light.
