

40. Particular efforts in the implementation of the four programme areas identified in this chapter are warranted in view of the specially acute environmental and developmental problems of the least developed countries.

-----