

I am sure that you would find yourself with congenial colleagues and congenial surroundings at Macdonald College, which, as you know, was most generously endowed by the late Sir William Macdonald, and I sincerely hope you will decide to come to us. I would expect you to take up your duties early in September.

Yours faithfully,

Principal and Vice-Chancellor.