Body of Missing Tamworth Woman Found in Cellar of Doctor's Home Blood on Bedstead Furnished Clue

Remains of Blanche Yorke, Missing Dressmaker, Unearthed in House Occupied by Dr. C. K. Robinson, Now Wanted on Murder Charge—Bailiff Who Entered to Seize Furniture Noticed Stains.

TAMWORTH. Ont., July 28.—Under circumstances which parallel in part the famous Crippen murder case, the body of Miss Blanche Yorke, the young dressmaker who has been missing since July 7, was found buried in the cellar of the house lately occupied by Dr. C. K. Robinson, the physician whom she consulted on the day she disappeared, sufficiently patched to ever be put on and whose whereabouts are at present unknown. A warrant for his arrest has been issued on a charge of murder.

Bailiff Secured Clue The discovery of Miss Yorke's body was made by her two brothers, Edward and Samuel Yorke, accompanied by them. Dr. Wilson, a local physician. The clue which led to the finding originated in a peculiar way. Since the disappearance of Dr. C. K. Robinson on Thursday, July 16, J. Taylor, a local merchant, from whom Robinson purchased some day? This was at five o'clock tonight. Crown Attorney Preston was notified immediately and he instructed Conloans they had made to local investable Elias Wood not to remove the remains from the cellar until the arrival of Coroner Dr. Cowan from Napance to stable Elias Wood not to remove the remains from the cellar until the house of Dr. Robinson until to

An apparent explanation of the failure of the police authorities to search the house of Dr. Robinson until to day is contained in the circumstances that when the missing physician was questioned the story he told was not national purposes at any cost. And sufficient to cast suspicion on him. As there was no charge upon which a search warrant could be based, the house this has been going on for several hid its grim tragedy until the entry of Bailiff Carscallen and Samuel Yorke this afternoon. much of these securities returned to America are in the vaults of the big financial concerns of the United States, got there in place of the gold they held; nor does any one yet know how great a source of danger to this continent they may prove to be. The evil effects of the high finance of Wall street in the past fifteen years have yet to be finally placed. The nearest guess is that these undigested securities are in the hands of the big loaning concerns of the States; the fight of the past two years, even before Woodrow Wilson came in, is to try and get Wall street sufficiently dininfected that the public will come in Germany's Attitude Disturbing again and buy and take "the bargains" off the shelves of those who are carrying them. THE MAN WANTED

Dr. C. K. Robinson, wanted in connection with the death of Blanche Yorke, the Tamworth dressmaker, is a young man about 25 years of age. He graduated from Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., about two years ago, and became a house surgeon in St. Luke's Hospital in Ottawa, Ont. Leaving there, he took a position as doctor in a lumber camp in northern Ontario, going to Tamworth and opening an office there about two months ago. Robinson is a married man with one child, who is at present staying with Dr. Beli, a veterinary surgeon in Kingston. His wife is also miss-

VIENNA, July 28.—The Militzerische Rundshau reports sharp fighting along the River Drina, Servian volunteers attempting to cross the river being resolutely opposed by Austrian frontier troops. It also reports that the Servians fired on their own river transports by mistake, killing and wounding a number of Servian soldiers.
