

FUNK & WAGNALLS'

Standard Dictionary

is everywhere acknowledged by Educators, Scholars, the Press, and the Public to be

THE BEST FOR ALL PURPOSES.

It is the Latest and Most Complete.

Contains 301,865 words, about 75,000 more than any other dictionary ever published. More than $900,000 were expended in its production. 247 Specialists and Editors were engaged in its preparation.

Its Definitions are Clear and Exact.

President Milne, of New York State Normal College, says its definitions are the best to be found anywhere. Scores of critics say the same.

Its Etymologies are Sound.

They are especially commended by the Atlantic Monthly, Boston, the Westminster Gazette, London, Sunday-School Times, Philadelphia, and scores of others.

It Answers Every Question

concerning any word in the English language, that can be asked by scholar or student. The valuable word-finding and grouping system makes it easy to find a word that is wanted, even though you cannot think what the word is.

It is a Government Authority.

It is in use in all the departments of the United States Government at Washington, and all the departments of the Dominion of Canada. Government experts give it the preference on all disputed points.

It is Adopted in the Public Schools of New York City and elsewhere. Its new educational features are extremely valuable in training pupils to a correct use of words, capitals, hyphens, etc. Its illustrations are superb. Its tables of coins, weights and measures, plants, animals, etc., are exhaustive, and cannot be found elsewhere.

It is the Most Highly Commended.

Never has a dictionary been welcomed with such unanimous and unqualified praise by the press, the great universities, and by educators and critics throughout the English-speaking world. Americans are proud of it. Englishmen admire it."

THE LONDON TIMES: "The merits of the Standard Dictionary are indisputable and are abundantly attested by a large number of unimpeachable authorities."

THE SATURDAY REVIEW, London: "The scheme and execution of the book are alike admirable, and our impression of the value of the dictionary grows with every test of reference. . . . In substantial merit we think the Standard Dictionary decidedly preferable to the much-advertised Century."

THE INDEPENDENT, New York: "It is a noble example in which the modern tendency to popularize knowledge has risen to the highest level yet reached."

B. O. FLOWER, Editor of "The Arena," Boston, said, August, 1895: "Without desiring to disparage the excellent Century, the International, or Worcester's, I feel it simple justice to the Standard to say that in this case the latest is unquestionably the best Dictionary of the English language."

NEW YORK OBSERVER: "It is, indeed, a prodigious work. . . . The knowledge and experience of the most able minds of the age in all the departments of art and science, of literature and learning, have practically been focused, and the result is a dictionary so thorough in details, so comprehensive in its reach, so accessible and intelligible to the student of even average attainments, and yet so satisfactory to the profoundest scholar that it must be conceded a place before undreamed of and till now unfilled."
