

ON AND OFF THE STAGE

Comic and Rag-Time Opera.
The last two performances of the comic opera "The Highwayman" at the Toronto Opera House. The arrangement has proven a very successful one, and the experiment of presenting a first-class company at popular prices has met with the expectations of all concerned. Visitors to the Ontario Jockey Club in town to-day should not fail to see this merry opera, the most pleasing that DeKovin and Smith have written since their other successful work, "Robin Hood." Following "The Highwayman" the attraction, next week, will be the "Countdown 400," and the event will undoubtedly prove one of unusual interest in musical and amusement circles. This organization, it is said to have proven a tremendous hit during the past season in the large cities of the west, and is perhaps the most complete of its kind that has ever been put on for the favor of the local public. The comedy, full of snap and vim, and replete with comical situations and climaxes, as well as abounding in excellent specialities and catchy songs. A special matinee is announced for the Queen's Birthday.

"The Musketeers."
Many features are remarkable about "The Musketeers," Sydney Grundy's new play, founded upon Alexandre Dumas' old romance, "The Three Musketeers," which comes to the Grand Opera House the week of May 22, with James O'Neill as D'Artagnan. In the first place, the statement made concerning it by the proprietors and managers, Liebler & Co., that it was "the finest production ever made on Broadway," has gone entirely without contradiction, even in the most captious and comic New York, where it was reiterated ad infinitum. Secondly, "The Musketeers" represents the very forefront of the age, as it were, of the entire wedge of romanticism into contemporary drama. For nine months this play, originally produced and played by Beerhouse Tree, assisted by Mrs. James Brown Potter, held forth at Her Majesty's Theatre, London, to receipts unprecedented in the annals of the English stage. Through Tree's success in this role, he has forged ahead of Mr. Irving, and become the dominant figure in current English theatricals. Thirdly, Mr. O'Neill and the sterling company surrounding him have accomplished the same species of enthusiasm, vogue, or craze, what you will, that Beerhouse Tree achieved in London. Take one confirmation: In New York "The Musketeers" packed the great Broadway Theatre, from pit to dome, and hurriedly turned away people who were anxious to pay any money to see this triumph of a splendid theatrical year. Fourthly, "The Musketeers" has introduced to the American stage a new and remarkable actress, the person of Blanche Bates, but a year ago unknown and unheeded. To-day she is the rage of the hour in the metropolis. To drop numbers, the success of "The Musketeers" is probably based primarily on the fact that it is at once a great play and a great production. It is also new in the sense that it is a complete departure from the theatrical past. It is a romance, pure and simple, picturesque to a degree, in gorgeous scenery and coloring, and full of richly human loving and living. Timed, as it is, in that most colorful epoch of the world's history in France, when Louis XIII. was King, and Cardinal Richelieu was the potent power behind the throne, we have in the foreground a vivid and dashing story of love and adventure, of chivalry and rapine, the gallant swashbuckler to appear and protect them. Moreover, the play is true to the spirit of its time.

"Carmen" Well Received.
"Carmen," at the Grand last night, met with a much more flattering reception than did "Camille," its sort of twin play, the night before. The house was full of ultra fashionables, who, as a rule, are keen to leading support. Miss Madge McIntosh and Mr. Hamilton Revelle, was called to raised curtain after curtain. Needless to say, every detail of art and accuracy was attended to in finished style. Miss Netherese exhibited her matchless line, her mobile, flashing countenance, and her willowy grace to best effect, for she had opportunity in plenty. Miss McIntosh was violently applauded for a strong scene in the second act. Mr. Revelle looked well in his part, and, indeed, did all. The scenic accessories were magnificent and the whole production worthy even of Netherese.

A Dual Bill at the Princess.
On Monday the Cummings Stock Company will enter upon the thirty-ninth and last week of the season of 1898-99. Nearly ten months is a long time for one company to maintain a hold upon the people of Toronto, but the Cummings Company have done it, and their last week, with Sydney Grundy's sparkling comedy, "The Arabian Nights," as the bill of fare, promises to be as successful as any of its predecessors. The advance sale of seats commenced at the box office yesterday, when the brisk demand made it plainly evident that the week was going to be one of the best. For Queen's Birthday evening the supply promises not to be equal to the demand, so that early application is desirable. "The Arabian Nights," with Miss Byron as gay Jose Colomier, as whom she will sing two pretty and popular songs, will be preceded by the screening farce, "Fair Lullabies," the two plays forming what will doubtless prove a rarely enjoyable entertainment.

Bijou Theatre.
For race week this house will present to its patrons what promises to be the strongest as well as the most sensational show of the season, the feature being "An Affair of Honor." The special scenery and costumes used here will be the same as were used in Koster & Bial's Theatre, a new show during the long run of this production. The past theatrical season has witnessed several presentations of "The Affair of Honor," but the Koster & Bial production was by far the most artistic, and is known as the original. Not only will it be the same, but the artists will be identical. Miss Juliette Perle and Miss May Wheeler represent the principal parts—Jeanette and Marie. The production is in two scenes, six characters (all women), a strong olio of great merit, presenting for the first time in Toronto the Bright Brothers, the greatest acrobatic team in the world. Wren and Walsfield, the Western comedians and singers, new in this field; Ida Russell, character comedienne, and Baby Grace, the child wonder, and other attractions too numerous to mention. Popular prices; every afternoon and evening.

Owen A. Smyth's Return.
Mr. Owen A. Smyth returned to the city last night. He and his company have been meeting with great success on their Eastern trip. Miss Davis and Miss Flanagan, although unknown in the various towns and cities played in, have left a most favorable impression behind them everywhere. The company closed in the City of Quebec.

Piano Recital.
Mr. Frank Duane, the solo pianist, whose last recital elicited such warm approval from music-lovers, will appear at the Toronto public on Thursday evening next, May 25, at the Young Women's Christian Association Hall, 18 Elm-street.

An Enthusiastic Sportsman.
Mayor Davis of Windsor is at the Queen's. He has been a continuous spectator at the Queen's Plate from 1870 to 1898, inclusive, excepting in 1879, when he saw Sirbyres with the Derby in England. He says he has no favorite this year for the Plate, nor had he ever. He is one of the appreciative audience, he says, he will continue to attend each year until he is not able to do so. If circumstances favor it, he will accompany the Argonaut crew to Henley to see the big race. He has already seen some good races on the Thames, and, of course, hopes to see the Canadian crew win.

PIANOS...

—NEW

—SPECIAL

—$150.

This is as good a piano as is produced for one hundred and fifty dollars. And you agree that with fifty years' experience behind us we know something of what constitutes quality in a piano. Here is the instrument:

Kingsbury Piano of Chicago, style X, European model, 7 octaves, hand-made design, case in mahogany, decorated panel and trusses, beautifully finished with best polishing varnish, compound wrest plank of rock maple, full iron plate, on heavy hardwood frame, double repeating action, with nickel-plated brackets, three unisons throughout, fully warranted. Dimensions: Height 48 inches, width 24 inches, length 56 inches. Our special at..... $150

You do not suppose that this piano is the equal of a piano that will cost double the amount or more.

Two hundred and seventy-five dollars will give you a piano—a Cabinet Grand Kingsbury Piano, that is a better piano than any one that will be sold you for that amount.

There is a higher ideal in pianos if you will be satisfied with none other than the one piano that has received the endorsement and been eulogized by leading home artists and musical critics and the many eminent foreign artists who have visited Canada within the past few years. This is the Heintzman & Co. art piano, which will cost you more than either of the above instruments, but represents in real worth every dollar that is asked for it.

"The new scale grand piano of Heintzman & Co. has my hearty congratulations. The tone is noble and sweet, not losing its musical quality even in the utmost fortissimo."—Dr. Edward Fisher, Musical Director, Toronto Conservatory of Music.

"Your new scale concert grand piano possesses unique musical characteristics that must give it a distinctive place among the great pianos of the world. I shall insist on having a Heintzman & Co. new scale grand piano whenever I visit Canada."—Richard Burmeister.
