MANY CHILDREN'S LIVES SAVED BY PROF. R. L. MULVENEY'S WORLD-FAMOUS REMEDY

Prof. Mulveney Tells a Story of What Happened in Stouffville a Few Years Ago.

Toronto, Oct. 5, 1916.

About seventeen years ago I was living in Barrie, and I took a trip to a place called Stouffville. I took my grip and medicine boxes full of medicine, which I had no trouble selling on this particular day. A party who had previously purchased a bottle of Rheumatoid applied on his child's throat externally had saved him from an operation, which the doctor said would have to be performed as her tonsils if she wished to get well. This gentleman told the people that the doctor was mistaken, as Rheumatoid had cured his daughter, and was worth its weight in gold. This recommendation helped me wonderfully to sell my medicine. I extracted many teeth for those who were suffering from toothache and was sold out about 12 o'clock at noon. I had just closed my empty boxes when the fire bell rang and the whole town seemed to rush to the fire. I left my boxes on the market, put my guitar under my arm and ran to the fire. It was a private house. The mother of four children had left them alone in the house, and they, through playing with matches, had set the house afire. They were all rescued, but the house was badly damaged. The fireman, however, put the fire out and left a few turned fire starters and a few boards to mark the place of a once happy home.

I asked the crowd if it was insured, and someone said they did not think it was, and also said that poor Jim, who was a hard-working man, and that he had worked night and day to provide for his family and pay for his home. This aroused me to action. I climbed up on a stump in the yard. The whole town was there. I started to whistle "The Mocking Bird" and the crowd gathered close around me, as I was singing an accompaniment on my guitar. I finally stopped playing and said: "Just a moment and I will sing you a song. I have no medicine to sell as I sold out on the market. But I heard a remark about the very worthy young man who lived in this house, and who was unfortunate in having his home burned. I have heard that he has worked night and day to get it together, and now it is burned. 'Now,' I said, 'many can help a where one cannot help many. I am a stranger in your midst, but I feel sorry for Jim, and I am going to take up a collection for him. I will start it.' I dropped the tin in my hat with the remark, 'Every little helps' and the crowd responded cheerfully, and soon I had a fat little tin filled with money. Two gentlemen came up to where I was standing and with a pass book took subscription. I was told they were the men who ran the newspaper office in the town. I started the ball rolling, and it was not long till Jim had enough money collected for him to build a new home. I left that town feeling as if I had done my part, and the crowd seemed to appreciate it, for the authorities of Stouffville never asked me to pay a license any more in their town, and always received me with a friendly hand. About five or six years later I was working on the market in Toronto, and a gentleman came up to me and said: 'You don't know me, but I know you, and will never forget the kind act you did for me a few years ago.' I said: 'My friend, I do not remember giving you any help.' 'No,' he said, 'I do not think you have ever seen me before, but nevertheless you have done a great deal for me. I said, 'If I did where and how?' 'Well,' he said, 'you took up a collection, at first in Stouffville, and then in Toronto, and saved my ruined man and what you did that day built me a new home and saved my wife and family from poverty.' I said, 'Well, I am glad and pleased to have met you.'

REMINISCENCES OF THE PAST

The Changes in the Market
People—Old Characters
Gone.

The following clipping is taken from The London Evening Free Press of Thursday, April 20, 1911: "A picturesque feature of the market of a few years ago was the Indian medicine man, Mulveney. For years a Saturday night crowd came down town to the market to listen to Mulveney sing and play the banjo, to watch him and his wife, and to charge, and to buy his Indian remedies. He has not been in London except occasionally for a day or so in years, but he is still in the same business, and was at the last Winter Fair in Guelph, as active and busy as ever. Mulveney always said that he had been a cowboy, and he certainly wore his cowboy costume as if he was born to it. He kept a little shop at the north end of the bazaar, and the small boy was a pile of teeth that must have numbered into the thousands, which Mulveney had drawn from the jaws of suffering humanity. His dental work was a little rough, but very certain as to results. A tooth on which he fastened his pincers never ached again."

ANDREW BUCHANAN.

Toronto, Sept. 21, 1916.

Dear Sir: I am writing to you to tell you how much I am indebted to you for the cure of my little boy, who had been very sickly. I had heard of your "Mother's Friend" and I thought I would try it. I bought a bottle of your "Mother's Friend" and I gave it to my little boy. He took it very well and he is now as healthy as a horse. I am very grateful to you for the cure of my little boy. I am, Sir, your truly, Andrew Buchanan.

Tavistock, Sept. 6th, '16.

Dear Sir: As I have used your "Mother's Friend" medicine a while ago, and found it a good medicine, I would like to have $2.00 worth again, by return mail.

We have a little boy, who, at times, complains of his stomach, and I thought I would try it again.

Yours truly,

Dear Sir: I have the pleasure of writing to you in regard to your "B'Well" Medicine, which I can recommend to all sufferers. I have been cured myself by your wonderful medicine.

Hoping this gets to you safely, I am, Sir, your truly,

Dear Sir: I have tried one package of your "Mother's Friend" for my little girl, and I found it has helped her a lot. She doesn't seem to have the dizzy spells of fits, whatever they were, nearly so much, and she sleeps better, so I want you to send me one package of "B'Well." I am going to try that, as I thought it might help her head, and will enclose $2.00, by which you can send me one package.

B'Well? It Makes People Feel Well

B'Well is a medicine that assists nature, made from roots, barks, herbs, leaves, etc. The concentrated extracts of these herbs tone up the stomach, regulate the liver, act on the kidneys, and it contains a harmless worm destroyer that is sure death to worms, and can be used with perfect safety.

B'Well is not a tapeworm exterminator and is not recommended for that trouble. B'Well is restoring thousands of people to health. I am not going to enumerate the different diseases and complaints that people have been relieved of from the use of B'Well, as it would take up too much space. I can simply say that restlessness and disease cannot remain if you take this medicine for a time, and it will surely make you feel fine.

It does not contain poison in any form, or narcotic that only relieves pain, but the different roots and herbs that regulate the system. It stimulates the stomach, liver and kidneys into healthy action, helps digestion and keeps the bowels regular, expels all gases from the system, and takes away the bad feeling around the heart and fearful feeling from the head, depressed spirits and melancholy.

Simply vanish and a cheerful spirit takes their place. B'Well is a blessing to those that feel like a burden, to those that are down-hearted and unhappy from disease. B'Well carries the poison out of the system through the natural channels of health, and as the poison is carried out of the system, nature restores herself, and a cheerful spirit follows, as there is nothing like good health to make a person cheerful and happy. People treated for Epileptic fits have been restored by its use. Don't ask me if it cures this, that and the other disease. It is different from most medicines advertised as cure-alls, and I am not advertising this remedy as such, but simply advertising it as a medicine that has and will regulate the system, carry the poison out of the blood, and common sense must surely tell you the result. Men and women who have been nervous wrecks, with hollow cheeks and sunken brow, have become plump, healthy and cheerful from its use, and I can only say what it has done for others it will surely do for you. Young men and women whose faces are covered with pimples and a sickening sight to look at, are now free from them from its use. Men and women and children who had acting ulcers and running sores have been healed, and what it has done for them it is likely to do for you.

Professor Mulveney's World Famous Tape Worm Remedy is saving thousands of valuable lives, and B'Well is doing just as much for those requiring this kind of medicine.

B'Well put up in powder form for convenience to send to foreign places by mail, which does away with all breakages. The package of powder makes twice as much medicine for the same amount of money. Full directions are included with each package. Write for further information, free, and full, self-addressed stamped envelope with your address written plainly for reply. These remedies are sold only by Prof. R. L. Mulveney, 167 Dundas Street, Toronto, Ont., and 73 Niagara Street, Buffalo, N.Y.
