

WIFE PUTS UP HER HUSBAND FOR SALE AS SLAVE, BUT CAN FIND NO TAKERS

Haverhill, Mass.—There's a slave for sale here.

He is white, six feet tall, and able-bodied. His wife is putting him up on the auction block. Any fair price will take him.

Adella Ocino is the name of the slave; Mrs. Annie Stella Ocino the name of his wife. He worked in a shoe factory for 35 years; she works in a box factory.

But the going became hard. They looked for a way out. Mrs. Ocino believes she has found it—by putting her husband up for sale.

"This slave without a master," she says, "is willing to work at anything a man of middle age is able to do. He is intelligent and he is fairly well educated. His character is above reproach.

"If anybody wants a slave of this type, it is a chance to obtain a bargain."

So she's advertising her "Slave for Sale."

But so far there have been no bidders. There seems to be little call for slaves.

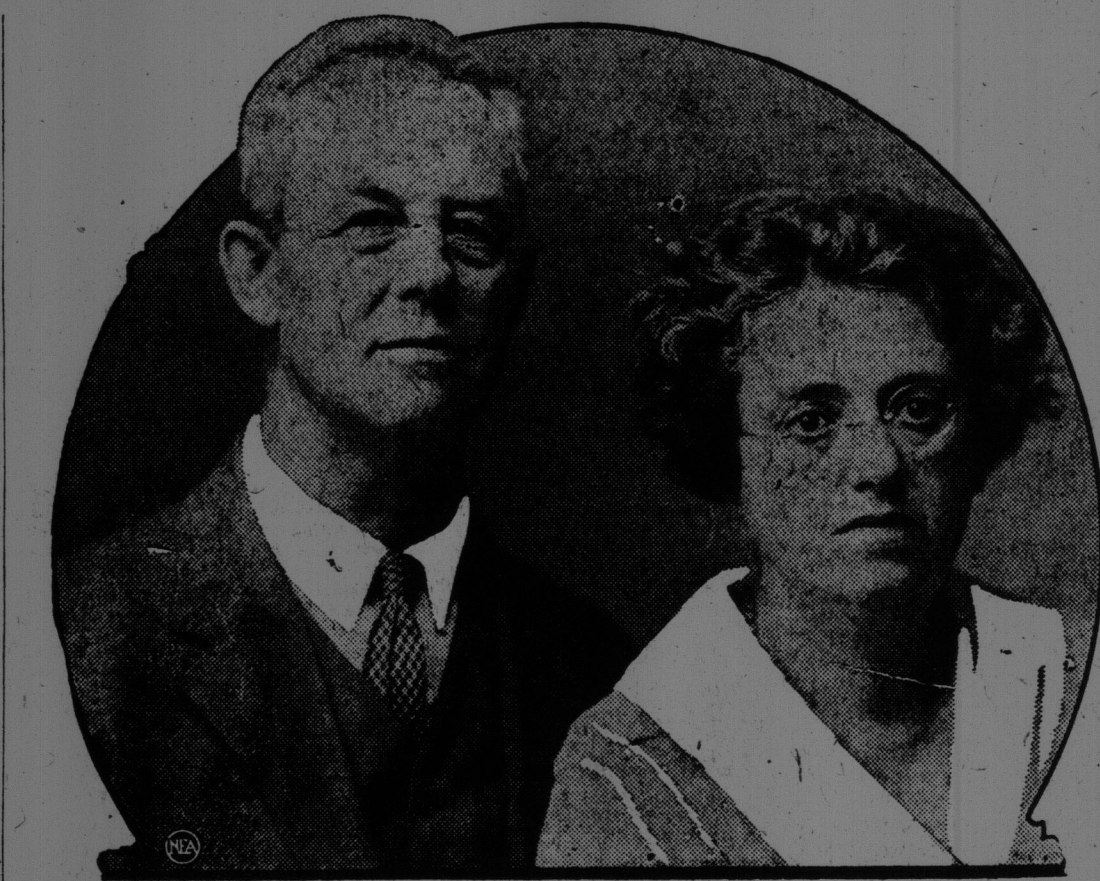

"This is an era of advertising," she says. "I want to get a decent job for my husband because he is self-respecting and does not want to be supported by my small earnings. I want to show that I am capable of better things than laboring in a box factory. And I want to show up the present evil of industrial slavery."

"What I meant the ad to convey is the fact that the industrial worker today, particularly the unskilled man, is a more unfortunate slave than his black brother of a generation ago. There was at least a paternalistic care of the slave of the south. Today an industrial slave who has had misfortune, serious illness such as we have had, is likely to find himself 'left off' and unable to obtain employment with very little money to tide him over."

"Although we are not actually in want now our condition will be serious before the winter is through unless we can increase our income."

Mrs. Ocino now is earning from $20 to $21 a week at piece work in the box factory. The rent of their small apartment is $3.50 a week but prospects of expensive coal are not encouraging.

The husband has been in the shoe industry most of his life, his last work being packing. He earned from $20 to $30 a week at this but says that girls have almost entirely replaced men.

MRS. ANNIE STELLA OCINO AND HER HUSBAND ADELLA "THE SLAVE FOR SALE"

"I'm a good object lesson for young men," says Ocino. "I left school when I was 14 to earn 25 cents a day in a shipping room. I made a fatal mistake when I did not get all the education possible and another serious blunder when I failed to learn a trade. The good wages are in the production end, not in the routine and white collar jobs."

"I am not wishing but I do think there is something wrong with an industrial system wherein a man can work 35 years or more and be unable to lay up more than a few months living."

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Col. Edward Ryan, well known Red Cross worker and a native of Scranton, Pa., died at Tehran, Persia, on September 12, of malaria fever.

The N. S. schooner, D. C. Mulhall, commanded by Captain Dicks of Charlottetown, with a cargo of liquor from Demerara, was seized by Customs officials off Halifax Harbor on Saturday night.

Viscount Morley, veteran writer and statesman, former Lord President of the Council, and Secretary of State for India, died at his residence in Wimbledon, England, yesterday, from heart disease.

George A. Hall of Truro, collapsed on the arrival of the C. P. R. train in Montreal Saturday night, dying shortly afterwards in the Hotel Dieu Hospital.

FIREWORKS FOR BIRD PEST. Mount Vernon Uses Roman Candles to Drive off Grackles.

New York, Sept. 15.—Under the direction of Mayor Edson, the Fire Department, Mount Vernon, used Roman candles and fireworks to drive off thousands of grackles which had been disturbing the sleep of residents of the southeastern section of Chester Hill.

The pyrotechnic bombardment was aimed at tall trees in the vicinity of Archer and Sydney Avenues. Under Mayor Pisko the firing squad set off the roman candles and then discharged skyrockets. The noise and illumination startled the grackles and flocks of them disappeared eastward toward the Mount Vernon city dump and the Bronx.

"If the grackles return," said Mayor Pisko, "we shall fire another charge of roman candles until they finally disappear. In Baltimore the roman candle idea of disposing of grackles worked successfully."

Preston W. Paynter of South Brewer, Me., was here on Saturday night from Sackville, and yesterday proceeded on his way home, having arranged matters satisfactorily with the Sackville authorities relative to an auto incident. W. M. Ryan was his counsel.

ROARING PLANES ENCIRCLE LONDON'S BUSY AIRDROME

London, Sept. 1.—(A. P. by mail)—For the first time since its creation many Londoners who stayed in town on bank holiday discovered London's great air port at Croydon, and were duly surprised to find it very like a main-line railway station.

There is a level crossing near the entrance where a flagman holds up the road traffic while big Handley-Page and other planes roar across the roadway prior to leaving earth for Paris, Rotterdam, Cologne or Hamburg. Once past the flagman, the visitor comes to a compact village in which headquarters of various air services are situated round an up-to-date hotel, adjacent to a post office, meteorological office, administrative headquarters and enormous charts are set up on which the progress of various services are flagged by an official who is in constant wireless touch with planes on their way to and from various capitals.

Should any particular plane be arriving late, it is ordered to wait and taxi round until an outgoing liner is clear and so avoid risk of a collision.

On the ground there is a rush of porters and interpreters to meet incoming and outgoing planes. After being in the heavens several hours, conditions, on alighting, are very similar to those at a railway station.

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH. Mrs. Alexander Banker Falls Over Oil Stove in Schaghticoke.

Schaghticoke, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Mrs. Alexander Banker, 61 years old, was burned to death recently. It is believed she suffered a shock and fell across an oil stove, overturning it.

WHO WAS EFFICIENT? At an employer, noted for his energy and lack of tolerance for loafing in any form, visited his stock room and found a boy leaning idly against a packing case, whistling cheerily and with nothing at all on his mind. The boss stopped and stared.

"How much are you getting a year?" he demanded with characteristic abruptness.

"Twelve dollars."

"Here's your twelve. Now get out. You are through."

As the boy philosophically pocketed the money and departed, the boss turned to the chief clerk and demanded:

"Since when has that fellow been with us?"

"Never, that I know of," was the response. "He just brought over a note from Blinz & Jinx."—Forbes Magazine (N. Y.)

At a silver tea given by the Catholic Women's League of Victoria, B. C., on Sept. 19, Mrs. E. J. Ryan, of St. John, was one of the guests of honor. Mrs. Ryan with her husband, Dr. Ryan, attended the annual convention of Canadian Clubs at Vancouver.

FLIERS BURNED IN PLANE

Two Brothers Are Taken to Norwich (N. Y.) Hospital.

Norwich, N. Y., Sept. 24.—George Stead, a former army aviator, and his brother Kenneth, were badly burned when their plane caught fire as they made a forced landing on their father's farm at Guilford. The plane, which was an army machine and had been used by the Steads for stunt flying, was destroyed.

The men were taken to the Norwich Hospital, where it was said they probably would recover.

NIGHT SCHOOL

The opening of the night classes, which have been conducted for some years by the Board of School Trustees, is now being arranged. The classes will be held in the King Edward school, five nights a week for boys and men; in the office building, three nights a week for girls and women; in the new Albert school, three nights a week for girls and women and two nights a week for boys and men. In Centennial there will be a mechanical drawing class three nights a week. The opening has been set for October 1.

CLOSE OF FORTY HOURS

The Forty Hours Devotion in Holy Trinity church closed last evening. The preacher was Rev. Eugene Reynolds, of the Cathedral. Rev. F. Cronin and Rev. S. Oram, assisted Fr. Reynolds in the service. A procession in honor of the Most Blessed Sacrament was a feature. There was a very large attendance.
