Bout With Negro Boxer to Be Held on Labor Day—Titleholder Has Workout.

Great Falls, Mont., May 23.—Jack Dempsey will battle Harry Wills, the negro heavyweight, after meeting Tom Gibbons at Shelby on July 4, according to Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, who has taken charge at the champion's training quarters here.

Dempsey-Wills contest will be staged on Labor Day, Kearns said, probably in New York or New Jersey. When asked regarding future purses for Dempsey, his manager said that he figured Jack and Wills would draw a bigger gate in this country than any two other fighters.

Dempsey's manager said he was impressed with the drawing powers of the Shelby bout and he expected a capacity crowd. Kearns complimented Dempsey on his selection of a training campsite and said that the quarters here were far superior to those used by the champion at Toledo and Atlantic City before his bouts with Willard and Carpenter respectively.

Kearns complimented Dempsey on his selection of a training campsite and said that the quarters here were far superior to those used by the champion at Toledo and Atlantic City before his bouts with Willard and Carpenter respectively.

The champion himself declined to comment on his future bouts, declaring there was time enough to do that after he had beaten Gibbons.

Dempsey took a five-mile run, and he indulged in a session of shadow boxing and rope jumping, he will probably start boxing on Monday or Tuesday.

George Godfrey, negro giant; Frank Powers, New York middleweight, and Jack Burke, Pittsburgh heavyweight, are at his camp and other sparring partners, including Joe Benjamin and Willie Meahan of California; Harry Drake and Billy Wells, British boxers, are on their way here.

Hundreds of Great Falls school boys flocked to Dempsey's camp and swarmed over the training quarters. Many

NEW MAE MURRAY Picture Gorgeous

"Broadway Rose" Richly Set—Story Has Highly Dramatic Character

STAR'S ROLE FITTING

In "Broadway Rose" Mae Murray's latest production, to be presented by Robert Z. Leonard at the Palace Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, the famous Metro star has another of those roles which have come to be associated with her name and which provide opportunity for magnificent settings, gorgeous costumes and the dance episodes without which no Mae Murray picture is complete.
