A WORD TO ORANGEMEN

ORPHANAGE FAIR DAILY NEWSLETTER

St. John, N. B., October 6, 1921.

To the Officers and Members of the L. O. A. of N. B.:

Dear Sirs and Brethren:—You are, no doubt, aware that a strong movement is, by those who have the interests of children at heart, being made to raise funds to assist the Protestant Orphans in St. John. This consists of a Ten Day Fair to be held in this city beginning October 17, and of an appeal to the general public for donations. Among these workers are members of the Orange Order.

This organization has ever been at the front in anything that tends to improve the condition of orphaned children. It is a maxim that "the welfare of the state is the highest law." As the children form the foundation upon which a state is built surely then their welfare is the highest law. Neglect all children for one generation and the next would be chaos. Does it seem fair that any of these innocents should be raised amidst misery and want, too often to add to the ever increasing list of criminals?

In giving His disciples a needed lesson Christ stated that "Whosoever shall receive one of such children in My name, receiveth Me." Is it not well to receive Christ? Those who assist in this fair will be so doing. Will you not work together and make a special effort to assist in this, of all works, the noblest?

Fraternally yours,

STEPHEN B. BUSTIN,

Grand Master N. B., L. O. L.

Address James E. Arthurs, P. O. Box 12, City.

VOCATIONAL CLASSES.

When the evening vocational classes, conducted by the Fredericton school board, were opened on Monday evening, 240 students were present, and more will follow. The classes, instructors and number enrolled are as follows:

Electricity—Harry C. Moore, twelve in class.

Motor Mechanics—Arthur Booth, forty-one in class, which may necessitate two classes being formed.

Blue print reading and mechanical drawing.—R. Murray, four in class.

Industrial Stitching—Miss Hattie Brewer, seven in class.

Millinery—Miss Love, thirty-seven in class. This may also be made into two classes.

Dressmaking—Miss Haining, twenty-five in class.

Home Nursing—Miss Peterson, nine in class.

Plain Sewing—Miss Cecil Gallagher, thirteen in class.

Cooking—Miss Gillies, fourteen enrolled.

General Education—John F. Rogers, nineteen enrolled.

Shorthand—Mrs. Leslie Mayor, fourteen in class.

Typewriting—Miss McLellan, fourteen enrolled.

Salesmanship—D. L. White, five enrolled.

Bookkeeping—H. W. McAfee, twenty-five in class.

The Sackville school board has also opened evening vocational classes in dressmaking, penmanship, commercial arithmetic, etc., and will open others in motor mechanics, bookkeeping, blue print reading, and short hand and typewriting, provided that there is sufficient enrolment to warrant the opening of classes. The question of having a course of lectures in First Aid for firemen, policemen, and others, is being taken up with the St. John Ambulance Association.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

The provincial government, in session at Fredericton, received a delegation from the city of Fredericton yesterday afternoon, asking for a readjustment of the balance of $4,000, which is claimed to be owing to the province on the patriotic account. The claim is that the city was over-assessed to that amount compared with the other municipalities. The same delegation also asked that the site of the Fredericton water works be given to the city. Consideration was promised of the two requests, and the delegation withdrew.

At the coroners inquest into the death of Charles Delahunt, chief clerk in the Moncton postoffice, held yesterday afternoon, the jury rendered a verdict that, Charles Delahunt took his life while in a temporary state of aberration between the 3rd and 5th of October.

Daniel W. Dawson, a clerk in the post office, said he saw Delahunt on Monday morning going to the old files, where he was found. He seemed to be the same as usual. Arthur D. Legere, another emploee, said he saw Delahunt leave the post office Monday morning at 11 o'clock in his unusual good spirits. His wife called on the phone asking if he was at work. Mr. Henderson asked her if he was home and she said he was not. He told of finding the body.

BELIEVES SON WAS MURDERED

South Boston Man Found Unconscious and Dies in Hospital.

Boston, Oct. 6—Three investigations have been started in an effort to solve the mysterious death of Timothy J. Fleming, a chauffeur, aged twenty-three, of 83 street, South Boston, who expired in the City Hospital, showing signs of marks of violence on his face.

The father of Fleming has charged that his son was murdered and he is seeking information.

About four a. m. Timothy J. Fleming was found unconscious in a doorway at 13 A street, South Boston, by Daniel Cunningham, who notified the police. Policemen took the man to the City Hospital, where he was identified by members of his family.

The young man's wife said that her husband left the home with $60 in his pocket. He started to take a walk. He was absolutely sober. When he failed to return she became worried and a search resulted in the finding of her husband in the hospital.

The loss of the $60 prompts the police to believe that the man was robbed and was beaten, then left in the doorway, which is not more than 1,000 yards from his home.

George Fleming, the father, believes that his son was murdered, and says that he will run down every possible clew in order to find the slayer.

FIVE PLEAD GUILTY

Truro, N. S., Oct. 6—Five men, now being tried at the criminal trial sittings of the supreme court here on charges of breaking and stealing in stores in Colchester and Pictou counties, have pleaded guilty to a number of the charges. Monro Bell, David Lynds and Roy Creelman pleaded guilty to five, and John McAdam and William Parks to four.

ORPHANAGE FAIR.

The Protestant Orphanage fair committee met last evening in Orange Hall, Germain street and heard reports of the sub-committees. A letter was read from the Grand Chancellor Commander of the Knights of Pythians of the Maritime provinces, J. S. Lord, of St. Stephen He endorsed the fair enterprise and gave permission for the canvass of the K. of P. lodges throughout the province for support. H. H. Coleman was elected chairman of the fruit committee. Marlborough Lodge, Sons of England, wrote to endorse the committee's efforts and promised to co-operate in the work at the fair.
