SOME CHANGES
IN TAXATION?

Ottawa Newspaper Says a
Strong Possibility of Variation.

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—The Citizen in its news columns, says:
"There is a strong probability that the coming session of parliament will see considerable variation in the taxation measures of the government."
"The business profits tax is likely to go and possibly the luxury tax may be replaced by a sales tax. It will be recalled that the business profits tax was renewed this year despite very strenuous objections from business interests which represented it to be an impediment to commercial and industrial expansion. The minister of finance was not enamored of it but took the stand that money had to be raised and this was a tried and proven source of revenue. The additional taxes levied and the revenues accruing from them suggest the dropping of the tax on business in the next budget. There is also talk, but less of it, of modifying the luxury tax."

Ambassador Geddes Calls for Open Dealing

Says Adequate World Trade
Development by Great Britain and United States Requires This.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Adequate world trade development by Great Britain and the United States requires that both nations lay their cards on the table, said Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador, last night at a dinner given by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to representatives of the British Chamber of Commerce here as guests of the United States organization.

He insisted that there was greater desire in Great Britain for close business co-operation with the United States than has been indicated by many writers in the United States. He had learned from these writers, he said, how diabolically clever the British, more especially the English, were, and with what machinelike duplicity the British pushed their trade. Economic waste results, he said, when each nation regards the other's commercial and financial activities with suspicion.

The ambassador denied published reports that the British government had resold the German government some German ships with the object of hindering the development of the United States mercantile marine.

Our Travelling Salesmen Enjoy
Selling Red Rose Orange
Pekoe Tea

Travelling salesmen work very hard as a rule. They put in long hours, and the pleasure of travelling is not so great as to those of us who mostly live at home.

Naturally, therefore, these men must get a great deal of their pleasure and satisfaction from their work—they like to sell the finest of products and represent a good "house".

Our travelling salesmen are exceedingly critical of the products which they are asked to sell, and when we told them last January that we wanted them to sell a new tea of extra quality—much finer than has usually been sold in Canada—they were keenly interested, put the new tea to many tests amongst their friends, and gave it a lot of time and thought.

Having convinced themselves of the extra fine quality of Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea, they started on their trips full of enthusiasm.

Their satisfaction, however, has been much greater on their later trips, because of the splendid renewal orders which are following their first sales.

Like good merchants, our salesmen enjoy selling the very finest tea—Red Rose Orange Pekoe.

Try the tea which has met with so much success.
