LABOR AND BOLSHEVISM.

(New York Evening Post.)

The "bill of rights" adopted by the representatives of the A. F. L. unions and railroad brotherhoods at Washington last Saturday came, in the order of time, before the vigorously worded resolutions directed against the extensive element within the unions; but the logical order was the other way about. To gain even a hearing from the American of political and economic dement and of antagonism to the whole philosophy of compers and his associates have thus shound a declaration of war against "Bolshewism" in the labor movement, but the initiative has not been wholly with them. The declaration of war resolutions are capital as necessity may dictate. In urging the expulsion from the unions of all in members affiliated with I. W. W. or Bolshevist or and federations which violated the members affiliated with I. W. W. or Bolshevist or and federations which violated the members have not gone quite so far as the Socialist party did early in the year went it actually expelled state organizations and federation which violated the membership rules of the national Socialist organization. Mr. Gompers is pretty sure to be kept busy waging his two-front war against the "reactionaries" and the "Recks."

She—"Is it true that liquor will continue to be made surreptitiously?" or and the "Recks."
