GET INTO THE GAME

The new spirit of St. John was manifest at the Get-Together dinner at Keith's assembly rooms last evening.
More than three hundred men were there, filling the tables in both rooms, and they were representatives of all interests in business and the professions. They cheered the president of the board of trade, the mayor, and Mr. Chase, who set forth with great clearness the objects to be attained by the enlarged board and the advantages to be derived by the city from an active participation of a thousand earnest men or more in the varied activities outlined in the new programme.
The meeting was at once a revelation of the new spirit of progress, and an inspiration to every man present to join with his fellows in a forward movement such as St. John has never yet seen. The speakers made a clear statement of the reasons for confidence in a bright future for this city, and there appeared for volunteer workers to spend a portion of today and the two following days in an effort to place the board, numerically, and financially, in a position to do its best work for the advantage of the interests of the whole city.
It is now up to the citizens. There can be no doubt at all that the appeal will meet with a hearty response, and it should be such a response as will tell to the rest of Canada that St. John recognizes its position on the front street and proposes to do a front street business.
The citizens are not asked to make a donation to the board of trade, but to make an investment, and by their personal interest that it yields returns to the city in which they live and do business. In yielding returns to the city in growth of industries and trade, and civic betterment, it brings benefit to every citizen. It is safe to say that after a three years experiment those who now endorse and support the programme of the board will go on supporting it, realizing that in no other way can so much practical benefit be derived by the whole community as through this agency of a united citizenship working in harmony year after year for the general good. This is not merely a passing exhibition of youthful enthusiasm, but the adoption by hard-headed business men of a practical working plan to pool their interests and their energy and get results. It is co-operation. It is organized effort. It is team-work for St. John. Let every man who desires to see St. John become a great city get into the game.

STUDY AND PRACTICE

An interesting experiment is being made in the United States to combine study in the schools with practical work in factories. It is claimed that the ordinary course in manual training, while it is beneficial, does not give boys that skill which they ought to have when they take up practical work. In a recent report the United States board of education tells of an interesting experiment in which the boys spend part of their time in school and part of it in the factory. We quote from Bradstreet:
"It centers around the high school at McComb City, Miss., on the one side, and the Illinois Central Railroad on the other. Specifically, the boys of the high school attend school one day and work in the railroad shops the next. The student-apprentices, as they are called, are paid for their work in the shops, the minimum wage being twelve cents an hour and the monthly earnings $12 to $18. After four years of combined high school attendance and shop work the boy is prepared to enter college or draw a man's pay at his trade. The plan is said to be working out in a satisfactory manner."
A long pull, a strong pull and a pull together for St. John.
A very substantial increase has been shown since the first of the year in bank clearings at St. John.
If work is scarce at St. John, Mr. James Barnes says they want fifty men in the coal fields at Mine.

POLITICS AND THE FLAG

The manner in which politicians have exploited the flag and the sentiments of loyalty of the Canadian people is now quite apparent to everybody. It is a shameful story, and history will do full justice to those persons who were willing to subordinate the highest feelings of the people to their own selfish ends. The Montreal shareholder came up the situation in the following brief but striking paragraph:
"Our sensitiveness to emotional appeal has been very highly developed, and astute politicians realizing this find it the only way to accomplish their ends is to arouse the people by some fervid appeal. Once their passions or prejudices have been aroused, people will do things which they may regret later on. We have had examples of this in Canadian political life. The recent reciprocity arrangement with the United States is a case in point. By dint of great flag-waving, fervent appeals to the loyalty of the people and denunciations of the 'Yankees,' the agreement was defeated. There are evidences today that on a second thought, the people are sorry for their verdict of September 21st, 1911. They were carried away by impulses which they now regret. Apparently, a somewhat similar campaign is now on in connection with the treaty."
New industries are looking toward St. John as a desirable location. An industrial commissioner of experience with funds necessary to carry on the campaign, under direction of the council of the board of trade, would be able to make many more manufacturers see the advantages of this location.
Under the old regime, some city gates in China were closed about dusk and two did not close until midnight. Since the revolution, all the gates have been closed not later than 7 and sometimes by 6 o'clock in the evening. This has been a great inconvenience to many persons who have important business to attend to and yet cannot come in or go out. General Li is thinking of ordering that the gates remain open all night, that electric lights be installed near the entrance and that soldiers be stationed to keep watch.

Everybody knows that Methuselah was the oldest man, but even the Bible is reticent about the oldest woman.

WASTE OF HUMAN ENERGY

"One of the saddest things about life on this planet is the undeveloped waste of human powers."
This striking sentence from an address delivered in Bangor by the President of Colby College is well worth pondering over. It is a challenge to the people of every community to pay more attention than has been paid to the work of human conservation. We conserve our forests, our water power, our agricultural and mineral wealth, and lay great stress upon the importance of such conservation. True, there is also a systematic effort to conserve human energy, and to prevent its waste, but how very far short we come of performing the task with complete success. Every child that is born is a source of energy for good or evil. Every child has the capability with proper education and training to become a producing factor, and an added influence in the development of a higher civilization, but how many there are of these children who are not educated and not trained, and who go through life in an apparently purposeless manner, with very little ambition other

"The Only Cure for Piles"

Writes Mr. Taylor in Telling His Experience With Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Because Dr. Chase's Ointment brings almost immediate relief from the dreadful itching, burning, stinging sensations of piles, it is well worth the attention of everyone suffering from this annoying disease. In most cases, even after years of standing, Dr. Chase's Ointment makes a thorough and lasting cure of itching, bleeding and protruding piles. Mr. Maxwell Taylor, Charlottetown, P.E.I., writes: "To all sufferers from piles in any form I would recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as the only cure. Over a year ago while in Boston I became afflicted with a dreadful itching-became. I went to a doctor, who gave me some ointment which made me no better. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and by the use of two boxes I was entirely cured. You may publish this statement in order that other sufferers may be relieved by my experience."
Dr. Chase's Ointment can better prove its value by the relief it affords than by all the words we could use in its praise. 49 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

LIGHTER VEIN

"A WEALTHY CRACK!"
"What was that noise?"
"An automobile tire blew out, I guess."
"Humph! Do you suppose we'll ever be rich enough to afford such music?"

BOASTFULLY ARROGANT.

"Some men do like to brag about their wealth."
"What's the matter now?"
"Bartlett stopped me yesterday to tell me proudly that he has hens in his backyard that are still laying eggs."

THE ORIGINAL.

"That cub reporter shows originality."
"So?"
"Yes, here's a story about a prominent citizen and he doesn't say that he's well known."

GUARDING THE PORTALS.

"The Guy—'Will it make you nervous to face the great man in his office?'"
"Little Guy—'None; but I'm deathly afraid to face that office boy of his.'"

PASSIONATELY FOND OF IT.

"Are your daughters fond of music?"
"They must be. They insist that I pay $7 apiece for phonograph records."

THE SERVANT PROBLEM.

"How many servants have you at your little suburban home?"
"Three."
"You surprise me. I should think that one would be enough. How can you find employment for three servants?"
"We always have one coming, one going and one there."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

At yesterday afternoon's session of the Kings County Council the petition of John L. Coleman, proprietor of the Tourist Hotel, Hampton Village, setting forth that his wife and four children had been quarantined for scarlet fever by Dr. Wetmore, chairman of the Board of Health, while three other physicians had afterwards certified that there was no trace of the disease, and praying that Dr. Wetmore be removed from his position, was received but action was deferred until this morning.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp of dandruff—that awful scurf.
There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast.
A little Danderine tonight—now—anytime—will surely save your hair.
Get a 25 cent bottle of Knott's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.
