of Attorney-General Blair on the Opposition's Want of Confidence Motion.

We gave last week a summary of the speeches in the Assembly at Fredericton on Mr. Park's Want of Confidence resolution with the Attorney-General's opening remarks. His speech was such a complete vindication of the Government, however, that we make room for a synchtic report of it this week. The Attorney General said he did not intend to ask the house to remain very long in session, but he would make a few remarks upon the amendnent. In the speeches delivered the ed his remarks he would deal with
