Jack's $67.50 per monogrammed customers aren't in daily use. Johnson keeps them stored away under lock and key and they are brought out on special occasions only.

On the second floor are to other dining and eating rooms and on the third are a private dining room and living rooms for Johnson when he doesn't come to go home, a few black's distant.

To watch Johnson eat is enough to drive a dyspeptic to suicide. For his ordinary dinner he has a meal something like this: Two or three fried chickens, salad, a couple of ears of corn, a few sweet potatoes fritters, a big dish of French peas, more than a loaf of hot bread, and desert, usually ice cream and cake. Johnson invariably weighs in with an apology regarding his appetite.

"It ain't what it used to be," he says. "I remember in the lean days when I could eat twice as much as I do now, but I didn't have it to eat then."

More Facts About McClary's
"Sunshine" Furnace
—The Understudy of the Sun—

There's no dust nuisance about the "Sunshine"—when you rock down the ashes the dust is drawn up dust-flue then directly across to smoke-pipe where it belongs. Look at the illustration and remember to open both "Dust" and "Direct Draft" dampers—these simple devices make the "Sunshine" the cleanest furnace for the home.

See the famous "cup joints" here—the frame of the ash pit—the two sections of the fire-pot and the dome all jointed together by our "cup joint."

There's a layer of asbestos cement in each joint—this unites all sections in a permanent way, yet leaves room for the expansion and contraction of the metal.

No wonder that this "Understudy of the Sun" is called the "Sunshine" furnace—Since it diffuses pure warm June air throughout the house.

You don't have to wear overalls when attending to the "Sunshine" furnace—it has a big roomy ash-pan. All the ashes are guided directly into the pan by ashchutes. A minute or two performs the job. Yes, the "Sunshine" is the clean furnace.

The "Sunshine" Furnace burns either wood or coal. Coke, too, if you prefer it. The "Sunshine" distributes a greater percentage of heat units—the Baffle plates (a new McClary device) decidedly increase the heating efficiency of the furnace.

But—see the McClary agent of your locality. Ask him to show you all the joints features and exclusive devices which make the "Sunshine" Furnace worthy of the name—The Understudy of the Sun.

If you do not know the McClary Agent, write us at our nearest address and we'll forward you a letter of introduction by return.
