FACES HEAVY PENALTY.

Charles Dickens, aged 34, was given in charge to Deputy Chief Jenkins Saturday morning by Lt. J. A. Legere. He is charged with "supplying liquor to a soldier on duty in the Armory, to wit, a square face of gin." The offence is said to have taken place about 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The prisoner hails from Chatham and was honorably discharged from the service a few weeks ago, as his wife objected to his going to war. The penalty is a very heavy one, $5,000 or imprisonment for not less than five years, or both penalties may be enforced.

HAMPTON CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL CLOSING

Hampton, Dec. 17.—Although the Hampton Consolidated School will not close for the Christmas and New Year vacation until tomorrow the public closing exercises were brought off this afternoon in the exhibition hall, which was appropriately decorated for the occasion, as were the blackboards in the several departments. A large number of the officials, clergy, parents and friends of the pupils were present, and greatly enjoyed the laudatory programme provided. This after the marching and singing of the children opened with a chorus "O, King of Kings," and was followed by the presentation of High School entrance certificates by Mr. S. H. Fiewelling to the pupils who had passed the necessary examinations, namely: Helen Hill, Annie Gallagher, Joseph Lawrence, Lois Evans, William Sharp, Gordon Mundie, Kelly Kennedy, Frank Seely, and Roy Chipman. A carol "Christmas Bells" was sung by High School pupils, and a recitation "Why Santa Claus is Troubled," by Lorimer Kierstead of Grade IV, and a pretty drill "Snow Flakes and Fairies," by children of the first four grades, followed.
The Rev. J. C. Mortimer presented highest standing certificates to the following pupils in the respective grades:
Grade XI.—1, Edward Harrington; 2, Ruth Humphrey and Edith Baxter, (tie). Grade X.—1, Olive Seely; 2, Grace Frazer and Pearl Frazer, (tie). Grade IX.—1, Annie Gallagher; 2,

GENERAL RUZSKY A DANDY AND A BRAVE MAN

General Ruzsky, who commanded the Russian army that overran Galicia, and became in consequence, the hero of the day in Russia, was conspicuous, as a young lieutenant, for the daintiness and elegance of his dress, says Youth's Companion. There is a story about him that shows that all famous soldiers do not have the same objection to foppishness in an officer ascribed to Lord Kitchener.
In the Russo-Turkish War of 1877, Ruzsky, then a young lieutenant, served as aide-de-camp on the staff of one of the Russian generals. In the heat of the Battle of Plevna he was ordered to take a despatch to the commander-in-chief, the famous Skobelief. He found Skobelief standing in a rather exposed position, surrounded by his staff. As young Ruzsky delivered his dispatch, a shell from a Turkish battery struck the ground near by, and, exploding, flung a shower of dust and dirt over the party. Most of the officers involuntarily ducked their heads; but young Ruzsky stood firm and erect. Then, as calmly as if he were in a ballroom, he drew from his pocket a spotless linen handkerchief and fanned the dust from his immaculate uniform.
A smile of derision passed across the face of the staff officers; but Skobelief looked at the young lieutenant with sudden interest, and asked his name. "You will remain with me as a member of my staff," he said to the astonished young officer. "I'm in need of such men as you."
"When a soldier has such a keen regard before his fellow men that no danger can make him unconcerned

GENERAL RUZSKY A DANDY AND A BRAVE MAN

Even though he be a coward at heart, he will always play the part of a brave man in his desire to have men consider him possessed of superior qualities.
"In Ruzsky I am doubly fortunate," concluded the veteran general. "for Ruzsky is both a dandy and a brave man."
