

ACADIA HAS REGISTRATION OF ABOUT EIGHT HUNDRED

The Largest Enrollment in the History of the Institution—New Brunswick Sent a Large Number This Year—Many Returned Soldiers Among the Student Body.

Wolfville, N. S., Oct. 4.—Acadia University opened on Wednesday, Oct. 1st, with the largest registration in its history. While the registration is not yet completed it will total over 800. The largest previous registration was 246. Among the students are a large number of returned men and others from the army, over 90 in all. Taken in connection with the returned men from the academy, there will be 100 discharged soldiers at Acadia. All the university buildings are crowded, about 500 being in residence. During the summer an addition to the college women's residence was made and also an addition to Rhodes Hall, which gives greater accommodation.

At Acadia Seminary there has been 210 registrations including 100 in the residence and its annexes, 100 non-resident students, and 10 students from the public schools who are taking courses.

At the Acadia Collegiate and Business Academy there are nearly 200 students, including resident and day pupils. To accommodate the extra students Kent Lodge was purchased as an additional academy residence. This is of special interest as this building was for a time the residence of Edward, Duke of Kent, father of Queen Victoria.

One of the features of the opening this year was a fall camp, conducted by the Y. M. C. A. The students of the university, especially the new ones, were invited as guests of the Y. M. C. A. to Evangeline Beach, on Friday, Sept. 26, and remained there until the morning of Oct. 2nd. On Wednesday, Oct. 1st, all the students were invited down to the beach, where the registration took place under the various professors.

Two new appointments have been made to the university staff, marking an advance in educational work in the Maritime provinces. Miss Anna B. Macintosh has been appointed dean of women and instructor in social service. Miss Macintosh graduated from MacMaster University, took post-graduate work at Yale in social service, was superintendent of the Lowell House in New Haven, and was afterwards in social service and work in New York. Miss Macintosh will reside in the college women's residence, having an oversight over all young women in residence.

Major C. E. A. DeWitt, formerly A. D. M. S., at Altonshot Camp, and attached to the sanatorium at Kentville, has been appointed college physician and sanitary officer. He has retired from the general practice, giving his whole time to Acadia students.

THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE
Guaranteed to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.
Weak thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; that is, conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and nervousness are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear. Eminent specialists state that the best nerve food is an organic phosphate known as Bitro-phosphate. A five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug, Bitro-phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer.

This trouble lasted about a year before I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after using three cakes of Soap and two boxes of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) W. WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash poisons and toxins from system before putting food into stomach.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do. For every ounce of food taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste matter must be carried out of the body. If this waste is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment. A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and refreshing the alimentary canal before eating more food. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside bathing.

Imperial Theatre's Big Month Begins

Anita Stewart in "Mary Regan" Splendid Feature—New Stage Setting is Artistic.

Anita Stewart, in her latest First National Feature, "Mary Regan," the screen version of LaLooy Scott's great novel, which is the opening attraction at the Imperial in connection with the sixth anniversary of the house, has the difficult role of a girl loved by two men, yet in her heart convinced that she should not marry at all. She takes this stand because she is the daughter of a notorious criminal who is serving a long sentence for robbery. At last she decides her duty is to marry the younger of the men, the son of a capitalist whom she desires to save from the ruin which is pursuing him in the form of a fast life with a background of Broadway's white nights.

How she finds she has made a mistake after doing this, how she battles a crowd of evil blackmailers who are seeking the fortune of her young husband, and how she at last is saved by her good angel, a detective, is thrilling to all.

The whole seven-reel production is elaborate in the extreme and punctuated with wonderful climaxes and the tensest of scenes. Aside from the Anita Stewart picture the Imperial proved very interesting yesterday, inasmuch as the opening of its anniversary programmes—the theatre's sixth complete year—was marked with a perfectly charming new stage setting. Already the house is the scene of hundreds of eyes with Japanese garden, Italian, English gateway, Grecian temple and other permanent decorations and this new one, a Moorish Temple, not only adds to the variety but strikes a distinctly new note. The quaint Algerian abode, odd-shaped groves and towering mosque with minaret and a wealth of silver rugs thrown artistically about—over the overhead drapery being a series of these rich carpets—drew from onlookers generous applause as the curtain rolled up on each programme.

RECENT ARRIVAL UNDER SUSPICION

Man Resembling John Delaney, Wanted in Halifax for Murder of His Wife, Said to be in St. John.

Suspicion, which is one of the main characteristics of a certain section of the city, is centered around a recent arrival here, for the new comer has a marked resemblance to John Delaney, wanted in Halifax for the murder of his wife, Maude, on the night of August 15, last. The newcomer, who according to the vagrancy law, "has no visible means of support," is credited by his neighbors to be another recruit to the boot-legging game. He is about 28 years old, has a long nose, wide mouth, stands five feet, five inches high, is of slim build and generally corresponds to the published photos of John Delaney which appeared following the arrest of the latter.

The meeting was presided over by Miss Joan Somerville, President of the Girls' Cabinet, and opened with prayer by Miss Winifred Thomas. After the singing of a hymn, Miss Mae Allison, who is the Maritime Girls' Work Secretary, and who is in charge of the Canadian Girls in Training Work, gave a very beautiful talk on unity in effort and the giving up of lives to service as the men gave their lives on the battlefields. She showed that it was sometimes harder to live for Canada than to die, and that the dedication of lives to service for others was owed to soldiers who had given their all.

Miss Harcourt, who is the Secretary of the National Board of Health Education, gave a plain talk on matters of importance to the well-being of girls. She deplored the wearing of pointed shoes and high heels, low necks and tight skirts, saying that the mind as well as the body is bound by such customs and that we are behind the Chinese in civilization, for they are giving up absurd styles, unnecessary and become automatic in a short time. She urged the drinking of plenty of water and gave much excellent advice.

Miss Winifred Thomas spoke briefly on the C. G. I. T. Programme and hoped that the winter work in St. John would be successful. She expressed the hope that it had been difficult to get a site for a summer camp, but felt

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost. Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

REMARKABLE PICTURE

Soup Issued Once a Day—Sale Shootings Going—Are Being Shot Are Val

A remarkable picture of "Petrogan" under the "Error" is given in recent issues of the London Times by a correspondent, a Russian officer who was compelled to serve with the Bolsheviks and who escaped as recently as July 10. The Petrogan of today "starved, half-dead, overworked, thoroughly worn." There is no ready common food ration for a day and food is only given to those who work under the control and for the benefit of the very careful organization in Petrogan in July consisted of the following: One plate of soup, consisting of hot water with a few bits of meat, one eighth of a pound of bread. The cost of this meal, which has at least a day, is Rs. 6. The food of the station in the Communist district is to be found all over the city or it can be taken home. It is very seldom, however, that anybody takes food home because of the scarcity of fuel in Petrogan that would be almost impossible to rewarmed the food, and half the satisfaction is in the warmth obtained from the soup. It is for this reason that of puts up with the bulk of the dining room and the disgusting behaviour of the Bolsheviks. The Bolsheviks of course but better than cold soup.

In the mornings a drink of soup is made by stewing wild berries, peas, coffee, cocoa, and even tea. These foods were long ago consumed by those who are very careful organization to have a very morsel of bread, so as to eat it in the morning as a breakfast, but the majority just eat the one morsel of bread, quite unknown and sugar has also been disappeared.

Wholesale shootings continue. Petrogan for which people are being shot are various—from being possessed of various written against the Bolsheviks up to being suspected of Communist revolutionary purposes. Sometimes when the army has suffered at the front wholesale shootings take place, for instance, in Gatchina, where some 2000 June whole groups of people were executed on the order of a German barrister, Lichterman.

As it is difficult to say whether preference is given to the workers opposed to Bolshevikism, or to those refusing to give up their revolutionary purposes, the Bolsheviks, officers believed to have been sent to the White Guards, or to shape a sailor who is difficult to capture. The daily number of the Bolsheviks is gradually becoming destroyed, and repairs are made; pieces of stolen clothes fall off the roofs, the railways and drain pipes get cracked and burst, the pavements fail to mend, and thanks only to the rain, wind, and some appearance of cleanliness seems to be kept up. Bodies of animals, horses, cats, and dogs, remain for weeks lying in the streets. Some dead horses serve as an attention to people who creep furtively to them and cut off a chunk of the case to be used for food, or for sale. The general aspect of the town is one to think that some terrible calamity has happened to it, so solemn a gloom is the effect produced by the ruined appearance, the reigning silence, interrupted only by sporadic shots or by the sounds of music coming from the dancing halls of the Communists.

Trypsin, smallpox meningitis, Spanish influenza, and other diseases spreading so violently that the hospitals are unable to find places for those sick with infectious diseases. Have no time to bury the dead, so frequently the bodies are lying heaped up in the chapels of the hospitals awaiting their turn to be taken away to the cemetery in a common cart (as logs of wood are transported) and when brought to the cemetery they are just thrown into one common trench and buried without prayers read over them.

The absence of medical assistance in the recent past has caused many deaths and medicinal and surgical appliances for which substitutes are used made herbs and articles to hand.

In a remarkable summary of the true position of the workman under the Bolshevik regime, the writer says: (1) He must work whether he wants to or not. (2) He may not change his work.
