Yesterday a form of a special act was framed which is to be sent to the Legisature, giving the City Court the power to extend its cases from term to term, as is the custom in the Supreme Court. The matter is to be taken in hand by a Brooklyn legislator, and the act may be made a ...w at once. This will obviate difficulty should the trial extend into February.

The monthly sitting of the Equity Court was held last week, Judge Weldon pre-

Judgment was given in favor of the defendant in the case of McDade vs Peters. It was a suit brought to have an assignment of a lease from the plaintiff to the defendant, which was in terms an absolute conveyance, declared to be a mortgage, and that the defendant might be allowed to redeem it. The defendant had lent the plaintiff money and taken a mortgage on a leasehold property which he held in St. John. Afterwards the plaintiff, being in want of more money to pay his ground rent, and for other pur-poses, applied to the defendant for a further advance, and on this occasion the assignment of the lease in question was made, which the defendant alleged was only intended to be a mortgage. He also alleged that the refendant had char
