The thunder shower yesterday went in streaks and while there was a perfect deluge in some sections of the county, other places got little if any rain. George Wanless came down from Sarnia on the Lake Erie R. R. He says that they had a terrific storm between Sombra and Dresden. The fields were flooded with water this morning. Ald. Edmondson was out at Cedar Springs yesterday. He says that it didn't rain there at all. Bruce McKinley, who lives a couple of miles up the river, said that scarcely any rain fell in the vicinity of his home, but they could see the heavy shower that Chatham got between five and six o'clock. Spartanburg, S.C., June 8 .- A torrential rainstorm visited this region on Saturday, All the bridges and trestles on the main line of the Southern Railway were washed away. The greatest destruction of life and property occurred at the Pacolet and Clifton and Glendale coc-

of life and property occurred at the Pacolet and Clifton and Glendale cocton vills. Wires are down and reposts conhicting, but it seems certain that twenty-five or thirty people were drowned, mostly mill operatives. The ill-fated Pacolet cotton mills were the heaviest property losers, President Montgomery estimating the damage to the plan at $1,250,000. About 1,200 operatives in the mills are thrown out of work, and within a few days will be in need of food.

At 6 o'clock on Saturday it was noticed that the water was rising rapidly in the Pacolet River, but no special importance was attached to it by the mill operatives, who began to form in line to enter the mills. At mills Nos. I and 2 the water soon became dangerous, the boiler rooms were submerged and the workmen were ordered back. A little later the fury of the raging river struck mill No. I, sweeping the plant entirely away. The strong current then swept against No. 2, demolishing that mill and leaving only the cloth room standing. The big bridge over the Pacolet' River, a steel structure was then carried away. The wareroom, with 3,500 bales of cotton bridge over the Pacolet River, a steel structure was then carried away. The wareroom, with 3,500 bales of cotton and 4,000 bales of cloth, followed, all the cotton being carried down stream. At mill No. 3 one-half the picker room and five stories on the left side of the long building were washed away. The main building, supported by a thick brick wall, is still standing, but is very shaky.

At Glendale four warehouses filled with cotton and cotton products were swept away along with the dam across Lawson's Fork, and the trestle of the city electric railway. The mill was not materially damaged. At Converse the main building of the Clifton Factory collapsed. The Converse mill is utterly demolished. Clifton mill, No. 3, also lost its boiler room, machine shop, engine room and smokestack. The also lost its boiler room, machine shop, engine room and smokestack. The Whitney mills on Lawson's Fork were damaged and some house and a steel bridge at that point swept away. At Tucapeau mills the water rose to the second floor of the building and considerably damaged the machinery.

REJOICE AT THE REPORT. Rev. Dr. B. D. Thomas on the Gamey Case.

Toronto, June 8. - Before his sermon at the Jarvis Street Baptist Church last evening Rev. Dr. B. D. Thomas, referring to the report of the Judges in the Gamey investigation, said:—
"I feel it incumbent upon me this

"I feel it incumbent upon me this evening to express my personal gratitude if not indeed the gratitude of this congregation that the charges made against a member of the Government of this Province implicating the Government itself have not been sustained. We were humiliated at the thought that the gentlemen entrusted with such wide-reaching responsibilities and honored with such high positions as representatives of the people, should have been so utterly steeped in injustify as those charges averred. We believe that the investigation was thorough and impartial, and that the conclusions reached by the eminent gentlemen who composed the commission were such as the evidence not mirely justified but demanded. We are sincerely glad for the honor of our fair Province that such a result was possible."
