A COUNTRY HOME FOR ME.
 I do not ask that city splires May round my mansion rise;
 But that my home may be where trees Are pointing to the skies:
 Where flows the silvery mountain rill With a sweet and merry sound, And the echo of the hunter's gun Does through the woods resound.
 I cannot love the city's pomp, Its fashion and its pride; I'd rather dwell in a humble cot Upon the mountain's side: Where sweetly blooms the Acacia tree,
 The Tulip and the Rose;
 And where, beside the rivulet,
 The early Violet grows.
 I would not give my quiet home,
 Its happiness and health,
 For all the city's palaces, Its pleasure and its wealth.
 I love to breathe the mountain air,
 And roam where all is free; Let others choose a city life—But a country home for me!

Another Journey to England.—We learn from the Globe, that Dr. Ryerson has started on another trip to England, "on the business of his office." Does this mean that our beautiful Prussian system of education cannot be carried out, until further information is obtained?—Spectator.

Fatal Calamity.—On Saturday, the 28th September, a colored man, named Robert James while engaged in digging a well a few miles from town, on the Hamilton road, the side caved in, burying the unfortunate individual beneath the mass of earth. At the time of the occurrence, the man was about twenty feet below the level. Means were at once taken to remove the earth, but three hours elapsed before they came upon the body. When taken out, it was found to be quite warm, but life was extinct.—London Times.

Caution.—The wife of Mr. Lamb, of Beverly, was last night severely burnt, by a lighted candle falling on a bed on which she and two children were asleep.
 The children were saved, but the woman is very dangerously injured.—Galt Reporter, Oct. 4th.

Ogdensburg Railroad Completed.— Opening of the Road.—Last Thursday was a great day with our neighbors over the river—an epoch in the history of Northern New York truly. On the evening previous the last rail of the great line of communication between Lake Champlain and Ogdensburg, was nailed down, and word was sent by telegraph to Prescott, that a train from Rouse's Point would arrive at Ogdensburg about noon of the next day. This information being rapidly circulated, a very large assemblage from both sides of the river were in attendance to greet the first visit of the iron horse from the shores of Old Champlain. A little before noon the peculiar "snort" of self-moving vehicles was heard in the distance, just as it came in sight of the beautiful waters of our noble St. Lawrence, and then the booming of cannon, and the huzzing of the people, and the running and yelling of boys and girls, old men and young women, told truly that the great and happy moment had arrived, so long and so anxiously looked for by an impatient population. The beautiful locomotive, the "Deer," with three splendid passenger cars, elegantly finished, came rumbling on, and took quarters in the immense new freight-house which is in course of erection. This building is upwards of 300 feet long, and more than 100 in width. Another of the same description, but much longer, is also being built. A band of music was in attendance and helped to increase the joy of the occasion. At three o'clock two trains heavily laden with "sovereigns" and "subjects," proceeded by the kindness of the managers, as far as Columbia, a distance of 18 miles, and returned about six o'clock, making the run each way with the greatest ease in one hour. This coming of this great and important thoroughfare which now connects the waters of St. Lawrence and Champlain, and places the Johnstown District, St. Lawrence County, within a few hours' travel of the best market in the United States. All parties returned home much gratified with the manner in which the day had been spent. In the evening, a supper, in honor of the occasion, was served up at the St. Lawrence Hotel, to a large company. Thus at length has the scene opened—the great movement commenced, which will at once raise our neighboring town into the ample dimensions and consequence of a full grown city—and we fondly trust will exert a ben-efiticial influence on the port side of the river. Of this we have little doubt. The spirited Bostonians will not let business flag; they have erected a monument to their own liberality and enterprise, in the completion of this work, imperishable as that which commemorates the first great battle of the Republic, directly in view of their own doors; and they will press on,

The Post Office will not be transferred to the Colonial authorities till January.— No communication on the subject has been yet received from the Home Government; but though the necessary documents should arrive by the mail due, the new arrangements required to be made will occupy the officers, we understand, full three months.—Pilot.

A Curse Removed.—An order has been issued by the Supreme Government of India, discontinuing in the army the morning drum of arrack. That "morning drum" has ruined many a soldier. The discontinuance of the issue is an act of tardy justice.

Milking Cows—A New Method.—The new method of milking which our readers may already have seen something of in the papers, is no joke, but a practical reality. An informant of ours witnessed the operation in the farm yard of Joseph Fellows, Esq., of Geneva, but a few days since. India rubber bags were drawn over the cow's teats, which set close enough to exclude air, in the lower end of which metallic tubes were inserted, closed by taps. When the four were adjusted, the taps were withdrawn, and the milk streamed from each teat into the pail exhausting the whole quantity in the cow's bag, in half the time that it would take to milk in the ordinary way. It is a useful invention, against which, no valid objection can exist, and will be likely to come into general use. The prime cost of a set—four milkers, we shall have to call them, cannot exceed fifty cents.—Rochester American.

 ENGLAND.

It is stated, on the authority of a correspondent of the London Herald, under date of Paris, Thursday evening, that arrangements are on foot between Spain on the one side, and England, France, and Holland on the other, by which Spain, on condition of having Cuba protected by the joint action of those powers, engages to pay the debt due by her to England, and to French and Dutch creditors.

The Liverpool Journal and Chronicle, which, being edited by Catholics, are supposed to represent the popular feeling among that body, are loud in their disapproval of the course adopted by a section of the Irish bishops, at the command, it is said, of the Pope. The Chronicle says:—"This is a mournful announcement, over which the ministers, so that all would be cared for, is to continue. It seems, under ecclesiastical sanction, with all its horrid brood of evils, bad passions, and personal and sectarian antipathies. The course of the past is doomed to hang over the heads of the nation, admirably adapted to the requirements of the country, is rudely pushed aside by the prejudices of the Irish bishops."

A frightful railroad accident occurred on the Eastern line on the 17th ult., by which nine lives were lost.
 The Gorham dispute has now commenced to agitate the public mind.

A destructive fire occurred at London, on Thursday, in the vicinity of the Corn Exchange.
 The building was materially injured, and a large amount of property was destroyed.

The reports from the manufacturing districts continue favorable. The woolen trade has continued to break everywhere, and for some time past the demand has materially increased. In the cotton district great activity prevails, and large orders are being executed both for Home and Foreign account.

THE REV. DR. McNEIL ON THE GORHAM CASE.
 The Rev. Dr. McNeil, in reply to a clergyman who had written to him, asking if it could be possible that the author of publications which described the baptism of infants as a heathen rite, and that the baptism of infants was a heathen rite, says:—"I detest the latitudinarianism which makes light of the Word of God, and of course that which would deal evenhandedly with Popery, and Socinianism, and Christianity.
 Against such a man I have written and spoken, and have sought to write and speak. I equally detest the narrow-minded bigotry which would exalt any rite, or canon, or catechism, or prayer, or man's composition, into the place of the Word of God.
 Concerning the baptism of infants at all—I do not know any one word of God. It is never once mentioned in Holy Scripture. The antiquity of the practice is undoubted as a matter of fact, and every cordially agree with those who think it "not altogether agreeable with the institution of Christ."
 But that men have written about its efficacy, the quado and the quomodo, is no more and no better than inference—inference honestly drawn, as a grant, but certainly fallible, and by some erroneously, since all do not infer alike. He who elevates any such inference into the place and authority of the Word of God, and thereupon pronounces an opposing inference to be heresy, according to the tenets of the country. Is the proper question? Is the bowing down before images the question? Is any thing in which God has plainly spoken the question? I mean, after the first and second admonition, reject the heretic. But is the efficacy of baptism to infants the question? or any thing else on which God has not spoken?
 Their inferences may vary, and he who, on either side, would communicate, is himself the schis-matic."

 Of the whole number of 85 provincial councils, 43 passed resolutions in favor of the revocation of the constitution, with the view, as is understood, of consulting the powers of the President. Of the 36 others, 12 only passed resolutions decidedly adverse to the proposed change. The government councils have admitted the principle of necessity of revision, it is proper to undertake such a revision, according to what may be deemed most advisable for the interests of the country. The doctrine, however, meets with no favor from the

FATAL ACCIDENT TO LIEUT. GALE, THE HERO-NAUT.—The Bordeaux journals announce the death of Lieut. Gale, the Hero-naut. On Sunday he made an ascent with the "Royal Cremorne" balloon, on the back of a pony, from the Hippodrome at Bordeaux. It was the first time that Mr. Gale had ever made such an ascent, and his pony had only a few days before been broken in. At first the little animal displayed great repugnance at being lifted from his feet, but he gradually got accustomed to it, and on Sunday allowed himself to be carried off by the balloon with the greatest composure. As there was some delay in filling the balloon with gas, the pony, gaily saddled and bridled, was patiently waited round the Hippodrome, and was regarded with extraordinary curiosity by the specta-tle. An immense multitude assembled to see the ascent.
 The local journals say that the town was completely deserted, and that the adjacent villages sent their contingents. When Mr. Gale was seen to ascend rapidly into the air, seated on his pony, with the bride in one hand and saluting the public with the other, there was a sort of shudder of fear in the great gathering. The pony was perfectly calm, with his legs hanging and his neck bent; but he made no movements. The descent of Mr. Gale, which took place at a short distance from Bordeaux, proved fatal to him. When the gas was released from the string, the pony, who held the ropes of the balloon, misunderstanding the directions given by the Hero-naut, let go, and the balloon having sufficient gas in it to give an ascensional force, after losing the weight of the horse, rose suddenly, and the anchor, which held by a tree, being loosened by the sudden motion, the shock upset the car. Mr. Gale, however, clung to the ropes, and was fortunately able to pull the string of the valve, to cause a further escape of the gas. The ascent of the balloon was then checked, and it was thought in consequence at Bordeaux, that he had succeeded in climbing up into the car. This, however, was not the case, as the next day the balloon was discovered lying on the ground, some miles from the spot where the pony was liberated, and on further search being made, the dead body of Lieut. Gale was found in a wood, with the limbs all broken. He has left a wife and eight children.

THE DANISH AND SCHLESWIG WAR.
 Advice from Hamburg state that the 12th the Holstein army made a forward movement, with the intention of attacking the fortified bridge across the Schlie at Wessunde. The Danes were driven from their unfortified positions at Koshendorf and other points, into the entrenchments, where they cannonaded the Holsteiners for about an hour, but without effect, when the firing ceased and the Holsteiners began to retire.
 The Danes then replaced the bridge, which they had previously removed and crossed over, with the intention of harassing the retreat of the Holstein-ers, but found them so strong as to render it unadvisable to press them closely.

The Holsteiners lost about one hundred and thirty, and the Danes but about one hundred and seventy men.
 In Gen. Willisen's proclamation he says:—
 "We have offered him battle in the open field, and the most favorable circumstances for him.
 We have destroyed all his field works in the east, by Rehendorf, Hohn and Hornfeldt, and his camp at Koshendorf, and thus proved that he is not so fully master of Schleswig as he gives himself out to be."

HESSIE CASSEL.
 The Germans were opposed, last week, with the sudden and precipitate flight of the Prince of Hesse Cassel. Disputes having occurred between the Prince and the Chamber, as to his right to impose taxes without the consent of the latter, and the people having obtained the sanction of the legal tribunals to their resistance to the illegal taxes imposed by the government, the Prince found the place too hot to hold him, and fled.

The Hessians appear to be getting on very well without the Elector and his infatuated ministers, and it is said to be probable that other States will shortly follow their example.

AUSTRIA AND PRUSSIA.
 These countries are viewing the outbreak in Hesse Cassel with no little anxiety. It is said that Austria will take sides with the Elector.

CONYOT OF OXFORD HIGHLAND GAMES.— The annual gathering of this Society was held at Woodstock on Friday, the 27th ult., but the weather was so unpropitious that hundreds who expected to witness the doings of the "Sons of the Gael," were sadly disappointed. When day dawned, a dense damp fog hovered over the hills, but still hopes were entertained that with the rising sun, the atmosphere would become clear; consequently the preparations for the games went on as at an early hour the bystanders of Zorra, accompanied by their loving wives and blooming daughters, began to pour into town both thick and fast. Several members of the Hamilton Society had arrived during the night, and Toronto was also fairly represented. All was now bustle and activity through the town, and the wild warlike sound of the bagpipes broke in upon the stillness of the morning
