

Bear Ye One Another's Burdens

This is a Divine Command, and at no time in the world's history has it been more necessary of practice than at present

Bearing One Another's Burdens

Has it occurred to us how truly and bravely the boys "out there" are bearing our burdens---bearing the heaviest and most trying burdens it is possible for humanity to bear, and sacrificing what we at home cannot realize? And our burdens, light though they are, are not to be lightly thought of.

We Have a Responsibility Laid on Us

The duty of the hour to us who are at home, is to see that the loved ones---the dependents of OUR BOYS, who are fighting for us and our homes---do not want for anything. Through the Patriotic Fund, as in no other way, we are privileged to extend a helping hand. Is there one amongst us who will refuse? Can we, honestly, make excuses? The crisis we are all anxious about, the end of a war which we all abhor, can only come when OUR BOYS and the Allies are victorious.

Encourage Them In Their Efforts

Let the word go to them, through their loved ones at home, that we, citizens of Brantford, are not lacking in practical demonstration of our thanks that they are "carrying on." Let us all, without question, get behind this greatest movement for assistance to Soldiers' dependents, and on the days of the campaign let us roll up, not only the $150,000 asked for, but a bumper contribution, so that not only "our boys," but that the world may know that Brantford will "Go On" and not "Go Under." Let us, now, and till the close of the war, at least, "Bear each other's burdens" insofar as it is possible, even to sacrifice.
