16. SKETCHES AND RECITALS J. W. BENGOUGH

The bringing together of so many of the leading men of the county and uniting them in the furtherance of the educational interests of the village is in itself an important matter, and their brief addresses will be heard with pleasure.

The full Brockville Orchestra (seven players) will prove a popular feature of the programme, and those who go early will have the pleasure of hearing their opening numbers.

The A.H.S. students are already proficient in their various drills and exercises, and their spectacular performances and unison songs will be seen and heard with pleasure.

The fact that nine honor medals and forty-two diplomas are to be presented indicates very clearly the meritorious character of the work of the past year.

The valedictory is in competent hands and will be ably presented.

Finally, J. W. Bengough, the eminent cartoonist and entertainer, will give a number of his delightful recitals and chalk talks. Mr. Bengough excels in mimicry, and in this, as well as in his cartoons and sketches, he will certainly highly please the audience.

Sup't Curle of the B. W. & N. W. has arranged for special trains from both ends of the line at very low rates (see bills). Tickets bought for the afternoon trains will be good to return on the special.

The general admission ticket will be 35c. Seats may be reserved without extra charge. Holders of tickets are respectfully requested to be present on time, as, owing to the nature of the programme, it is necessary to start promptly at 8. The plan of hall will be open on Friday at Lamb's drug store, where tickets may be obtained.

Inward and Outward

The inward effects of humors are worse than the outward. They weaken all the organs, inflame the mucous membrane, cause catarrhal troubles, and endanger the whole system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla eradicates all humors and cures all their effects.

It's the great alterative and tonic medicine whose merit has been established everywhere.

Accept no substitute.

"The People's Column" for small ads affords the public a cheap and effective means of buying, selling, renting or changing. If you have any unsatisfied want or if you want to satisfy the want of some want, make the fact known through this column. It will do you good.

HOW GOOD FRIENDS PART

A pleasant surprise was accorded Mr and Mrs H. D. Wing by a gathering of friends and neighbors at the home of Mr and Mrs Alex. Taylor on Thursday last, where the genial company were invited for a Thanksgiving dinner. Mr Wing, as will be remembered, having sold his farm on Hard Island, will, accompanied by his wife, soon leave to spend a part of the winter at least at Rhode Island and Boston, Mass.

After partaking of the whole-hearted hospitality of their host and hostess, which was greatly enjoyed by all, the object of the occasion was proceeded with and the following address read:—
To Mr and Mrs H. D. Wing.

Dear Friends,—We, a few of your friends and neighbors, have assembled on the eve of your departure for the purpose of enjoying once more, what we have so often enjoyed before, a few pleasant hours with you in our midst. Though our hearts are glad that you are thus enabled to retire from the more active concerns of life and enjoy a well earned rest, we sincerely regret that in doing so you are to be separated from us, at least for a season. This thought causes us to look back and recall our many pleasant associations of the past, not only of a social character, but also as we, with united effort, have wrought to accomplish some good purpose, where we find your presence was always reliable, your assigned portion cheerfully forthcoming, and, eventually, your part well done, and the silent influence of your lives has largely been in harmony with the spirit of "Peace on earth and good will to all men." Nor yet only in social circles or the busy affairs of life will we miss you, as we well remember how in the sick room the skilled care and tender touch of the feminine hand has often passed as a benediction of grace to a suffering one.

And last, but probably not least, you will be missed by the homeless wanderer who, we believe, was never turned unaided from your door, and who, ere he passeth that way again, in his heart may bless you and with the old poet sigh and say, "behold, the old order changeth."

We ask you to accept this present of a rattan rocker, as a slight token of our love and esteem for you, and though not speaking disparagingly of the work of the chair-maker, but from the fact that you usually tip the scales at over 200 lbs each, would recommend that you do not both occupy it very long at the same time.

Signed in behalf of the neighbors.

Mr Wing immediately responded to the address and with few but well chosen words thanked his friends and neighbors for their kindness, which was so much appreciated, and assured them that they had fully decided that after their journey their home would ultimately be in close proximity to them, for they had no expectation of finding better neighbors than they were leaving. The company dispersed bearing with them a feeling of thankfulness to them by whom they had been so hospitably entertained.
