Christmas Cake

Orders should be placed early—Christmas is but a few weeks away, and this season we will double last year's sales. First, because our customers last year were delighted, and found our cake as good, in fact better, than represented. Secondly, because we bought our fruit largely at inside figures before the last tremendous jump in prices, enabling us to sell at last year's price, 25c per lb.

LIFE IN CHICAGO.

Harry Philp Tells What He Saw Of It.

People Robbed In Broad Daylight—Plenty of L-bor Troubles and Bad Pavements.

Harry Philp, cashier on the Lake Erie, and Mrs. Philp returned yesterday at noon from a brief pleasure jaunt to Chicago. Mr. Philp was much taken with the life and bustle of the Windy City and has many a story to tell of his experiences by night and by day and they are by no means the least interesting.

"You hear of Chicago as a bad city in which to walk around with any loose change or gold watches in your pocket," said Mr. Philp. "You never know when you are going to one of the theatres in the heart of Chicago. Just at the entrance a man stepped up to a gentleman in front of us and asked the time. The gentleman pulled out his watch to see the time and it was the last look he had at his $250 gold timepiece. The time-keeper grabbed the glittering chronometer and said: 'That is an incident I saw myself so you can guess I am perfectly willing to live in Chatham. Mayor Harrison in sympathy with the New York reform movement, has signified his desire to start a similar work in Chicago. He offered to visit the down town basement saloons and investigate for himself the bad condition of affairs reported to be found in these drinking holes.'

"The conditions that the Mayor laid out on his willingness to make the trip were that he should travel in a clog, that some newspaper should provide a disguise for him and that a plain-clothes policeman should accompany him. The action of the Mayor looked to me like a political ruse to gain notoriety. The Chicago Tribune sent its reporters along the route the Mayor proposed taking, and on one street they found 23 all-night saloons, in which young boys and women were drinking and smoking cigarettes, in rooms off the bar. In a number of the saloons prize fights were in progress. This will give you some idea of the social conditions of the city. The streets are worse for pavements than Chatham. Some of the streets are positively the worst I have ever seen. State streets, on which the heavy freight house is and over which there is the heaviest of traffic, is paved with cedar blocks. Many of the blocks have gone out of sight, and in their places are pools of water and mud. The street is in an awful state and would disgrace a country village. Cobble stone is used extensively in the paving of Chicago thoroughfares. On Michigan Ave I saw some macadam, similar to that put down in Chatham. They have had the same trouble with this pavement in Chicago, but we have had here. Holes wear in it just as they do here.

"The labor question has caused more trouble in Chicago than in any other city in the States. The work is from three to five years behind and there are about 99 million dollars' worth of buildings to be erected, but the work is held back on account of labor troubles. We saw the men working on one building guarded by police, and when the workmen left at night each was guarded by an officer of the law. The buildings are something wonderful. We went to the top of the Masonic Temple, which is 20 stories high. From the dizzy height of its top the people on the streets look like flies creeping about. The Board of Trade, of course, is visited by everyone who goes to the Windy City. The place is worth visiting, too, I can tell you. The most in the pit are like madmen and you can't hear a word. All the buying and selling is done by sign. I met a young fellow from St. Louis, who had come to Chicago looking for a job as operator on the Board of Trade. After looking down the vast gallery at the chaos in the pit, he turned to me and said: 'I am going back; St. Louis is good enough for me.'

"I enjoyed my trip greatly, but Chatham is a good enough for me, and I am glad to get back to it again."

CHICAGO VICE CRUSADE.

Licenses of Notorious Saloons Revoked by the Mayor.

Chicago, Dec. 7.—Mayor Harrison last night issued an order revoking the licenses of fourteen notorious saloons in the business portion of the city. The places were not closed, but their right to sell intoxicating liquor was taken away. All of them were open last night, but the licenses of several were revoked for forty-two hours. The action of the Mayor was taken in response to a petition of citizens against saloons conducted as resorts for courtesans.

Dizziness and Nausea.

CAUSED BY OVER-STUDY AND CLOSE CONFINEMENT.

How a Popular School Teacher Suffered—And How Acting on a Friend's Advice She Tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and Was Restored to Health and Strength.

"About the most thorough and popular teacher we have ever had here," is the opinion expressed by the people of Canaan, N. S., of their present young lady school teacher, Miss Nellie Outten. Miss Outten is possessed of keen intelligence and engaging manners, and has been peculiarly successful in her chosen profession. At present she looks the picture of health, and one observing her good color and buoyant spirits, would never think of associating her with sickness. It was, however, only last autumn that she was a most hopeless case, and she was unable to do her work on account of her ill-health, and her condition was a source of alarm to her friends.

"Yes," she said to an Acadia reporter who called upon her recently to learn the particulars of her case, "I suppose it is a duty I owe to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, that I should make public the story of my recovery, for me, but perhaps I would not have thought of it if you had not called."

"You see, in addition to my teaching, I had been studying very hard over my 'B' work, and then I was attacked with whooping cough, which did not leave me for a long time, and so I became pretty well run down. I was always considered the embodiment of health at home, but last autumn I was really alarmed over my condition. Sometimes in the schoolroom I would be seized with dizziness, and often I would faint away. I would take vomiting turns also, and had a feeling of nausea. I was suffering from anæmia, and I at once put myself under medical treatment. But although I tried several bottles of prescriptions, my condition seemed to be getting worse all the time. When I went home for my Christmas vacation, I was almost in despair. It was while I was at home, however, that my friends advised me to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Acting upon their advice I took up their use. The first box made its effect felt, but it was some time before the cure was complete. Ever since then my health has been excellent and I have felt my real old time self, and am able to attend to my duties, without the fatigue and languor that made the work irksome. You may depend upon it I will always have a friendly word to say for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

UNGRATEFUL MAN.

"I must get a new tailor," said Goslin.

"Your clothes seem to fit," commented Gurley.

"O, they fit; but the tagaw actually wants to be paid for them."

Woman is often referred to by man as "doubling his joys and halving his sorrows." That may be complimentary but it would seem to be rather hard on the woman. For in plain terms it means that where things are going well with the man, his wife makes them go better. But when things are going ill with him, he expects the wife to share half his burden. And there's more truth than in the saying. Men don't appreciate the fact that the strain of motherhood is a burden bigger than all loads they rest upon their shoulders. They see the wife grow thin, pale, nervous and worn without a thought that she is over-burdened. Among the pleasant letters received by Dr. Pierce are those from husbands who have waked up before it was too late to the crushing burdens laid upon the wife, and in search of help have found Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a restorative which has given back to the mother the health of the maiden and the peace of the wife.

"I have been reading about it to-day and wished I had a bottle."

On New Year's Day Jennie was able to be out on the street, and her friends who remarked how well she was looking, she simply said, "Hood's Sarsaparilla," and every one of them knew it was this great medicine that had given back her health.

There are glimpses of heaven to us in every act, or thought, or word, that raises us above ourselves.—A. P. Stanley.
