We are sorry to learn that Peter DesBrisay, Esq., the deficient public serior Assistant at the General Post Office, Charlottetown, has been dismissed from the office which he has held for the last nine years to the unqualified satisfaction of the public. Some of these men, we rejoice to know, have been returned at the recent elections to represent the interests of the people in the new House of Assembly. We rejoice also to know that there are to be found among our Protestant ministers men who are not ashamed to advocate the principles of a pure and holy religion,—principles which are the basis of civil and religious liberty, the safeguards of a Christian state, and the foundation of national peace and prosperity. May God increase their number, unite their hearts and hands more closely than ever, and give them to see of the fruit of their labors, the bringing of souls to Christ and of glory to God.

The times we live in are fewered.

of souls to Christ and of glory to God.

The times we live in are fraught with danger; the Word of God is excluded from the Normal and Model School of the colony by positive order of the existing Government; and the refusal of its use in the public schools, when asked for by Protestants for the sole use of their own children, has been made the strongest ground of recommendation for seeking the continued support of a Roman Catholic constitu-ency, and for obtaining place and emolument. Vice raises its unblushing head, and strives to drive virtue out of the field; falsehood attempts to brow-beat truth, and by the most unworthy means to obtain the mastery; statements contrary to fact are made with the most bare-faced effrontery; scheming and place-hunting politicians deceive the ignorant and simple-minded; drunkenness stalks abroad at noon day. truth, and by the most unworthy means to obtain the mastery; statements contrary to fact are made with the most bare-faced effrontery; scheming and place-hunting politicians deceive the ignorant and simple-minded; drunkenness stalks abroad at noon day, and deaths from the effects of maddening drink are of frequent occurrence; rum-sellers and poison-venders fill the highest offices of the state; men who sell the poisoned draught are appointed to sit in judgment on those who drink it, and to punish by fine or imprisonment the very persons to whom their own hands have administered it; those whose duty it is to maintain truth, as well as execute justice, are to maintain truth, as well as execute justice, are guilty of circulating reports prejudicial to the character of others, and of making statements contrary to truth,—and "the end justifies the means" is a principle acted on by thousands. No wonder, therefore, that the Island should be in debt, the people impoverished and, in many cases, morally sunk; no wonder that there should be a balance against the colony, and that right minded men should come forth at the last, throw themselves into the gap, and seek by all lawful and honorable means to save the Island from bankruptcy and from the iron rule of unprincipled men; no wonder that the old city council left their books in a very imperfect and unsatisfactory manner, and the corporation several hundred pounds in debt,—and that those who have taken their places seek to rectify their errors and to bring about a betto maintain truth, as well as execute justice, are manner, and the corporation several hands to the index of the places seek to rectify their errors and to bring about a better state of things; no wonder that a hireling press abuses everything that is pure in religion and sound in politics, and seeks in every possible way to shut the mouths of those who are determined to speak the truth at all hazards, and to calmly and steadily resist evil and expose vice wherevor it exists; and no wonder that good men and true have at last buckled on their armor and have come forth in the hour of need on the side of truth against falsehood, and virtue against vice.

In our next issue we shall speak of what is required in order to bring about a better state of things, and what the Island needs in order to ensure its future prosperity and progress.

We are glad to perceive that a gentleman who has obtained an Associate's Degree from the Royal College of Preceptors, London, and who is connected with a highly respectable family in this city, is about coming to the Island, to open a good classical school among us. We shall give him a hearty welscome, and do all in our power to obtain for him that encouragement which we have reason to believe he deserves. Parents and guardians of youth will please hold themselves free from making any new arrangements, until after Mr. Leeming arrives.
