ESCUMINAC

Escuminac, April 30—The cold backward weather has kept all work back. Farmers are waiting for a few warm days so they can begin farming. Every man that has a piece of land big or small, is trying to secure seed wheat so he will be able to have his own flour for the winter. The high price of flour is scaring them into farming.

Lobster Fishing Starting
Some of the lobster fishermen have run their set lines but could not get out again for ice, which has blocked the Miramichi bay and as far as the eye can reach it is very heavy ice.

Mr. T. H. Smith had his lobster boats all launched in the water, but had to haul them up again on account of ice. There has not as yet been any spring herring caught and many anxious eyes are searching for a fry. Mr. Jimmo is busy engaged building a rowboat for the fishing boat "Plum". Mr. Manuel Martin of Bay St. Ann is busy repairing mackerel nets for Mr. Jimmo, Jr.

Mr. Edward Walsh was down repairing a barn for Mr. Gregory McRae.

Miss Stella Schofield of Eel River, was here visiting friends.

Work is again in progress putting the roof on the New R. C. church at Bay St. Ann.

Mrs. Alfred Nash who has been confined to the house with an ulcerated tooth is not improving much.

Mr. James Nowlan of Douglstown, is hired with the Bransfield Bros. for the fishing season.

Mr. Edmund Allen is on a visit to town.

The ladies of the Red Cross society continue their work with unabated interest. The entertainment which they held in the Temperance hall last Thursday evening reflects much credit on the performers. The drama "Ladies' Aid at Mowhawk Crossroads" was the subject of the evening. All parts were well rendered, and the ladies showed their special abilities as entertainers. The concert was a genuine "Old Folks' Entertainment" the costumes bearing out this part very strongly. The musical part consisted of duets and solos by Mrs. J. N. Clark, Miss Harvey and Mrs. Harriman, and several bright choruses by the company. Readings were given by Mrs. Will Edge and Mrs. Ken Grieve.
