DEAR LANDS MAKE FEW SETTLERS. FREE GRANTS MAKE POOR ONES.

To tie Editor of the Guelph Advertiser. To the Editor of the Guelph Advertiser.

Sir.—In the Examiner of Nov. 27th, appears a short stride, headed "Sale of the School-Lands," stating that the lands in the vicinity of Uwerle Sourd, appearing the rethool courses will speedify be thrown into market. This matter is one of the utmost importance to the people of this noble Coursy, in which the large tracts of land allinded tears in a great part situate, and a tew words upon the subject can exact-ely be out of place at such a time, when addressed to the Editor of a paper ery jung an exthusive circulation within its limits.

Reports of Commissioners, Parliamentary committees, the bitter experience of actual settlers, surhous of three years' is idence, and new paper writers, have long combined in a condemnation of the wretched system ad pred for the settlement of Crown Lands in the Frovince, and these are few prepared to deny, that the history of the of the wreteried system adopted for the settlement of Crown Lands in the Province, and there are few prepared to deay, that the history of the system warrants astacks much fiercer than it have sustained. Its evils are acknowledged on rearly every land, and both British and Canadian statesmen write in a disapproval of the plan at present pursued. Long leases have been tried, high prices have hear tried, free grants have been tried; and all have failed in succession. But whilst we Canadians hate thus been tried; and all have failed in succession. But whilst we Canadians hate thus been usking experiment in the matter, a neighboring people have persued the only rational course, (the one which we have be untouched,) and glory now in assing this off tracrowned with most signal success. Whilst we have tried the lease-shok system one day, the high-trice system another, and the free-grant system on still another, the United States government has percevered in the cheap system all the time, and found it remunerative, both directly and interest, to follow it, The sales about to be made afford an excellent opportunity for copying from the American book. The million of acres set apart for school purposes should be devoted to a fourth experiment; and we could easily revert to some one of our cld modes, in future sales, if it should fail.

That the time has come when some radical spars for school purpose as could easily revest to some one of our cld modes, in future sales, if it ahould fail.

That the time has come when some radical change must be nade in the management of the Pulle Lands, admits of little dispute. In the evidence delivered by the Hon, W. H. Merrist, before the Finance committee of last Session, it is stated that thirty millions of acres of our Public Lands were alienated prior to 1844, from which no revenue whatever has been derived by the Province; and that eleven millions of acres are not less purchased from the Ind an tribe; "ract a faithing of the proceeds of which has been set aside to create a capital, to par either the principal or interest of the debt incurred." In the U. States, the average net receipts from Land sales are not less than $3,600,000, and every year increases the sum. Or course, full allowance must be made for the difference in extent of dispersable territory in the United States and Canada, but the contrast is still sufficiently striking to convince every reflecting mind that cheap lands must encourage rapid and profusible settlement; whilst Your committee would further suggest that, as the third compared to the contrast is still sufficiently stricted the contrast in the contrast incompared to the contrast incompared to the contrast incompared in this above. Every me stiller has added one to the number of tar-payers. From such units has been built up one or the most powerful actions in the world, and the blindness of Canadian nulrs has long and the contrast whose inclinations. On the specified time for finishing this contract being expired, and seeing that the contractor had withdrawn his men, the County Surveyer used his best endeavors to produce men to finish the Line of Road, either by contract or otherwise—but the season being so far advanced, no person would undertake it, and hands could not be got to carry it out this Fall.
