The liabilities of Brussels, over its assets is nearly $20,000.

Mr Geo. Krawling sold a monster hog to Mr G. Powell. Blyth last week, which weighed only 440 lbs.

W. Jordon, Holmesville, lost a valuable mare one day last week, by the breaking of a blood-vessel.

Rev G. B. Howie and wife Brussels, are away to Toronto. The rev. gentleman will lecture in Acton before he returns.

Mr Wm Ross, who has been home visiting his parents at Blyth, has left and resumed his studies at Knox College, Toronto.

The smiling countenance of Giff Elliot was seen in Brussels this week. He expects to leave shortly for Montreal where he takes a situation on the legal staff of the C. P. R.

The reeve and treasurer of Blyth have effected the sale of debentures to an insurance company in Berlin at 3 1/2 per cent premium, which is $97.60 on the $3,000. This is considered a very good sale.

Henry G. Taylor, of Manchester, has sold his filly, "Kitty Clyde," to Edward Welsh, of the London road, near Clinton, for $100. She was foaled in May last, and is a fine animal for the price.

It is reported that Mr Geo. Phipps, who left Holmesville last fall, to work with his uncle in Michigan, has been struck by a tree on the leg, injuring it very severely near the heel. As a consequence he has been laid up for several weeks.

A serious accident happened to Mr Geo. Stewart, of Wawanosh recently. While attempting to kill a beaver the animal broke loose and stumbled against Mr Stewart, crushing his leg against a sleigh and fracturing the bone between the knee and ankle.

Last week, as Mr Fletcher McCartney, of the Maitland, was driving to Holmesville to ascertain the result of the election, his horse shied at the snort of another horse in another adjacent field and in so doing upset the buggy, throwing Mr McCartney violently on the ground, dislocating his shoulder and otherwise injuring him.

One morning about two weeks ago, Mr Arch. Campbell, of Stephentown township, near Shipka left home, ostensibly for the purpose of doing business in Exeter. He did not arrive at Exeter, and not returning home, his friends, several days afterward set out in search of him. They followed him as far as Dashwood at which place all traces were lost, and until the present time nothing has been heard of him. It is supposed by some that he walked to Hensall, where he took the train for parts distant. No valid reason can be assigned for his leaving so unceremoniously; he was not encumbered by debt to any serious extent, and has not shown signs of derangement in mind. Two suits of clothes, two caps and sixty dollars constitute his paraphernalia. He is about 45 years of age and "low-cut," somewhat stout.

The dancing party gotten up at the Exchange hotel by Miss S. McAllister G. Allen on Thursday night of last week, was a decided success, everybody being joined in the dancing with the flow of youth, and having a jovial time. James Bogie, Jr., ably discharged the duties of the master of ceremonies, assisted by Jacob Young, of Goderich.

Mr James Morris, of Buffalo, N. Y., is visiting at his father's residence Garbraud, and will likely remain for some weeks.

The annual financial meeting of the Presbyterian church came off on Monday night, Rev Mr Anderson in the chair. The minutes of last congregational meeting read and approved. The treasurer's report shows a detailed account of receipts and expenses, leaving a slight amount in arrears. A committee of E. N. Shaw, D. Cumming, A. C. Macdonald was appointed to canvass among the supporters for the amount wanted. A deputation from Knox church, Goderich, consisting of Messrs. H. I. Strang, A. Saunders and G. Stevan, were present and gave addresses of how the new system and methods of getting support for the church of late had worked with success. The wishes of the congregation of paying our share of the salary were acceded to. A wood bee for the church was left in the hands of Percy Smead and James Bogie, to be held at the farm of P. Kelly, who kindly gave the wood for the church. The bee to be on Monday afternoon. Percy and James were also to notify their numerous fair friends that Monday, a week later, they should be at the church at 1 p.m., sharp with their household weapons, to give the church its annual cleaning, etc.

An old pioneer and resident of the township of Colborne, Mrs R. Jewel, who lives near Benmillar, visited friends here last week. The good lady, though up in years, is still active and full of anecdotes of the early days of this township.

Mr Legear, of Bothwell, visited here last week, and was the guest of Mr J. Kennedy.

The new method spoken of by the Goderich deputation in raising funds will be shortly adopted. To collect for schemes of the church during the year, Misses Bogie, Horton and McAllister were appointed. John Horton was re-elected Treasurer, and A. C. Macdonald Superintendent of the Sunday School.

A cord of dry wood was given the church by H. MacManus; also several other matters were talked over at the meeting adjourned.

Mr R. R. Sallows will exhibit his celebrated dissolving views in Leebourn church on the evening of Friday the 25th inst., when he will give the full exhibition of the Holy Land and Life of Christ scenes, and also a number of slides.

"Let there be a large turnout of the neighbors, more especially as the church is somewhat interested in the financial result."

Rev H. Irvine, of the Nile, occupied the pulpit of Rev W. F. Campbell on Sabbath evening. There was a large congregation present on that occasion.

Mr Whyard, to whose illness reference was made in our last, departed this life on the Monday, the 14th inst., between twelve and one o'clock, p.m. He leaves a widow five years older than himself, his age being eighty-one. They have been permitted to enjoy each other's company for upwards of fifty years.

The widow, relatives and family have the sincere sympathy of the community.

We are favored with pleasant, mild weather and good roads which is unusual for the month of January; excellent whistling.

The week of prayer was concluded on Friday evening last; the attendance each evening being large, showed the interest taken and felt in the exercises, which were conducted respectively by Revs W. F. Campbell and D. G. Cameron.

We are pleased to be able to state that Mr Wm Begley is becoming convalescent from his recent illness. We sincerely hope that he will soon be able to resume his business.

It is with deep regret that we have to chronicle the departure from this life of one who will be very much missed from the family circle. We refer to Miss Elizabeth Hilland, of Ashfield, who died on Sabbath, the 13th inst. Her remains were interred in Dunganon cemetery on Tuesday afternoon by a large concourse of sorrowing friends and neighbors. There were upwards of one hundred conveyances. Rev J. Carrie conducted the obsequies. There will be a funeral sermon delivered in the Episcopalian church on Sabbath, 20th inst. Service commences at half past ten o'clock, a.m. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved in their deep affliction.

The funeral of the late Nathaniel Whyard, took place on Wednesday, the 16th inst., in Dunganon Cemetery, particulars of which we will revert to in our next.

Municipal elections being over with their attendant excitement, business in all its varied departments has resumed its ordinary state.

No sleighing yet.

Our saw mill has not got a log yet, so we may expect little work at the mill next summer.

The revival services are still being conducted in the Methodist Church. Mr. Czarwinski preached last Sunday evening. The same gentleman, who is very acceptable, preaches at Nile next Sunday morning and Rev W. F. Campbell in the evening.

Mrs Mathews continues the same, suffering but little pain.

Mrs Henry Irving is on a visit home today.

Messrs Newcombe & Co., of 108-109 Church-st., Toronto, are closing out at reduced prices one of the largest stocks of pianos and organs in the city, previous to alterations in their premises, which, when completed, will give them the most extensive pianoforte warehouses in the city.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

Meeting of West Huron Institute at Wingham.

The West Huron Farmers' Institute held its last meeting in Wingham, on Monday and Tuesday last, and had a most successful gathering.

President John Kerrighan occupied the chair, and in opening the institute congratulated those present upon the successful meeting. He had attended institutes in Wellington, Grey, Bruce and Huron, and had derived pleasure and profit from doing so.

Mr Elliott was called upon to give his experience in silos for winter-feeding. He showed four or five acres on and in drills three feet apart, and if sowing again he would sow four feet apart; the corn will be sweeter if it has plenty of room in drills. The silo was built in an ordinary barn in the corner, about 10x12 feet inside, and 20ft. high. Put in 5 or 6 feet of straw first day.

(This was considered rather much by Professor Mills.) It should be cut with sickle, as it will then be in better shape to handle for cutting in straw-cutting when putting in silo. Filled silo about 16 feet, and it settled about 5 ft.

Mr Pettit was the next speaker, and gave his experience in fruit growing. There were too many Baldwins and too few Greenings in the orchards in this country. The former were going down in the old country markets. Our apples were not big when they ought to be.

He began with the early harvest, as soon as full grown and picked today and shipped tomorrow. The Newtown Pippin, Rubaton Pippin and King of Tomkins were the best varieties for export. The Red Astracan was the next variety. Commence as soon as the first apple turns red, and keep picking as fast as they color. The Duchess of Oldenburg was the next variety, then the Gravenstein, then the St. Lawrence and then the Fameuse. He had received as high as 30s. per barrel in the Old Country. For Baldwins, Northern Spy, Rhode Island Greenings and two other varieties he had received 12s. 6d. as the lowest price, and 16s. as the highest price this season. Brand every barrel according to its merits; ship quickly; pack honestly; and unite for shipment.

Prof Mills' address was on beef cattle. Short-horns had good sized frames, and had good feeding qualities. The outline of form was: wide and deep chest; early maturing quality; well ribbed home. Bred only from the best females and the very best males. For best purposes, Short-horns, Herefords and Polled Angus were the best. Short-horns, in matter of size and form, mature a little earlier than any other breed, and are more noted for beef, than milk. No good results can be attained without good care and shelter. Aberdeens were equal to Short-horns aptitude to fatten, but were not good milkers.

EVENING SESSION.
Prof Mills spoke on farming as an occupation. Farming compared favorably with any other occupation. No one could succeed in any vocation without persevering, honest, hard work. Farmers may be successful and have more leisure than the members of any other profession. Two things would improve the farm: More taste and more education. The educated are the ruling class in every occupation, and any man who will read may be an educated man. Any man who can afford to smoke a cigar or treat a friend in his town ought to furnish his family with good reading matter.

Dr. Macdonald, M.P., was called to the chair and delivered a hearty welcome to those who had come to Wingham. He would not give a speech, but would endorse the sentiment of the former speakers. Some of the first men that ever decked the arena of this country were farmers. Farmers were better adapted physically than members of any other occupation. It would say to the young man on the farm: Don't envy the man in the store; don't envy the doctor, or any other man. The farmers of this country were the happiest of any people on the face of the earth.

Mr John Kerrighan addressed the meeting in an effective manner on the profits of property and progress in our country.

Mr Clime sang in excellent style, "The Irishman's Toast," and being encored, responded with "The Highlandman's Toast."

Mr Black made an amusing criticism of the meeting in an effective manner on the profits of property and progress in our country.

Mr Robt. Currie gave a speech on economy on the farm.

A vote of thanks was given to the speakers and the chairman.

MORNING SESSION, WEDNESDAY.
The president addressed the meeting on the primary object of farmers' institutes, which was to bring out ideas of different farmers on subjects relating to the profession.

Mr Wellwood gave his experience in raising horses. It went to prove that the Clydesdale was the best horse, and would stand the most labor, wear the longest, bring the highest price, and was more in demand than any other. The horse should have a flat bone, wide hook, deep with good strong heel, wide and of good depth; pasterns not too long, with good action; straight on front legs; a good wide knee-cap; head straight in front, wide forehead and clear ears denoted more intelligence; a short back preferred, with fine silk hair confined to back and legs entirely.

Mr Spires thought the Clydesdale the best horse. He strongly objected to round bone in the legs.

Mr Kerrighan delivered an essay on the rotation of crops, which brought out discussion from Mr Currie and Prof. Mills.

Mr J. A. Morton gave his experience in corn raising.

Mr Pettit spoke on the good derived from farmer's institutes.

Moved and seconded that the next meeting of the institute be held in the village of Blyth on the 12th and 13th of March. Carried.

Moved by Mr John McCallum, seconded by Mr C. J. S. Nafel, that Mr Harry Morris be a delegate to attend the Permanent Central Farmers' Institute, Toronto on the 4th, 5th and 6th of Feb. Carried.

The meeting was brought to a close by President Mills with a few timely remarks.

The Emperor of China's household is to consist of 800 persons, including 75 astrologers.
