Items of Interest.

The skill of the best engineers of to-day is little less than marvellous. As an example, after boring through solid rock for fourteen months, under the base of a mountain, the heads of two shafts of the new aqueduct to connect New York city with a reservoir in the Catskill mountains, met within a fraction of an inch. The distance was 3,200 feet.

"Samuel J. Tilden," 41 years of age, of Chestertown, Md., is claimed to be the oldest horse in the United States. He was foaled May 6, 1869, and was at first christened Stonewall, but upon the nomination of Tilden for the presidency, his title was changed.

KEEP MINARD'S LINIMENT IN THE HOUSE.

His owner, Joseph Guest, has endeavored to find an older horse living, but has been unsuccessful.

An exchange says: "The United States is not the only country in which deaths from automobiles are very numerous. In Germany, during the year ending September 30, 1909, 194 persons were killed and 2,945 injured by being hit by automobiles. Carelessness, both on the part of the driver and the pedestrian, seems to be world-wide."

Where the Amazons Strike.

Alarmists everywhere are prophesying a sex war. They picture men and women as eyeing one another like dogs keen for fight, prepared to snarl over the few bones provided by churchly fate. Presently we may experience a state of affairs such as existed in the time of the Amazons, which the Spectator two hundred years ago described for the delectation of its readers. The men and women of a country quarrelled about votes or something, and finally settled their difference by each party taking a separate portion of the land for its exclusive property, and never seeing the other except at an annual meeting in a prescribed spot on the boundary of the two States. Both sexes were thus at liberty to organize their dominions as they pleased, and all careers, from a navy to a prime minister, from a cook to a queen, were open to everybody. Presently, however, so we are told, the women kept their prettiest frocks for the annual meeting, the men boarded their galleys to furnish entertainments for the fair strangers, and in the end both discovered the rest of the year so dull, in comparison with the period of union, that they decided to return to the old ways and live together. History does not record which sex capitulated first, though the suffragettes dare hardly hope the women held out longest, or they would surely have secured better terms for themselves, unless, indeed, "men were deceivers ever." Died of Diphtheria.

Little Velma Green, 5 years old, daughter of Lawrence Green, of York Street, died of diphtheria at the Hospital last night, having been taken there on Thursday. Her little brother and sister, also taken there, are holding their own and may recover. They were taken sick on the 8th inst. and it is regrettable that the parents did not call in a doctor till the 11th.

EVENING TELEGRAM FASHION PLATES.

The Home Dressmaker should keep a Catalogue Scrap Book of our Pattern Cuts. These will be found very useful to refer to from time to time.

Dainty One Piece Dressing Sack.

This exceedingly graceful little morning jacket was daintily developed in pale blue lawn, with blue and white dotted lawn for fancy collar, belt and sleeve bands. The making is a very simple matter, as the garment is cut in one piece, the only seam being a short one under the arms. The fullness is held in place at the waist by a belt of the material or ribbon, although if preferred the garment may be worn without a belt. Figured Japanese silk, challis, cotton crepe and dimity are all suitable for the making. Pattern cut in 3 sizes--Small, Medium and Large. Medium size requires 3 1/2 yards of 36 inch material.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in stamps or silver.

Little Girls One Piece Dress, With Glimpe.

This attractive little one piece dress is laid in a broad box plait in front and back. The square cut neck allows the garment to slip on over the head, although if preferred an opening could be made at the back under the plait. The glimpse of white lawn is finished at the waist by draw string inserted in a casing. The sleeves may be full length or terminate at the elbow. Linen, pique, madras and gingham are all suitable for the making. The pattern is cut in 5 sizes, 2 to 10 years. The six year size requires 2 yds. of material 36 inches wide for the dress and 1 3/8 yards for the glimpse.

A pattern of this illustration will be mailed to any address upon receipt of 10c. in stamps or silver.

The Tug Daisy in Trouble.

About 8 o'clock this morning the tug Daisy broke down when towing out the schooner Nellie M. When opposite Mr. Guest's premises the accident occurred. Evidently some part of the tug's machinery gave out. At any rate she was in a helpless condition. The schooner no longer depended on the tug to take her out, but getting under way sailed safely out the Narrows on her voyage. The Daisy kept blowing her whistle for help till a launch from the warship Brilliant went to her rescue; the pilot boat and Bowring's launch also went out and the latter took her line and towed her safely up the harbour to the Steam Tug Company's wharf.

Sailing for London.

The s.s. Telconia, cable boat, is taking a supply of coal and will sail direct for London. The landing of the Direct Cable Co.'s line was successfully completed at Harbor Grace the past week and the Telconia returned here yesterday. The cable was picked up seven miles off Cape St. Francis, spliced there and taken up Conception Bay to Harbor Grace. The work was completed to the satisfaction of all interested.

WITH THE ADVENTISTS.--The subject for Sunday at 6.30 p.m. in the Adventist Church, Cookstown Road, will be: "A Glimpse of Heaven." Mr. F. W. Johnston will be the speaker. All are welcome.

Accident to Carman.

A carman who was hauling sugar to Horwood's grocery store last evening met with a serious accident. He was lifting a barrel of sugar off the front of the cart when he slipped and fell backwards. The barrel of sugar came on his shin and broke it short off. Dr. Taft came and sent him to the Hospital.

HEAVY DOWNPOUR.--Last night we had one of the heaviest rainstorms of the season. The drains and gullies were thoroughly washed. Deep ruts were cut in the streets in several places.
