The Resignation of Sir Robt Bond.

On Saturday last we published a letter addressed to Mr. Clift by the leader of the Opposition, Sir Robert Bond, in which he announced his resignation of the leadership of the Opposition Party, and his intention to resign his seat in the House of Assembly. We refrained from comment on the reasons set forth by Sir Robert, and did not go into the merits of the question. We limited ourselves to an expression of appreciation of the signal services rendered by Sir Robert Bond to Newfoundland and to regret that the country and the Legislature had lost the benefit of a statesman of ripe experience, personal integrity and great ability. The President of the F.P.U., Mr. W. P. Coaker, has sent to us for publication, a reply to the charges preferred by Sir Robert against him. The reply speaks for itself, and we make no comment on it beyond a statement on one point, viz., that we sat in the House of Assembly as a member of his party for the sessions 1904-1908, and have been in intimate association with Sir Robert for the past ten years, and have not found in him the "dictator." Mr. Coaker speaks of Sir Robert as never attempting to dictate to us, and therefore we have never been called upon to submit to dictation. It is true Sir Robert has strong personality, and that personality has loomed large in the public affairs of the country, both in its government and in the Legislative debates. Sir Robert has been a "strong" man, but no "dictator."

Obituary.

EDWARD CUMMINS.

There passed away on Saturday afternoon, at the General Hospital, a bright young life in the person of Edward, son of George and Sarah Cummins, aged 20 years. Employed in the office of the Electric Light Department of the Reid Nfld. Co., since October, 1912, filling the office of assistant accountant, he was a trusted employee, a faithful servant and esteemed by his fellow workers. On Wednesday last he was taken ill, and all medical aid that was possible to procure was summoned to his assistance. On Friday night, at 11 o'clock he was removed to the General Hospital to undergo an operation, which terminated fatally, as before stated. Educated at the Methodist College, he gave promise of a life of usefulness and activity in the commercial profession he had chosen, but it was willed otherwise, and he has gone to his eternal reward, leaving father, mother, brother and three sisters, to mourn for one of whom they had great anticipations. The sympathy of the community will go out to the heart-broken parents, brother and sisters in their great bereavement, in which the Telegram sincerely joins.

EDMUND BURKE born 1729. Irish orator, writer and statesman. Macaulay says, "His political opponents did not grudge Burke being the first man in the House of Commons, for they admitted that he would have been the first man anywhere. He is among the greatest of those who have wrought marvels in the prose of our English tongue."

EARL OF IDDESLEIGH died 1887, aged 69. A Conservative statesman of great dignity of character and political sincerity. He was in the House of Commons 1855-1885, when he was raised to the Peerage.

Better to be despised for too anxious apprehensions, than ruined by too confident a security.

Letter From Dr. Fraser.St. John's, Nfld., Jan. 6th, 1914.

Dear Mr. Parsons,

In answer to your enquiries regarding the Ford Car which I purchased from you last season—1913, I may say it has given entire satisfaction. It has been in good running order during the whole year, and required no replacements, except to one back brake.

In addition to the ordinary town work I used the car touring. I took it around Conception Bay as far as Harbor Grace, then across to Trinity Bay, from Heart's Content up the South Shore by Trinity Bay through Heart's Desire, Heart's Delight, Island Cove, Cavendish, Witless Bay, Green's Harbor, New Harbor and then up to Whitbourne, from Whitbourne to Colinet, then back over the same road, and down to Brigus. Returning to New Harbor we went over the Barrens to Spaniard's Bay. On the Brigus Road we followed a car track three miles taking the car up to the side of the pond where we fished.

Some of these roads, like the Spaniard's Bay Road, were all rocks, and some such as the road near Heart's Desire, soft marsh, but the car is light, has good clearance underneath, and is a splendid hill-climber, so that nothing stopped it. It is also light on tires which is a great thing when touring. I had no spare tires on my tour and beyond two small punctures, no trouble.

Yours truly,

(Signed) N. S. FRASER.
