

IN STOCK at Hardware Headquarters

Cast Soil Pipe,
Lead and Iron Pipe,
Lead Traps & Bends
Pipe Fittings.

The Direct Agencies, Ltd

may 17, 12

Dressing Well

On a small amount of money is difficult to-day, but it is an impossibility for any lady with any amount of money to be well dressed unless she is Properly Corseted.

The ladies who wear

"W. B." Corsets

have reduced the worries of good dressing to a minimum. In the "W. B." Corset they have the first foundation of smart dressing. The "W. B." Corset is the best value for the money, and means economy as well also as comfort.

HENRY BLAIR

Sole Agents for "W. B." Corsets.

RED CROSS LINE!

The S. S. ROSALIND will probably sail from New York on February 21st, and from St. John's on March 4th. This steamer has excellent accommodation and carries both first and second-class passengers.

For passage fares, freight rates, etc., apply to

HARVEY & CO., Ltd.,
Agents Red Cross Line.

jan 21, eod, 12

Passed With Honors.

In the list of the first year medical examination passes in Montreal, the name of J. O. Fraser, son of Dr. N. S. Fraser, of this city, is found. He took honors in chemistry and practical chemistry.

Here and There.

WOOL.—Just received Crescent and Bee Hive Wool. G. KNOWLING, LTD., Feb 14, 31, eod.

DIPHTHERIA EPIDEMIC ABATING.—The diphtheria epidemic which was raging at Glovertown, has abated, and it is expected to have the disease wiped out shortly.

The tickets for the Comedy "The Wrong Mr. Wright" will be on sale at Geo. F. Kearney's at noon on Tuesday—Feb 14, 21.

OLD COMRADES MEET.—The C.C. C. Old Comrades' Association met yesterday, when twenty-two applications for membership were received. The roll now contains over 400.

LOW TEMPERATURE.—The thermometer at Signal Hill registered 23 degrees below zero on this date, 1875, about the lowest temperature ever recorded in city meteorological reports.

AT THE BALSAM.—The following are guests at Balsam Place: T. LeDrew, Cupids; A. A. French, Clarke's Beach; Rev. E. Andrews, Coley's Point; P. L. LeGrow, Broad Cove; Wm. Hogan, Hr. Grace.

For Colds, Grip or Influenza and as a Preventative, take LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE Tablets. Look for E. W. GROVE'S signature on the box. 30c.—Feb 12, 12.

HAVING HARD TIME.—The incoming express from Millertown Junction preceded by a rotary plow, was at Tickle Harbor last night, and is expected to reach the city to-day. This express left Millertown on Thursday last.

FOUND NEW-BORN BABE.—That a newly-born babe had been found on the incoming express, due this afternoon, was the intelligence received by Inspector General Hutchings yesterday afternoon; no other particulars were wired.

INVITATION TO VETERANS' WIVES.—The wives of all war veterans, naval and military, are asked to attend at Spencer Hall, Bond St., at 4 o'clock this afternoon, where they will be welcomed by the Ladies' Executive Committee of the G.W.V.A.

B.I.S. MEETING.—The adjourned preliminary annual meeting of the B.I.S. Society was held yesterday morning in the Society's club room. The President, Hon. J. D. Ryan, occupied the chair; sixteen applicants were admitted to membership; the elections of officers takes place on Tuesday night.

KYLE'S OUTWARD PASSENGERS.—S.S. Kyle, sailing for Louisburg at noon yesterday, took the following first class passengers: D. Fallon, E. Cleary, Miss E. Cleary, F. Howell, P. M. Martin, A. Aeschrich, Mrs. R. Dawson, K. McLean, J. Murdoch, D. C. Nolan, H. B. Hatch, F. Hartley, Capt. E. Roberts, S. K. Kendrick, D. E. Kendrick, Mrs. Kendrick, J. Kendrick, W. Hogan, T. Tucker, Mrs. J. Butt.

Life is laughter and love and friends,
And peace at night when the toiling ends;
It's bearing the burdens that come by day,
And at evening putting them all away;
It's earning a neighbor's grateful smile,
And making the humblest of tasks worth while;
It's in loving children who bear your name—
And these you can know without wealth or fame.

Millions have lived on this kindly earth
And shared in its beauty and gentle mirth;
They have loved its skies and its friendly trees
And its mountains high and its roving seas
Though never by fame were their manes blessed,
And gold and silver were joys they missed,
They gathered the sweets which life had to give
And they loved the world and were glad to live.

Why do men hunger so much for fame
That they spurn the joys which all men may claim?
Why do men slave to time's bitter end
For silver and gold they will never spend?
Why do they weary themselves and break
For a few men's cheers or a bauble's sake,
When life gives freely to all below
The self-same joys which the rich may know?

Why do men slave to time's bitter end
For silver and gold they will never spend?
Why do they weary themselves and break
For a few men's cheers or a bauble's sake,
When life gives freely to all below
The self-same joys which the rich may know?

Life is laughter and love and friends,
And peace at night when the toiling ends;
It's bearing the burdens that come by day,
And at evening putting them all away;
It's earning a neighbor's grateful smile,
And making the humblest of tasks worth while;
It's in loving children who bear your name—
And these you can know without wealth or fame.

Millions have lived on this kindly earth
And shared in its beauty and gentle mirth;
They have loved its skies and its friendly trees
And its mountains high and its roving seas
Though never by fame were their manes blessed,
And gold and silver were joys they missed,
They gathered the sweets which life had to give
And they loved the world and were glad to live.

Why do men hunger so much for fame
That they spurn the joys which all men may claim?
Why do men slave to time's bitter end
For silver and gold they will never spend?
Why do they weary themselves and break
For a few men's cheers or a bauble's sake,
When life gives freely to all below
The self-same joys which the rich may know?

Why do men slave to time's bitter end
For silver and gold they will never spend?
Why do they weary themselves and break
For a few men's cheers or a bauble's sake,
When life gives freely to all below
The self-same joys which the rich may know?

Life is laughter and love and friends,
And peace at night when the toiling ends;
It's bearing the burdens that come by day,
And at evening putting them all away;
It's earning a neighbor's grateful smile,
And making the humblest of tasks worth while;
It's in loving children who bear your name—
And these you can know without wealth or fame.

Millions have lived on this kindly earth
And shared in its beauty and gentle mirth;
They have loved its skies and its friendly trees
And its mountains high and its roving seas
Though never by fame were their manes blessed,
And gold and silver were joys they missed,
They gathered the sweets which life had to give
And they loved the world and were glad to live.

Why do men hunger so much for fame
That they spurn the joys which all men may claim?
Why do men slave to time's bitter end
For silver and gold they will never spend?
Why do they weary themselves and break
For a few men's cheers or a bauble's sake,
When life gives freely to all below
The self-same joys which the rich may know?

Why do men slave to time's bitter end
For silver and gold they will never spend?
Why do they weary themselves and break
For a few men's cheers or a bauble's sake,
When life gives freely to all below
The self-same joys which the rich may know?

Life is laughter and love and friends,
And peace at night when the toiling ends;
It's bearing the burdens that come by day,
And at evening putting them all away;
It's earning a neighbor's grateful smile,
And making the humblest of tasks worth while;
It's in loving children who bear your name—
And these you can know without wealth or fame.

Millions have lived on this kindly earth
And shared in its beauty and gentle mirth;
They have loved its skies and its friendly trees
And its mountains high and its roving seas
Though never by fame were their manes blessed,
And gold and silver were joys they missed,
They gathered the sweets which life had to give
And they loved the world and were glad to live.

Why do men hunger so much for fame
That they spurn the joys which all men may claim?
Why do men slave to time's bitter end
For silver and gold they will never spend?
Why do they weary themselves and break
For a few men's cheers or a bauble's sake,
When life gives freely to all below
The self-same joys which the rich may know?

The Week's Calendar.

FEBRUARY—28 Months—29 Days.
16—MONDAY. Lindley Murray (American Grammarian) died, 1826. Performance of "Beat Lyne," by B.I.S. Dramatic Company, 1892. Masurian Lakes, 1915. Erzerum, 1916.

17—TUESDAY. Shrove Tuesday. 1st election of officers Benevolent Irish Society: 1st President, Captain Winckworth Tongue, 1894. Battle of Meenae, 1848. Brig. William Donnelly launched at Harbor Grace, 1865. Battle of the Ancre, 1917.

18—WEDNESDAY. Ash Wednesday. S.S. Walrus arrived, 1870. Germany declared submarine blockade, 1915. Camerons captured, 1916.

19—THURSDAY. New Moon. First petition asking for Poor Relief, presented to House of Assembly, by Mr. Pack, member for the North Shore, 1823. Mr. Henley, telegraphic expert, arrived to test Valentin-Heart's Content cable, 1859. Adeline Patti (Baroness Cederstrom) born, 1843.

20—FRIDAY. S.S. Hungarian lost with all hands, 150 miles off Cape Race, 1860. Princess Royal born, 1897. S.S. Vanguard arrived at Harbor Grace, 1873. Leo XIII. elected Pope, 1878. Dardanelles bombarded 1915. Verdun, 1916.

21—SATURDAY. Explosion Springhill Mines, Nova Scotia, 117 men killed 1891. Gen. Townshend (defender of Kut) born, 1861. Rev. John Goodison, Methodist Minister, died at Carbonear, 1890. British occupied Jericho, 1918.

22—SUNDAY. Quadragesima—1st Sunday in Lent. Washington's birthday. Daily Seasonal newspaper registered by H. Winton, 1861. S.S. Bloodhound (second of the name), arrived 1873. Rev. W. J. Hoyle, Anglican priest at Carbonear, died, 1888. Installation of Bishop Howley, 1895.

THE JOY OF LIFE.

Millions have lived and millions have died
And never been known to the world outside.
Yet laughter and love were theirs to know
And the joys of life on this earth below.
They knew the charm of the summer sky,
The song of the streams as they traveled by,
And, wishing all which renown could give,
They found life good and were glad to live.

Why do men hunger so much for fame
That they spurn the joys which all men may claim?
Why do men slave to time's bitter end
For silver and gold they will never spend?
Why do they weary themselves and break
For a few men's cheers or a bauble's sake,
When life gives freely to all below
The self-same joys which the rich may know?

Life is laughter and love and friends,
And peace at night when the toiling ends;
It's bearing the burdens that come by day,
And at evening putting them all away;
It's earning a neighbor's grateful smile,
And making the humblest of tasks worth while;
It's in loving children who bear your name—
And these you can know without wealth or fame.

Millions have lived on this kindly earth
And shared in its beauty and gentle mirth;
They have loved its skies and its friendly trees
And its mountains high and its roving seas
Though never by fame were their manes blessed,
And gold and silver were joys they missed,
They gathered the sweets which life had to give
And they loved the world and were glad to live.

Why do men hunger so much for fame
That they spurn the joys which all men may claim?
Why do men slave to time's bitter end
For silver and gold they will never spend?
Why do they weary themselves and break
For a few men's cheers or a bauble's sake,
When life gives freely to all below
The self-same joys which the rich may know?

Why do men slave to time's bitter end
For silver and gold they will never spend?
Why do they weary themselves and break
For a few men's cheers or a bauble's sake,
When life gives freely to all below
The self-same joys which the rich may know?

Life is laughter and love and friends,
And peace at night when the toiling ends;
It's bearing the burdens that come by day,
And at evening putting them all away;
It's earning a neighbor's grateful smile,
And making the humblest of tasks worth while;
It's in loving children who bear your name—
And these you can know without wealth or fame.

Millions have lived on this kindly earth
And shared in its beauty and gentle mirth;
They have loved its skies and its friendly trees
And its mountains high and its roving seas
Though never by fame were their manes blessed,
And gold and silver were joys they missed,
They gathered the sweets which life had to give
And they loved the world and were glad to live.

Why do men hunger so much for fame
That they spurn the joys which all men may claim?
Why do men slave to time's bitter end
For silver and gold they will never spend?
Why do they weary themselves and break
For a few men's cheers or a bauble's sake,
When life gives freely to all below
The self-same joys which the rich may know?

Why do men slave to time's bitter end
For silver and gold they will never spend?
Why do they weary themselves and break
For a few men's cheers or a bauble's sake,
When life gives freely to all below
The self-same joys which the rich may know?

Life is laughter and love and friends,
And peace at night when the toiling ends;
It's bearing the burdens that come by day,
And at evening putting them all away;
It's earning a neighbor's grateful smile,
And making the humblest of tasks worth while;
It's in loving children who bear your name—
And these you can know without wealth or fame.

Millions have lived on this kindly earth
And shared in its beauty and gentle mirth;
They have loved its skies and its friendly trees
And its mountains high and its roving seas
Though never by fame were their manes blessed,
And gold and silver were joys they missed,
They gathered the sweets which life had to give
And they loved the world and were glad to live.

Why do men hunger so much for fame
That they spurn the joys which all men may claim?
Why do men slave to time's bitter end
For silver and gold they will never spend?
Why do they weary themselves and break
For a few men's cheers or a bauble's sake,
When life gives freely to all below
The self-same joys which the rich may know?

Why do men slave to time's bitter end
For silver and gold they will never spend?
Why do they weary themselves and break
For a few men's cheers or a bauble's sake,
When life gives freely to all below
The self-same joys which the rich may know?

"GEMS"

are the most satisfying
Cigarettes obtainable.

Positively
none better.

Imperial Tobacco Co.

NEW ARRIVALS!

TEA.

300 cases Hazelfield,
250 cases Lilac,
150 cases Lomax.

PORK.

150 Morris Family,
100 Short Mess,
150 Fat Back.

WHOLESALE ONLY.

HARVEY & CO., Limited

FRUITS!

AT LOWEST PRICES.

500 boxes Dried Apples—50's.
500 boxes Prunes—25's.
500 boxes Apricots—25's.
200 cases Tinned Peaches.
200 cases Tinned Pears.
200 cases Tinned Apricots.
300 boxes Seeded Raisins.
300 boxes Three Crown Raisins—25's.
300 cases Cleaned Currants.
300 cases Bulk Currants.
50 cases California Oranges.
50 cases Valencia Oranges.
Grapes and Apples.

George Neal.

BRISCOE!

The 1920 Briscoe shows quite a few improvements and refinements.

Longer Wheelbase.
Heavier Frame.
More Powerful Motor — 35 horse power.
Semi Elliptic Springs of unusual length.
Unit Power Plant, integral with transmission.
Hotchkiss Drive, with Flexible Fabric Universal Joints.
Spiral Drive Gear and Pinion in Differential.
Emergency Brake on Transmission.
Ball Gear Shift.
Larger Driving Compartment with more legroom.
Fantasote Top.
Better Upholstery.
Polished Hardwood Instrument Board.
The new Catalogue gives full particulars.

PARSONS,

The Automobile Man,
KING'S ROAD,
Tel. 109. P. O. Box 787.
Feb 12, 12.

Typewriter Supplies.

For the best results you require good goods. Get your supplies from "The First-Class House."

Our Wynola Bond — A high grade paper at a low price.
Carbon Papers in your particular colour.

Ribbons to suit your typewriter.

One L. C. Smith and one Royal Typewriter. Rebuilt machines in first-class working order.

Dicks & Co., Ltd

Booksellers & Stationers.

MINARD'S LIMENT CURE'S DIPHTHERIA.

"Reg'lar Fellers"

(Copyright 1919 by George Matthew Adams.—Trade Mark Registered U. S. Patent Office)

By Gene Byrnes

