Do American Colleges Foster Bolshevism?

Forum Declares Too Much Liberty Is Given Radical Speakers.

Edward G. Riggs, prominent political writer in an article published in the September Forum on "Radicalism in Our Colleges," says:

"There is a natural rebelliousness of youth, which promises progress; there is a natural venturesomeness to play free with ancient faiths; both of which are abstractions of the spirit and significant of drawing mental vitality. It is during the periods when these adolescent expansions are in process that the youth is captured by influences which deliberately lie in wait for him in the colleges. True, in after years a large proportion comes to their senses sufficiently to be able to sit on the fence and see themselves go by, but they come back to sanity. . . ."

"I suggest that the anti-radicals should have speakers to attend our colleges and use the language so familiar to the man on the street. They should have practical financial and business experience in order to be able to point out the fallacies advanced by the radical propagandists. Men in this very material business and professional world are usually measured

Bolshevism Cannot Win British Labor.

Englishmen are too individual for Socialism.

Lord Askwith, the eminent British economist, in an article written for the September FORUM, declares:

"The common sense of the country has, on the whole, countered half-baked ideas, and maintained a sound middle course between the dull creed of the reactionary and the terror of apostles. Labor dimly realizes that it marches on its stomach not on phrases. It dislikes dictatorial action, and objects to the control of fear."

"However much international socialism may be preached, the British workman is very individualistic and national. He is not partial to the schemes of foreigners, and there is no appeal to the majority of women, in the theories of Bolshevism or the stories of the doings in Russia. The international effort falls flat."

Sea Notions.

The sea is gradually getting more and more salty.

Sea vapour is not salty, the salt being left behind in the process of evaporation.

The salt in the sea comes from the land, being brought down by the rivers which gather the salts from the earth. If all the sea dried up, it had been estimated that the salt deposit left would form a covering one mile thick over a million square miles.

The sea has a great effect on temperature: in hot climates it reduces the heat, and in cold climates, mitigates the cold.

An analysis of sea-water from the English Channel revealed that in 1,000 grains of water there were 27 grains of salt and 8 of other saline matter.

The cause of the waves is the wind, which presses unequally on the surface of the sea, and depresses one part more than the other. Each depression causes a corresponding elevation, and the undulations are the waves.

A tide is a wave of the whole ocean, which is elevated to a certain height by the attraction of the moon; and then sinks.

There are two tides in a lunar day of 24 hours 49 minutes.

The only effective way of removing the effects of salt water from clothes is by washing the salt out with fresh water.

There is some truth in the statement that sea-water does not give people cold; the salt acts as a stimulant, keeps the blood circulating, and retards evaporation.

Wonderful Gain in Weight Reported By Young Woman

Only Weighed 75 Pounds But New Weights Over 100 And Is Gaining Every Day.

"Before I began taking Tanlac I only weighed 75 pounds, I now weigh over one hundred and am gaining every day," said Miss LaRue Davis, of Chattanooga, Tennessee.

"I bought my first bottle of Tanlac at Gas City, Ind., and it helped me so much that I continued using it. I have always been very delicate and suffered a great deal from stomach troubles and rheumatism. I rarely ever had any appetite and simply could not relish anything. I fell off until I only weighed 75 pounds and was so thin I looked perfectly awful. This is the condition I was in when I began taking Tanlac."

"Oh, I feel so different now. Even my complexion is improved. My appetite is good and I can hardly get enough to eat. Tanlac is simply grand and I can truthfully say that it is the only medicine that has ever done me any good."

"Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere."

Garden Party Successful

The Garden Party held yesterday in the lovely grounds in aid of the Labrador Public School and Orphanage, was a great success, and a substantial sum was raised towards this very worthy object. Stalls and tents were to be found all over the grounds, and every one was exceedingly well patronized. During the day the C.L.B. Band rendered some very pleasing selections. Amongst those present were His Lordship the Bishop, and Mrs. White, Rev. Canon Bayly, Rev. Dr. Pacey, Rev. Canon Bolt, Rev. H. Gordon, Rev. G. A. Moulton, Hon. M. G. Winter and Hon. R. Watson. Rev. C. A. Moulton and his energetic helpers deserve great credit for the success of the Garden Party, toward which the efforts and direction of Mrs. J. C. Oke, contributed in no small measure.

B. I. S. Defeat Cubs.

RED LIONS NOW CHAMPIONS

As a result of the B.I.S. win over the Cubs yesterday, the Red Lions are now the holders of the pennant for this season. The game was a very good one, being really won by pitcher Donnelly of the B.I.S., who completely shut out the Cubs. The B.I.S. however could not make much of Canning's full score for the seven innings being but two runs. The Irish gave a great exhibition of fielding whilst Donnelly in the box aroused the enthusiasm of the fans.

The following was the result by innings:—

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Cubs	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
B.I.S.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0

Unfortunately, the C.I.T.-Red Lions game could not be played.

Germany Must Prepare for Rev.

The revolution is being planned by the old Berlin students, who are now in a state of confusion. The revolution is being planned by the old Berlin students, who are now in a state of confusion.
