Local News.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.—The next meeting of the Teachers' Association for the North Riding will be held at Tail's School House, Elora, on Saturday next. Teachers and others interested in the cause of Education are invited to attend.

They are to have a new Roman Catholic church at Seaford. Thirteen gentlemen have subscribed over a thousand dollars. There are fifty-six families in the parish, and if they all contribute as liberally, a very fine church no doubt will be erected.

Mr. Alexander Somerville—the Whistler at the Plough—at present residing in Hamilton, intends proceeding to England shortly, with the design of publishing a book on Canada, calculated to influence emigration.

BENEFIT CONCERT.—Notwithstanding the inauspicious weather, we learn from the Fergus Record that the Temperance Hall was crowded with an audience to give Miss Jennie Fraser a benefit. Several of those who were to take part in the entertainment were unable to be present, but the beneficiary proved disappointed, many by doing their share and her own too.

The Narrow Gauge.—The Toronto Times says:—Mr. Laidlaw, leader of the narrow gauge party in Toronto, has been busy lobbying and working for several days. Even members of the Railway Committee, who had been strong broad gauge men, had been converted into supporters of the narrow gauge, but how it was done has not been made public.

AN UNAVAILING PLEA.—A transient trader was brought before the Mayor of Stratford a few days ago for selling off goods by auction. An auctioneer belonging to the town gave evidence that he had charge of the goods and was conducting the sale. He alleged that the defendant had nothing to do with the sale, that the goods had been consigned to him by the owner with the request that he would endeavor to do his best to dispose of them to the best advantage. His Worship took time to consider the case till the following day, when he gave his decision adversely to the defendant, imposing a fine of $4 and costs, amounting in all to $8.50.

POOR HOUSE FOR WATERLOO.—At the last meeting of the Waterloo County Council the tender of Lewis Kribbs for the erection of poor house buildings, for the sum of $8,905 was accepted. The work is to be finished by the 15th of December of the current year, under the penalty of $200 per week, for each week the building remains unfinished after that date. The following is a description of the County Poor House; proposed to be built. The building, including wings, is 120 feet long by 50 deep, and with basement four stories high, and contains in the front 2 large windows, 16 smaller ones and a large hall door. Two wings are attached to the main building, three stories high, including basement, with nine windows each in the front. The basement room contains laundry room, two store rooms, milk cellar, pantry, root cellar, dining room for males, do. for females, and an inmate's kitchen. First floor contains halls, large and small, six bed rooms, two children's rooms, office, dining room, keeper's kitchen, parlour, room and cells for male idiots, and do. for female idiots. Second floor contains two hospital wards, hall (large) or day room, and fourteen bed rooms. Third floor contains large hall or day room, and four bed rooms. The basement is built of stone two feet thick, the balance of brick eighteen inches thick. The appearance of the building will be plain but neat, and there is no doubt the object of the Council has been to secure utility and comfort with the least possible expense to the County.

COVERED RINK FOR GUELPH.

At a meeting of the curlers of Guelph, held in the Town Hall on Thursday evening last, Mr. Thomas McCrae in the Chair, and Mr. Charles Davidson acting as Secretary the subject of having a covered rink erected in town was fully discussed. Moved by Mr. Adam Robertson, senior, seconded by Mr. Wm. Mitchell, that it is desirable that the curlers of Guelph organize for the purpose of building a covered rink.—Carried. Moved by Mr. Alex. Emslie seconded by Mr. Andrew Armstrong that the following curlers be a committee to make enquiry of the owners of lots which they regard as best situated for the purpose, viz: Captain Barclay, Messrs. McCrae, Kennedy, Robertson, Davidson and Mills, and report at a meeting to be held in the Town Hall on Thursday evening next at 7 o'clock.—Carried. The meeting then adjourned.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

London Quarterly.—We have received the January number of this able publication from the Leonard Scott Publishing Company. The contents are: Sir Walter Scott; the Queen in the Islands and Highlands; Private Confession in the Church of England; Guizot's Memoirs; the British Museum; Longevity and Centenarianism; Phœnicia and Greece; Church Progress; What shall we do for Ireland?—The foregoing articles are all written with marked ability. The Quarterly is for sale at the bookstores.

Herper's Magazine.—This periodical comes to us from W. Tunis & Co. Clifton, freighted with a varied and racy stock of literature. No magazine that we know of presents its readers with so much miscellaneous information in a single number, and the Drawer—the inexhaustible Drawer—has lost none of its wonted efficacy in expelling melancholy. For sale at Day's bookstores, opposite the Market.

The Atlantic Monthly.—This excellent magazine has come to hand rich as usual in excellent reading matter. The superiority of the "Atlantic" is well known, and the solidity of its scientific or philosophical articles combined with the masterly manner in which all the tales that appear in it are written, has exalted it to a high position in popular favor. The present number maintains the reputation of the publication, and gives it the right still to claim the first place among American periodicals. For sale at all the bookstores.

Our Young Folks.—The March number of "Our Young Folks" has been received from Messrs. Fickner & Fields, Boston. It possesses for young people a varied array of attractions. Some interesting tales are continued, and fresh tales are no less enticing. There is a number of well executed and piquant embellishments, besides some beautiful and touching poetry.

London Society.—The February number of this magazine has been received from Messrs. Chubb & Co., Toronto. It has a captivating table of contents which are as follows: Theatrical Novelties; a Modern Vendetta; Twenty-four Hours; the Piccadilly Papers; Police Mysteries; Bones and I; Thumbnail Studies; Miss Sophy's Crutches; The Coin of the Realm of Love; Meeting a Valentine; More Dogs of Note; London Lyrics; Thrown; and The Westminster Play. There is much originality about the articles, and the illustrations are pointed and appropriate. For sale at the bookstores.

REV. DR. COOKE'S WORKS. Hamilton, Adams & Co., London; and all leading booksellers in Canada.

Many of the theological works of the past century have served a good purpose as a class, they are hardly adapted to the present day. This age requires that the fundamental truths of God's word should be presented in the most attractive manner, illustrated by all modern discoveries, and at the same time earnestly and forcibly applied to the understanding and to the heart. The works of the Rev. Wm. Cooke, D. D., of London, which we have placed at the head of this notice, are eminently of this class, and we are glad to see them introduced into this country. The large work on "Christian Theology," as the list of contents, shows is the most comprehensive in the language. The chapters on the Divinity of Christ, and on the Doctrine of Purgatory would alone make the book invaluable. The present edition is the eighth volume of this work since its publication in England. It is an exhaustive argument on the existence and perfections of the Godhead, and is now in the 2nd edition. It is reputed as a first class work on the subject.

The Shiknah, or the divine presence in the church under the various dispensations, is a work of surpassing interest. It traces the whole scheme of human redemption from the first promise to the present dispensation of the Spirit, showing all the dispensations to be but parts of a grand whole, originally devised by God, and gradually manifested. This work carries the reader with almost the interest of a poem.

The Three Intercessions United, is the title of a small book dedicated to the Evangelical Alliance, showing the unity in the plan of redemption, the work of Christ, of the Holy Spirit, and of the Church, and the part assigned to each. It is an important and interesting subject, and is well worth perusal. The book, bound in cloth, seems a marvel of cheapness at 30c.

Explanations of Difficult Passages of Scripture.—This work gives replies to the questions of actual inquirers, extending over a period of eighteen years, during which the author edited a London magazine. It therefore possesses an interest and freshness that no mere commentary could do, and, moreover, it exhibits an amount of research of which but few men are capable. The applications, too, with which many of the answers are concluded cannot but result in great good. This work should have a large sale amongst ministers, students, local preachers, Sabbath-school teachers, and inquirers generally.

In common with the Christian Guardian, and other Toronto papers, we take great pleasure in recommending these works to the Christian public generally, and especially to the wavering or to the young. The circulation of works of this class must have a beneficial effect, and we no doubt, largely counteract the influence of sceptical or semi-infidel publications, which are so widely circulated at the present day. We understand that our leading booksellers can supply orders for these works.—Montreal Witness.

THE MAILS.—On Friday morning two hundred bags of mail matter, being the accumulation at the post-office, Toronto for points east on the Grand Trunk since Monday last, left by the first train on that road. The load required two cars to hold it, and an extra staff equal to double the number of the mail conductors that usually accompany each train.

LOOKING AFTER THE MORALS.—At the last meeting of the Stratford Town Council the License Committee strongly disapproved of permitting minors and apprentices to sojourn in the billiard rooms, and enjoined the keepers of such rooms to prohibit their admission under severe pains and penalties. In amendment to the clause relating to billiard rooms, it was moved, that no license be granted such on account of the baneful influence they exercise upon the morals of youth. After considerable discussion the amendment was rejected, only the mover and seconder voting in favor of it.

The Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway.

The following is Mr. Gow's speech, delivered before the Railway Committee, against the granting of a charter to the Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway Company:—

Mr. Gow held that there were charters already granted covering the ground supposed to be run over by the Toronto, Grey and Bruce road, and it appeared to him absurd for the committee to seriously consider the granting of another charter, in view of this fact. Inasmuch as the Wellington, Grey and Bruce line had a charter, and are doing something with it, he held it wrong to start an opposing line. He was aware that it had been granted for ten years, but that was before the time that it could be profitably run. Since, however, the County Council had built several fine roads, they had improved the country to such an extent that a railway would be remunerative. From his point of view, he had no wish to deprive Toronto of any legitimate trade; but he did object to sweeping all the trade to that section of country into Toronto without any regard to any other point, and he held Guelph to be the natural outlet to the whole country. It might be urged that they have been dilatory in putting the matter through, but the parties who obtained the charter were a little ahead of their time, but for all that had they not obtained within the last two years $240,000 voted by the municipalities through which this road passed. This was an earnest of their determination in the matter. Such being the case, he thought it a serious matter to grant a charter to a competing line. No company could build either of these roads without being largely aided by the capitalists of Britain. The effect of giving the charter to the second line would be to make these parties hesitate in the matter. He assumed that the Legislature meant well, and that being the case, he was satisfied that the committee of the House would also hesitate to grant a new charter in opposition to one now in a fair way of being carried out. Again he was satisfied that the Toronto people, if they would only reflect, and their lands fall in the railway from Toronto to Nipissing. That being the case, he thought that it was still less necessary to ask a charter from Toronto to Grey.—From Orangeville there was direct opposition already to the Wellington, Grey and Bruce line, while the Northern and Grand Trunk railway lines furnished sufficient railway service for the districts nearer the city. But if there was more wanted than the Legislature has already granted, there was the Orangeville tramway, a road on the light broad gauge principle, so that if they did not embarrass them with a third charter, both will be under weigh in a very short time. So he held there was no necessity for a third road being chartered to develop this section of country.

Tracing the Derivations.
In connection with the Gaelic Prayer Meetings which are held weekly in Ayer, there was the usual annual gathering of the Highlanders in the Assembly Rooms, a short time ago. Addresses were delivered by several gentlemen, and among the rest by the Rev. Mr. Grant, who in the course of his remarks said:

There is one book of the Bible that has always had a special interest to me, and should have to all the Gael. I mean the epistle to the Galatians. Take away the last two syllables of that word, and you will at once see why it should be so: "The Epistle to the Gael." This is no fancy. The Galatians were Gauls or Celts. About 300 years before the birth of Christ three companies, perhaps clans, of Celts set out from Gaul, to find, by the help of their swords, a richer home. Two of these were slaughtered in Illyricum; but the third took possession of Byzantium or Constantinople, and the surrounding district. Niomedes, a King of Asia Minor, hearing of their bravery, asked them to help him with their good claymores in his wars; and as the reward of their valor gave them the province that was from them called Galatia. I cannot rival Capt. Macdonald's Gaelic in describing the introduction of Christianity in Scotland in the days of Iona and St. Columba; but I can tell you of an earlier apostle to the Gael. I mean the Apostle Paul. He twice visited Galatia. In his epistle he tells us that he preached there in much simplicity. Many different opinions have been held as to what that infirmity was. One ingenious, and not improbable, explanation has been found in this very passage. Paul says that the Galatians, "if it were possible, would have plucked out their own eyes and given them to him." Why give their eyes to Paul unless he had need of them? So some think that Paul's infirmity was weak or sore eyes. And this finds support in chapter x., where he says, "Ye see how large a letter I have written to you," or rather, as the original Greek may mean, "Ye see with what an oath letters I have written to you," as one whose sight was dim. But in this epistle I see many of the characteristics of my fellow-countrymen, the Highlanders, and some of their faults. For example, I see their warm, earnest, passionate love. Paul says, "Ye received me as an angel." Ye would have plucked out your eyes and given them to me." And yet, when some Jews had come and led them away from Paul's doctrine, they were just as bitter against him.—Am I become your enemy? They called him first "an angel," and in a little "their enemy." This is just the Celtic character.—Highlanders are hearty in their love, or in their hatred—thorough in their feelings. I hope you will all read this epistle with new interest now as written to the Gael, and will especially ponder its great lesson, twice repeated, "In Christ Jesus nothing availeth but faith which worketh by love." In Christ Jesus nothing availeth but a new creature.

MILITARY CONCERT.—The 13th Hussars intend giving a Concert in Guelph early in March, in aid of the Battalion Band Fund of the 30th Wellington Rifles.

The St. John Telegraph, which keeps a sharp eye on the Dominion Government, urges the immediate appointment of two Senators for New Brunswick. It is believed that these appointments will be made in time to give New Brunswick its full representation in the Senate on the re-assembly of Parliament.

BY TELEGRAPH

Despatches to the Evening Mercury.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.
London, Feb. 28, evening.—The royal assent has been given to the Bill for the suspension of the Writ of Habeas Corpus in Ireland. Mr. G. W. Hunt, Under Secretary of the Treasury, will be appointed Chancellor of the Exchequer. In the House of Commons this afternoon, Lord Stanley said an adjournment of Parliament until Thursday next was desirable, to afford Government an opportunity to complete the Cabinet. Mr. Gladstone said such delay in the proceedings of Parliament was unprecedented; but in the present case it might possibly be justifiable. Lord Wensleydale is dead. Burke, and other Fenian prisoners in the Warwick gaol, will be removed to this city for trial.

Paris, Feb. 28, evening.—Prince Napoleon has left Paris on a visit to Germany. The officers of the French army now absent on furlough have been ordered to report at their headquarters, on or before the 31st of March.

Cork, Feb. 28.—The personage of the Rev. Mr. Leslie, at Wilmot, near this city, was attacked last night, but the assailants were driven off. General Neagle and his fellow-prisoners were indicted for treason at St. Prisons to-day. Mr. Heron, counsel for the defence, moved for a delay of trial. After hearing motion, the Court reserved its decision.

Vienna, Feb. 28.—Baron of Budberg, Russian Ambassador to Paris, while passing through this city on his return from St. Petersburg, was violently assailed by a son of the late Baron DeMeyndorf, a well known Russian diplomatist; the assailant threw a hand grenade at the Baron. The missile failed to take effect, and the Ambassador escaped injury.

American Despatches.

Washington, Feb. 28th.—The Cabinet meeting to-day was of longer duration than usual. There is no doubt that a writ of quo impedit will be applied for by the Government, perhaps to borrow, to compel Stanton to show cause why he retains possession of the War Department. The President this evening entertained the Judges of the Supreme Court, Attorney General Stanbury, and a few others, at dinner.

Worcester, Mass., Feb. 28th.—Joseph Clarke, keeper of a gambling place, was robbed and murdered this evening in his rooms.

Boston, Feb. 28.—Two sisters, 18 and 10 years of age, named Collins, were drowned on Wednesday night last by breaking through the ice while attempting to cross a brook.

New York, Feb. 29.—A Deputy Collector in the Second District was arrested yesterday for embezzlement.

New York, Feb. 28.—The Times special says the impeachment will be applied for by the Government, perhaps to borrow, to compel Stanton to show cause why he retains possession of the War Department. The President this evening entertained the Judges of the Supreme Court, Attorney General Stanbury, and a few others, at dinner.
