Hand-Made Lingerie

TODAY and WEDNESDAY Model Hats, $10.00

Formerly $20.00 to $35.00

By far the most important sale of M illinery that has been announced this season here or elsewhere. Formerly we sold our pattern hats at HALF PRICE. This season we go one better and in nearly every instance the price mentioned is much below half. The hats included in this sale are the beautiful models that have been so greatly admired in our showrooms. Just here let us get the right meaning of "model." Most stores import pattern hats that they may copy the styles in less expensive materials and at the end of the season sell the original style at a reduced price as exclusive. That is not the Glanville way. Of the hats on sale here today, not one copy has been made. Purchasers get the original style just as it was designed in New York or Paris, without the possibility of a duplicate in the city. Salon, and visit it early, for a number of the styles have been shown

Here is a stunning effect developed in White French Tagel Straw, artistically draped with black Chantilly lace and trimmed with small ses and one large soft rose. Another effective style is of Nell rose, braid faced with black velvet; black plume at right side. Still another dressy model in white with facing of black satin, French roses and grass trimming and black velvet ribbon mount.

And so on we might go on through the whole selection, but to gain one of the Eighth Avenue windows since Friday, so we anticipate a rush. Again $20.00 to $35.00. Hats selling Today and Wednesda
