Questions for Farmers

Is it not true that during the last three years the old National Policy would have taken out of the pockets of the people six million dollars more than have been taken out by the Fielding tariff?

Is it not true that Mr. Fisher secured better quarantine regulations between Canada and the United States, and that while only $50,000 worth of cattle were exported to that country during four and a half years while the quarantine was in operation, the trade has mounted to $5,000,000 since the regulations were improved?

Is it not true that cold storage facilities have been improved, and that the value of our butter exports have increased from $1,000,000 in 1896 to $4,000,000 in 1899?

Is it not true that the export trade in poultry, eggs, fruit, and other natural products has increased nearly three fold, and that from year to year there promises to be increasing progress and development?

Is it not true that the export trade in cheese has increased 25 per cent, in pork, bacon and hams 32 per cent, and in butter, as stated, over 300 per cent?

Is it not true that creameries have been established in the North, and tuberculosis in cattle investigated and remedied, the San Jose scale stamped out by prompt and effective measures, a live stock commissioner appointed at the Central Experimental Farm, the work of the experimental farms generally developed and energized, and our relations with the British market generally improved, as witness the orders from the imperial authorities for horses, hay and other war supplies?

Is it not true that you grew poorer under the National Policy, that under the Fielding tariff your farms have increased in value, that those of you who had mortgages have reduced the indebtedness, that you are better able to meet store accounts and put up new buildings, that Mr. Fisher is the only practical farmer who has filled the office of minister of agriculture at Ottawa, that the administration of his department he has shown enterprise, courage and judgment, that no oppositionist seems to have equal fitness for the position, that all things considered the government has done well for agriculture, and that there would be no certainty of gain, and grave risk of loss, by a change of government at Ottawa and untimely interference with the wise and progressive policy of the department as now administered?

Of the $18,000,000,000 worth of commerce done by all nations England's share is 18.3 per cent, Germany's 10.8 per cent and 9.7 per cent falls to the United States.

yesterday afternoon to the residence of Mr. G. E. Hudson, Ballymore. The party left the city at 2 o'clock in busses, arriving at Ballymore early in the afternoon where they were most hospitably entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Hudson. An enjoyable evening was spent in music and games.

St. Thomas is going to have an Old Boys' reunion, probably about the end of August. This was decided upon at an enthusiastic meeting held last evening in that city. The date of the affair was not decided upon. It will be in the nature of a carnival and will continue three days. One day will be devoted to societies, another to military and another to the Old Boys who pay the city a visit.

—Waterloo county will celebrate the 100th anniversary of the arrival of the first settlers in that county at Waterloo, near Monday, July 2. A splendid programme has been arranged for the day, commencing early in the morning and continuing throughout the afternoon and evening, and comprising bicycle races, cake walks, trick and fancy bicycle riding, wire-walking, knife-flying, tug-of-war, league baseball matches, lacrosse, etc. The Waterloo and Berlin Musical Society Bands will provide music for the day. The programme is one which is sure to delight the residents of the Waterloo and surrounding counties, and many friends from a distance will likely participate in the pleasures of the celebration.

—Woodstock Times: J. W. Gibson, tea peddler, of London, appeared before Magistrate Field this morning to settle. He had previously pleaded guilty to the charge preferred against him by J. F. Wilson, county constable, for peddling tea without a license. His worship dismissed the case this morning by Peddler Gibson paying the costs, $2 20, he having already settled Constable Wilson's bill. Gibson told the magistrate that he did not take out a license because the price of it was a hundred dollars for two horses. This sum was altogether too high, he said. He intended to lay the matter before the county council, and see if that body would not do something to alleviate the hardness of his position.

RECITAL AT NORDHEIMER HALL.

Nordheimer Hall was taxed to its fullest capacity yesterday afternoon by a critical and appreciative audience which gathered to hear the recital given by three graduating pupils of Mr. Thomas Martin, they being Miss Helen, Miss Isabelle, and Miss Katharine Fraser. The recital was in every sense a most artistic one, and the performers gave ample demonstration of the excellence and thoroughness of Mr. Martin's methods of instruction. Mr. Martin has succeeded in imparting to his pupils that indefinable quality of style and finish that makes his own playing such a delight to the cultivated ear. The orchestra accompaniment to the three concerto numbers were played on a second piano by Mr. Martin. The programme was as follows: Concerto for piano and orchestra in C minor (Beethoven), Miss Green; (a) Prelude and Scherzo, Miss Isabelle; (b) nocturne in sharp minor (Chopin), (c) valse in D flat (Moszkowski), Miss Armstrong; (a) berceuse (Kjerulf), (b) valse caprice (Chaminade), Miss Green; concerto in G minor (Mendelssohn), Miss Armstrong; (a) La Fille au Tan (b) Rhapsodie Hongroise, No. 11 (Liszt), Miss Fraser; concerto in A minor (Schumann), Miss Fraser.

Grand Work of Dr. A. W. Chase

In Canada Alone Over One Million Samples Were Distributed During the Past Year.

The Sales of These Great Family Medicines Have Become Enormous.

When, after many years of phenomenal success as a practicing physician, Dr. Chase decided to make his field world-wide and to offer at a mere nominal price the great prescriptions which cost him years of study, research, and painstaking experiment to perfect, he did not dream of such wonderful success as has crowned his efforts.

As he states in his famous recipe life-long effort was to help to relieve suffering humanity of the distressing ills to which it has fallen heir. Like the greatest men of all ages, he was forgetful of fame, of wealth, or any earthly reward, and labored indefatigably for the benefit of his fellow-men.

The past year has witnessed remarkable stride forward in the popularity and sale of Dr. Chase's family remedies. The doctor always believed that a trial would convince anyone of the superiority of his special formulae, and to this end there were distributed in Canada alone, during the past twelve months over one million free samples of these great home medicines. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, Ointment and Nerve Food are unique, as the greatest sellers which the drug-gists handle, while in the winter season Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine and Catarrh Cure are popular rivals in the struggle for popularity.

The secret of this immense success is not far to seek. Each prescription was tested and perfected in private practice for years before being offered to the public, and when the people find a medicine of downright merit they do not neglect to tell about it. Like an electric current, the good news of the astonishing cures brought about by Dr. Chase's famous remedies has passed from friend to friend across continents and over seas, until the whole world rings with joy messages over the triumphs of one of the world's greatest physicians.

Conservatory Recital.

The fourth of the series of closing recitals of the Conservatory of Music proved no less artistic and enjoyable than the preceding ones. A large audience listened to the delightful programme furnished by Miss Margaret Crooks, of Woodstock, assisted by Miss Marion Hutchinson. Miss Crooks, who is a pupil of Mr. Barron, gave a performance marked by brilliancy and promise of still better work. In addition to her splendid technique, Miss Crooks is possessed of the faculty to infuse into all her numbers an individuality that makes them a keen delight to the hearer. Miss Hutchinson sang in her usual good voice. The part song which closed the programme was given by Miss Moore and five of her pupils. The programme was: Sonata in sharp minor (Beethoven), Miss Crooks; song "All for You" (Hardelot), Miss Hutchinson; (a) Prelude and Fugue in D major (Bach), (b) "Consolation," No. 6 (Liszt), Miss Crooks; songs: (a) "A Rose Fable" (Hayley), (b) "The Rosary" (Nevin), Miss Hutchinson; (a) Nocturne, No. 2 (Liszt), (b) "Magic Fire" (Wagner-Brassini), Miss Crooks; Tremolo Etude (Gottschalk), Miss Crooks; part song, "Dreamy Shadows" (Rees), Misses Durkin, Greenleaf, Stewart, Burke, Rowntree and Moore.

The handsome residence of the late William Rapley, at Strathroy, has been purchased by Mr. John Johnson, of Ferguson. Mr. Johnson intends taking up his residence in Strathroy at once.

Mr. John Smith, Belmont, is seriously ill at the residence of his cousin, Mrs. Louis Eckert, ninth concession, South Dorchester.

At a vestry meeting of St. John's Church, Glenora, on Tuesday evening, Rev. Mr. Elliott resigned the pastorate of the parish, and his resignation was accepted, to take effect July 8. Messrs. G. M. Harrison and J. F. Simpson were appointed a deputation to wait on the bishop at an early date in the matter of the appointment of a minister to fill the vacancy. Mr. J. F. Simpson was elected warden for the balance of the year, in room of the late Thomas Atkinson.

The death of Mr. John Heatherington, of Glenora, is recorded, in the 74th year of his age. He had been ailing for some two years. Deceased, who was a native of County Tyrone, Ireland, came to Canada in 1881, and settled on the farm on which he died. He leaves a widow and three sons—William, at home; John, of Metcalfe, and David J., at Peterborough, N. J.

At Guthrie Presbyterian Church, Melbourne, on Wednesday, Mr. Stanley Golden, of the firm of Richards & Golden, of that place, and Miss Annie, daughter of Mr. James Cooper, also of Melbourne, were married. The knot was tied by Rev. W. Cooper, brother of the bride, assisted by Rev. R. Stewart, B.A. Miss Golden, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid, and the bride's brother, Mr. John Cooper, assisted the groom. The bride looked charming in a dress of rose-pink silk, and carried a bouquet of carnations. The bridesmaid wore a white tulle dress and carried a bouquet of cream roses. Little Irene Stewart was flower girl.

NILESTOWN.

Nilestown, June 29.—John D. Milne made a flying call here recently.

The barn-raising of Walter Edwards went off splendidly. Sides were chosen. Mr. H. Piggett led one contingent, while Mr. H. Harris was his opponent with his quota of stalwarts. The latter forces reached the goal first. The barn, when completed, will be a first-class one. The ladies' part was equally cleverly executed, the spread being delightful to the eye, but more charming to the taste.

The Sunday school here revelled in innocent gaiety and June delights at their annual picnic, held on Thursday, in John Byers' grove, situated along the attractive waters of the River Thames.

That dangerous plaything for a child—a match—kindled a bad blaze in the house of George McMullen this week. The youngster set fire to the contents of a bureau containing winter bed clothing, wearing apparel, etc. The parents were out of the house at the time. Neighbors noticed that something was wrong and hastened in to the dwelling to find a fire going apace. The contents of the bureau were ruined, destroying much of the wearing apparel of the family. The father, being notified, got home in time to save some of the bureau's contents, including $15 in bank bills.
