WHERE IS MATTIE?

Windsor, Jan. 23.—W. Harris, a wealthy oil well owner of Petrolia, is in Windsor, looking for his 15-year-old daughter Mattie, who disappeared a week ago. She had a comfortable home, and the only reason her father can give for her going away is that her mother took her from the high school and kept her at home. No young man was paying her attention, and an elopement is considered out of the question. He thinks that she may be in Detroit.

Wireless telegraph stations are now being erected by the Japanese authorities on the Corean coast.

IS PURELY A LOVE MATCH

Austrian Arch-Duchess Elizabeth Married Today.

Bride Previously Relinquished All Claim to the Throne of Austria.

French Version of the Position of the Powers as to the Spanish American War.

Vienna, Jan. 23.—The Archduchess Elizabeth, granddaughter of Emperor Francis Joseph, was married today to Prince Otho Von Windisch-Graetz, at the Josefi Chapel of the Hofburg, in the presence of Emperor Francis Joseph, Countess Lonyay, the bride's mother, and a number of princes and princesses, belonging to the imperial family.

The Archduchess Elizabeth, in anticipation of her marriage to Prince Otho Von Windisch-Graetz, who is not of royal blood, today took the oath, renouncing all claims for herself and her descendants to the Austrian throne. The ceremony occurred at noon, in the privy council chamber of the palace in the presence of the emperor, a number of statesmen and the foreign diplomats. The archduchess took the oath kneeling before a crucifix.

The emperor's gifts to the Archduchess Elizabeth include securities valued at $1,600,000, yearly allowance of $250,000, jewelry valued at $1,000,000, a gold dinner service and several residences.

TRANSPORT STRANDED.

Queenstown, Jan. 23.—The British transport Minnesota, with troops on board, bound for South Africa, stranded while leaving Queenstown this morning. Her stern is high out of the water, and she has a list to starboard, but it is expected that she will be floated at high tide this evening.

SMALLPOX ON A STEAMER.

London, Jan. 23.—Two cattlemen, suffering from smallpox were landed here today from the British steamer Jacona, which arrived at London Jan. 10, from Portland, Me. Another man on the steamer, who contracted the disease, was sent ashore at Blyth.

333 TO 123.

London, Jan. 23.—The Opposition amendment to the address in reply to the King's speech, moved by Mr. Cawley, was rejected by the House of Commons by a vote of 333 to 123. The division on the amendment illustrated the divisions in the Opposition. Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman, the Liberal leader; Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Mr. John Morley and Sir Charles Dilke supported it, as did Sir Henry Fowler, although some other Imperialists, including Sir Edward Grey and Sir Richard Haldane, abstained from voting. Mr. Herbert Asquith was absent. All the Irish and extreme pro-Boers abstained from voting.

A FRENCH VERSION.

In view of the statement made by Lord Cranborne, the British under secretary of state for foreign affairs, in the House of Commons Monday, on the subject of representations made to Great Britain before and after the outbreak of the Spanish-American war, and the press dispatch from London on the same subject, the correspondent of the Associated Press made inquiries in an authoritive quarter in Paris, and received the following explanations:

In the first place, in the Spanish negotiations at the end of March, 1898, to secure the intervention of the powers in her favor, Great Britain took the same attitude as France and the other powers. She neither refused nor consented to join in collective action. All the powers were hesitating until they ascertained the intentions of the others. Russia clinched the matter by the Count Muravieff's blunt rejection of the proposal.

Subsequently, after General Woodford's conference with the Spanish premier, and Senor Gullon, the foreign minister, at which the latter indicated the extent of the surrender Spain was willing to make to the United States' demands, the Austrian Government believing Spain's surrender was sufficiently complete to satisfy the United States, instructed its ambassadors to propose to the European governments that a note be presented at Washington urging the United States to accept Spain's offer and avert war.

The Spanish ambassador in London saw A. J. Balfour, the first lord of the treasury, at Beauliel, France, who promised to instruct Lord Pauncefote to act alone, or with his colleagues, with the view to maintain peace. No collective action was definitely agreed upon, though Russia, France and Germany were disposed towards a movement which would avert an outbreak of hostilities.

A few days, however, before the war, it was learned that Mr. Balfour had raised the objection to which Lord Cranborne alluded to in the House of Commons on Monday, against any note which would have the appearance of putting pressure on the United States or offering an opinion on the United States' attitude.

The Austrian proposition then fell through and the subsequent joint resolution of congress rendered any futher action out of the question.

This was the extent of Great Britain's action in favor of the United States.

The statement of a prominent British foreign office official, quoted in the London press dispatch, regarding France's alleged support of the Austrian proposal, is declared to be incorrect. France did not back up the proposal. France's attitude throughout was friendly to the United States as well as to Spain, her ardent desire being to avert war.

THE RUSSIAN STATEMENT.

The correspondent of the Associated Press at St. Petersburg has obtained the following statement from the Russian foreign office: Russia has always been and now is extremely desirous of maintaining amicable relations with the United States. Russia never had any intention of participating in the collective step in the Spanish-American dispute, which did not directly concern her. Nor did Russia receive any proposition having such action in view. Indeed, we received no information regarding Austria's alleged initiative or about an attempt on the part of any of the powers to interfere in the interest of Spain.

UNLIKELY TO AGREE.

The international sugar conference at Brussels is practically certain to end in a disagreement between the powers concerned therein, with the result that France and Great Britain will take steps against the Austrian and German bounty systems.

ILLNESS OF LORD DUFFERIN.

The serious illness of the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava, ex-viceroy of India and ex-governor-general of Canada, has reached a critical stage.

ABOLISH THE SABRE.

The chief of the Norwegian army pronounce the sabre useless in modern warfare for unmounted troops, and have withdrawn it from the infantry. Hereafter mounted officers and men alone will carry the sabre, but it will be fixed to the sadle.

IN MEMORIAM.

London, Jan. 22.—The first anniversary of the death of Queen Victoria yesterday was marked by commemorative services throughout the United Kingdom and the colonies, and at the British embassies and legations abroad.

At Windsor, King Edward and Queen Alexandra, most of the other members of the royal family, Lord Salisbury, Lord Rosebery and the German ambassador to Great Britain, Prince Von Wolff-Metternich, attended a service at noon in the Frogmore mausoleum. The German ambassador laid a wreath from Emperor William on the tomb. Later 2,000 holders of tickets filed through the mausoleum and viewed the recumbent statue of the late Queen, which is now beside the statue of the Prince Consort. There were accession services in the afternoon in many of the churches, while military and naval salutes were fired by the artillery, and from the guns of the warships, which were decorated with bunting. The court has laid aside all visible signs of mourning and returned to bright colors.

At Berlin a memorial service, in commemoration of the first anniversary of the death of Queen Victoria, held at the English Church, and attended by the emperor and empress, Prince and Princess Henry of Prussia, and the diplomatic corps.

PRINCE HENRY'S PRESENTS.

Berlin, Jan. 23.—Prince Henry of Prussia selected, at the court jewelers today, about fifty presents for Americans with whom he will come specially in contact during his visit to the United States. The presents include several gold and silver boxes set with diamonds; they have the emperor's monogram, encircled with diamonds, enameled on the lids; beautiful silver cups, gold and silver cigarette cases, and small compasses, inclosed in gold and silver boxes, besides larger and more valuable gifts. His majesty will send Miss Roosevelt a jeweled bracelet, and Prince Henry will probably offer the President a fine hunting gun, with interchangeable shot and rifle barrels, and its accompanying equipment.

CABLE NOTES.

The London Drapers' Company yesterday voted a donation of £20,000 to the new university of London.

Lord Milner is negotiating with the lieutenant-governor of Queensland in regard to the purchase of 10,000 breeding cattle for South Africa.

The report that the British Government will impose a duty on timber in the new budget is discredited in the timber trade. The government has made no inquiries in the trade on this subject.

The chiefs of the Norwegian army pronounce the sabre useless in modern warfare for unmounted troops, and have withdrawn it from the infantry. Hereafter mounted officers and men alone will carry the sabre, but it will be fixed to the saddle.

ADVICE OF TORONTO'S HEALTH OFFICER

"It Is the Duty of the People to Get Vaccinated"—Smallpox Spreading.

Toronto, Jan. 22.—A new case of smallpox was reported to the Provincial Board of Health today from Ross township, Renfrew county. "Travelers are daily coming into the city from districts infected with smallpox, and to avoid danger, it is the duty of the people to get vaccinated." Thus tersely does Dr. Sheard, the local medical health officer, express his mind to the citizens of Toronto. Another case of smallpox developed in the city yesterday, and was removed to the hospital, the patient being a commercial traveler. There are now six patients in the hospital and two suspects.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 22.—Another patient suffering from smallpox was removed from the Bailey House on Notre Dame street yesterday to a quarantine hospital. The patient is Miss Fraser, a young lady of about 16 years.

Rat Portage, Ont., Jan. 22.—Smallpox has broken out in Mackie's lumber camp about 50 miles from town. It was first discovered by a man coming from Keewatin infected with the disease. He was immediately quarantined, and precautions were taken to prevent any more of the men from the camp reaching the town. When the doctor reached the camp he found a man working with the disease broken out on him. No alarm is felt here as the camp is securely quarantined.

NO EXCURSION.

"I see by the paper that Jones, who died yesterday, left two sons and three daughters."

"Wel, you didn't expect him to take the whole family with him, did you?"

THREE WANT THE HONOR

Trustees Divided Over Representation on Fair Board.

Teasdall, English and MacRobert Are After the Position.

McLean Called to Task by Trades and Labor Council—Committee Chairmanships.

Of the two meetings of the board of education, which will be held the first Tuesday and Wednesday of February, the second will be the most interesting and important. At the first very little business will be considered. No communications will be received, as they are passed on to the new board to deal with—and practically all that the present trustees will deal with is the reports of committees which contain no suggestions of unusual weight. One appointment will be made at this meeting—a successor to Miss Crowley, a teacher at Rectory street school, whose resignation is now in the hands of the secretary. Miss Crowley is rated in the first class of teachers, and her retirement from the local staff of teachers is deeply regretted by the trustees and inspector.

The inaugural meeting of the new board will disclose the results of sundry confidential confabs that a number of the trustees have had since election day. Most interest will be taken in the disposal of chairmanship. Nothing very definite is known of how they will go; but little doubt exists as to the chairmanship of the board, which is Mr. Charles McCormick's, if he wants it. It is believed also that Trustee Hamilton will get the chairmanship of No. 1 committee, and that No. 2 will be given to Trustee Evans, who last year presided over the audit committee. To whom the chairmanship of this committee will be allocated is not positively known, but Trustee Gillean is said to have a fair show for it. The decision, of course, rests with the party to which Mr. Gillean does not belong, but it is believed, nevertheless, that the board will allow the matter to go his way.

There will be a decidedly interesting split when it comes to the question of electing a representative to the Western Fair board. This is a position which is much in demand. For one week, more or less, it gives a fellow a delightful chance to swell his chest and involves passes and the wearing of pretty badges, so that it is quite a popular job, taken all round. For four years the trustees have been of the opinion that no member of the board would more ably represent them—intellectually and physically—than Trustee E. J. MacRobert, and for these years he has added grace to the fair board, made intelligent use of the papyrus of admittance and found a resting place for the be-gilded fabric that is the decree of dignity when the flags are flying at Queen's Park. But Dr. English thinks he can do these things just as well as Mr. MacRobert, and Dr. Teasdall is possessed with the idea that he, too, can candle the pasteboard and wear the badge as well as Dr. English of Trustee MacRobert. The fight is between the three. Mr. MacRobert can afford to be gracious and retiring and all that sort of thing, having had the job for four years, and is expected to do so. Then the two others can scrap it out. Trustee English was chairman last year, and many of the other members believe that should be satisfied for a while, and say that the fair situation should be solved by the election of Dr. Teasdall.

The Trades and Labor Council, one of whose nominees for school trustee Mr. John McLean was, does not relish the current imputation that he withdrew from the contest in No. 4 ward in consideration of being appointed a high school trustee. At its last meeting the members of the council adopted a resolution notifying Mr. McLean that he must appear before the council to answer the charge that is made against him. The credential committee, at the same meeting, recommended that his organization be asked to withdraw him as a delegate, or that he prove to the satisfaction of the council that he is innocent of the charge.

Inspector Sanders frequently comes across instances of youthful crookedness combined with amazing effrontery and ingenuity. The other day, for instance, he learned of such a case. A boy of good appearance and address, whom he believes to have been a self-constituted solicitor for the Children's Aid Society, called at a gentleman's house ano, with a plausible tale about learning some addresses to help in distributing goods, was told the name of the party at whose house he was and of the next house. Then what did he do but toddle along to the next house, and in the politest manner asked Mrs. So-and-So if she would mind lending 50 cents to his aunt, naming the lady of the house from which he had just come. In a day when borrowing has reached its greatest state of perfection—affecting everything from the rolling pin to the hat rack, 50 cents was a mere bagatelle, and the request caused no more astonishment than it would with any good neighborly woman who knows what it is to be caught 50 cents shy. But somehow, the woman of the case this time thought it rather odd, and bustled in to her friend next door herself, and told her that as far as the money went she could have 50 cents, or $50, for that matter, and so on. Explanations were finally made, and they told the story to Mr. Sanders, who told it to The Advertiser, and here it is.

Mrs. Harvey, government inspector of Children's Aid Society wards, has been working in this district since Tuesday, and will complete her inspections tomorrow. As usual, she is finding that the best care has been taken by the local society in placing the children, and only in one or two cases will she recommend that changes be made.

No further proposals regarding the street watering have been made either by Manager Carr or the committee appointed to deal with that matter. Manager Carr said today that he had not lowered his original offer and could allow the committee only a week or ten days in which to accept or reject it. He must have sufficient time, in the event of its acceptance, to provide the necessary machinery. On the other hand, the committee says that his figure is too high to consider, but the mayor says, high or not, the system should be tried.

The chaplaincy of Victoria Hospital has been given by the hospital trust to Rev. Dr. Thompson, formerly of Corunna. During the past year the work was done by Rev. Mr. Charlesworth, who did it for a merely nominal stipend. Dr. Thompson's salary will be made up by the trust and grants from the various local churches, in which, it is the intention to have special hospital Sundays. The collections are to be devoted to the chaplain's fund.

The mayor was ill today and unable to be at his office at the city hall. His worship regrets the indisposition the more as he will be unable to attend the Masonic ball tonight.

The legislative, entertainment and manufacturing committee is the bulky name of the committee that has been called to feet tomorrow night.

Luxuriant Hair.

Next time you brush your hair just look at it critically. Is it dull or excessively dry? Is it harsh or filled with dandruff? Is it thinner than it was five years ago? If you are dissatisfied with it you can be pretty sure that others will notice the defect.

For all hair troubles use Oriental Rum and Quinine Hair Tonic.

It cleans the scalp and stimulates the growth of the hair. It will stop falling of hair. It will help to make the hair glossy without making it greasy. Strong claims? Well, a good many customers have found them to be true.

KENTUCKIAN'S QUEER PLIGHT.

Was Driven From His Mountain Home by Moonshiners.

Being Assisted From States to This City Where His Wife's Relatives Reside.

Given twenty-four hours to leave the county in Kentucky where he was born and bred, Ralph Hall hurriedly collected his wife and three children and as much clothing as they could carry and left the home up in the mountains.

This, at least, is the story which a man giving that name told in the office of the poor commissioner yesterday, says the Detroit Free Press. Over six feet tall and a typical man of the south in all respects, Hall stood there asking for transportation to the home of some of his wife's relatives in London, Ont. She was with him, poorly clad and apparently almost exhausted from the excitement which the escape for her life and that of her husband and little ones had caused.

"I got a sort of longing for outdoor life," Hall told the office force, "I tired of quiet living and as many of my best friends were moonshiners, they wanted me to be one, too. I didn't like the idea, though.

"Well, it's hard telling what might have happened if a political dispute did not come up and the bushwhackers, some of them, fired some fatal shots. They did not charge me with any crime, but as I witnessed the shooting I was ordered to leave the country within twenty-four hours on pain of not only losing my life, but those of my family, I suppose.

"We traveled as far as Iowa and left the children with friends in that state. I believe in all we walked 300 miles."

Hall was supplied with transportation for himself and wife and left to board the train for Canada.

KOREAN PRINCE SAW NEW YORK SIGHTS

Jovial Expedition Cost the Oriental King Son $30,000 More Than He Had.

New York, Jan. 22. — A Washington special says:

It cost Prince Eulwha, second son of Heui Yi, King of Corea, $30,000 over and above his cash on hand to see the sights of the Tenderloin, New York. When he had run through the few thousands he had with him, he raised money on his promissory note for $30,000. When the note came due he failed to pay it, and the holders, Wolff Bros. & Co., bankers, with an office at 106 Broadway, brought suit to recover the money.

For three years the prince has been a student at Roanoke College, Salem, Va., but recently it was decided to send him to a northern college. He is now here, the guest of Minhui Cho, the Corean minister.

The prince displayed not a trace of regret when he discovered that he had been overcharged for his pleasures, and said he had no doubt his royal father, who allows him $8,000 a year, would honor his draft at sight.
