SECOND SESSION OF ONTARIO'S FIFTH PARLIAMENT.

A Large Gathering at the Dingy old Pile-The Speech From the Throne-Formal

The vicinity of the dingy red pile down by the water front known as the provincial parliament buildings bore some evidences of animation yesterday afternoon, when the second session of the fifth parliament of Ontario was opened by Lieut.-Governor Robinson. The weather was clear and bracing. His honor was escorted to the front entrance of the buildings by a detachment of the Governor-General's Body Guard, while a guard of honor from the Queen's Own, under command of Capt. Macdonald, was drawn up on the open square opposite the entrance. On Wellington street a salute was fired by two guns of the Toronto field battery, under command of Lieut. Mead.

The chamber was crowded with ladies and leading citizens during the reading of the speech from the throne. A prominent figure among the ladies was Mrs. Governor

Robinson, who was attired in a suit of purple plush velvet. She and Mrs. Mowat occupied seats to the right of the speaker. Chief Justice Hagarty and Justices Rose, Burton and Patterson were seated directly Burton and Patterson were seated directly in front of the throne at the end of the clerk's table. Behind them were Bishop Mahoney, Very Rev. Vicar General Rooney, Bishop Sweatman, Rev. Provost Body, Mayor Manning, the different for-eign consuls in the city, and large numbers of leading citizens. His honor entered the chamber and without further ceremony read the following speech from the throne: Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legisla-tive Assembly: In pursuance of the arreement between this tive Assembly: In pursuance of the agreement between this province and Manitoba, which last session re-ceived your approval, the question of our pro-vinci-1 boundaries has been submitted to the judicial committee of her majesty's privy council, and now I am happy to have it in my power to congratulate you that, so far as their lordshipsdealt with the question, they have ad-judged our true boundaries to be those which were awarded by the arbitrators, and have ever since been insisted on by this prov-ince in opposition to the dominion au-thorities and to the claim of Manitoba, My government was anxious that there should be submitted at the same time to tho same tribunal the question of our whole northern boundary, and also the question of title to certain lands to which the federal gov-ernment has set up a claim on other grounds. to detain fands to which the fourth got nent has set up a claim on other grounds. correspondence on these subjects, and e other correspondence which has taken to on matters affecting the territory, will ad befure

The correspondence on these subjects, and in some other correspondence which has taken place on matters affecting the territory, will be laid before you. After the decision of the privy council, I issued a proclamation bringing into force the act passed at your last session for establishing the provisional district of Thunder bay. By another proclamation, authorized by the same statute, that part of the province which lies west of the old provisional line from Hunter's island, has been erected into a territorial dis-trict of Rainy river." Legislation will now be necessary for the more effectual administra-tion of justice, and the establishment of reg-istry and surrogate offices, in this territory. A bill for these purposes will be submitted for your consideration. I commend to your at-tention also, the propriety of encouraging settlers and set lement by free grants in speci-fied portions of the territory. I have to congratulate you that since your last session her majesty's privy council has pronounced a judgment in regard to the legal rights of the public in the rivers and streams of the province, afilrming the views so stream-ously maintained by the provincial legis-lature,

It is alleged that $500 worth of mantles which formed part of Durner's stock, has been found in a Yonge street store and steps will be taken by the absconder's ditors to secure them. The interim injunction obtained by Mr. Pells against the city to prevent the pass-ing of the bylaw for closing Johnston's lane, west of the Grand opera house, has been continued until March 10.

Since the prices of all winter goods, par-ticularly millinery, mantles, shawls, silks, dress goods, etc., have been reduced so very much Petley & Petley are doing a rushing business and rapidly clearing out the balance of their winter stock.

The special correspondent of the Stand ard, wiring recently from Korti, gives the following description of the vagaries of the sailors attached to the Desert columns of march: "Their ideas as to the pleasure of this kind of locomotion will probably be considerably modified by the time they arrive at Gakdul. Everything is conducted in nautical fashion, and the camels are steered to the words of command, "Port" or "Starboard." The animals themselves appear puzzled with their new riders, whose vivacity and energy contrast strongly with that of the natives who are accus ""Mind your helm, Jack, or you will rub me abourd," are sentences one catches as the camels gets in motion.

Men and women in Paris walk about, go to cafes, and write newspaper articles armed with revolvers as in the early days of Arkansas. Moreover the practice of carrying a revolver is more common than is supposed. A friend belonging to one of the most respectable clubs said to me yes-terday: "I left the club at 1 o'clock. terday: "I let the club at I o'clock. There was no porter in the hall and I did not know where my greatcoat was, but I thought I should recognize it because I had left a revolver in one pocket. Well, I touched twenty greatcoats and in all I felt revolvers, and I was still searching when the norter entered and gave my mine

All the Difference.

All the Difference. A lady-never mind her namo-Home from a little journey came. The frosty wind was piercing keen: And for a week and more had been. Wrapped in her mantle's ample fold She could not keep her from the cold ; for, spite of cloak and furbelows, It chill'dher heart and nipp'd her toes. "O, Susand' do her waiting maid, In voice with pity fraught, she said, "Mow very hard this weather cold Sond John with some hot soup and coal To comfort Betty, poor old sou!; Or surely this inclement day Will snatch her aged life away." Thus, full of thought benevolent, Our lady to her parler went. "Susan," she cried in alter'd tone, "Mash of the mart and eased her toes ; "Susan," she cried in alter'd tone, Has John with 'coal to Betty gones' Has done in rhyme, the story old.

Thus, done in rhyme, the story old, Dear ladies, I relate again. The moral need not here be told, It is so very, very plain. —George Rule.
