The Socialist Bugbear in England. A correspondent writes us about the "grave danger" that England is in from the socialists. The "danger" aforesaid is enormonaly exaggerated : the sympathy is but weak between the socialist leaders and fair traders had waited upon Col. Henderson, chief of police, and had warned him of a probable collision with the socialists. The attitude and intentions of the latter's leaders are shown by the fact that at the meeting they advocated storming the fair traders' platform. The workingmen generally wanted the government to do something, in a regular, lawful way, while the fair traders were there to urge their specific of fair play to home industry, on the ground that it would at least do something towards relieving the prevailing distress. But the main object of the socialists was to "block" all remedial measures and bear cultivation" is the diotum of a least of $3.50 to $3 police, and heatilons of actitudes and intentions of senders are shown by the fact meeting they advocated atoms sible position, to meeting they advocated atoms and meeting they advocated atoms and meeting they advocated atoms and ame out is apring a little and a summing that the present mode of lumbering is persuant mode of lumbering

For some time past there have been numerous comments, both in private and public, and even from the pulpit of some of our best in private and public, and even from the pulpit of some of our best churches, in reference to the display and cost of funerals, and the exorbitant charges made in this and other cities; yet, as all the Undertakers doing business at the present time belong to what it known as the Undertakers' Association of Ontario, and they are bound to keep up the present prices, the sorrowing widow, father or children are at the tender mercies of the Undertakers, for as a rule most people would rather pay the price asked, while they know they are being imposed upon, rather than banter a bargain for the funeral of some loved one. We now propose supplying this long-feltwant by opening a Refarm Undertaking Establishment, in no way connected with any house in the city, and will do our utmost to give the public at targe satisfaction.
