PTE. NICHOL MCLACHLAN
A Brooke Boy Killed In Action

Still another young man from this district is added to the list of the heroes who have made the supreme sacrifice in the great world war now raging. On Saturday, July 21st, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McLachlan of the 12th line, Brooke, received official notice from the casualty department that their youngest son, Nichol, had been killed in action on July 6th.

Pte. Nichol McLachlan was born on the 12th line homestead 23 years ago. After leaving school he went sailing on the D. & C. line of boats, his father being a pilot with that line. Afterwards he followed threshing for a time. He enlisted in the 135th Battalion on Nov. 19th, 1915, and after going overseas was transferred to the machine gun section of the Fourth Battalion. He was wounded at Vimy Ridge in April last and sent to No. 3 military hospital at Boulogne. After recovery he returned to the firing line but was only there a short time before the end came. Pte. McLachlan had many friends, who while mourning his loss and sympathizing with his aged parents and family, have the satisfaction of knowing that he did his duty and laid down his life for home and country.

JUST as an instance of the extent of the business done by the Watford Wire Works we might mention that on Wednesday morning's mail they received orders from Winnipeg for one thousand and fifty gross of horse nose guards, one of the scores of articles manufactured by the firm.

THAT a general election will be held this fall seems certain. Whether the appeal will be made by Sir Robert Borden with a union Government and a new party, or with a reorganized Conservative Cabinet and a revitalized party, remains to be seen.

The funeral of the late James Styles was held from his late residence, Warwick St. on Saturday afternoon, the Revs. Tiffin and Sawers taking the service. The remains were interred in Mount Carmel Cemetery. The pallbearers were H. Lett, J. S. Williams, W. Styles, W. Kelly, R. Carrol and J. Carrol.

A BUSY afternoon was spent July 17 at Mrs. Newell's sewing and knitting for the Red Cross. A nice lot of work finished. The parcel sent to Hyman Hall, London, contained 4 suits pyjamas valued at $8.00 to Mrs. McPhedran, Toronto, 12 pairs socks including two pair knit by Mrs. Acton who is now in her 85th year. The contribution amounted to $7.00.

RELATIVES and friends writing to or sending parcels to soldiers are asked to spell out and not abbreviate either Battalion or Battery. Do not write "Batt." This will go hard with some people who write "Sat." for Saturday, "Meth." for Methodist, "Pres." for Presbyterian, etc.

It makes for correctness and is good form to write out in full all words. Avoid abbreviations in writing for the press or in addressing letters.

LAST SUMMER we published a list of unclaimed balances belonging to depositors in the Watford branch of the Merchants Bank. These balances totalled $1,149.49, divided among eleven depositors, and the amount would have reverted to the government had not the depositors read the item in the Guide-Advocate and put in a claim for the amount due them, which was paid. Thus eleven men received an average of one hundred dollars through the publication of the item. And yet, you will occasionally come across a beighted person who will claim that a local paper is dear at $1.50.

A LITTLE more civic pride would be a good thing for Watford. Our Main street has been in a deplorable condition this summer until the recent hot spell. Little has been done in the way of repairs for some years and the frequent rains this summer made the street a collection of mud holes. Oil is bright when the road is in good shape to apply it, but this year it did not seem to work well. A substantial pavement put down on a twenty or thirty year debenture payment would not cost any more than is now paid yearly for the since the price of this commodity has advanced to an almost prohibitory figure. Would it not be well for the property owners on Main street to get together and consider the matter?

CIRCULARS have been received by the local banks regarding the people's savings, and what action the Government would take in respect thereto. Many inquiries have been made by citizens regarding the safety of their deposits, owing to the debates in Parliament and by other public bodies regarding the conservation of wealth. The circular states that there need be no apprehension on the part of the public that any action of a detrimental character with respect to the savings of the public will be taken by the government. On the contrary, it will be the policy of the Government in the future, as in the past, to encourage the exercise of thrift and economy resulting in national savings, which have enabled Canada to maintain her credit and improve her economic position during the war.

THE news of the death of Miss Isabella Nesbitt on Friday morning, July 20th, came as a surprise to the community. Although it was known that she was under a doctor's care, having been taken ill several weeks ago while visiting in Warwick, her death was quite unexpected. Miss Nesbitt was a lady highly esteemed by all who knew her. She has resided in Watford for many years, making her home with her son, Mr. Thos. Brent. She followed the profession of an artist and showed considerable ability, her services being in much demand locally. For some years she had not been in very robust health, but was always cheerful and energetic, and had many friends. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon to Bethel Cemetery, Rev. R. M. Stephenson conducting the service. Besides Mrs. T. Brent of Watford she leaves another sister, Mrs. George Brent of Warwick.

MRS. DUNCAN DUNLOP

Passing of a Pioneer

On Friday, July 20th, there passed away to a better land Mrs. Duncan Dunlop (nee Eliza Smith) at the advanced age of 97 years less one month. Deceased was born in Kent county, England, in 1822 and at the age of 12 years came to Canada with her parents, three brothers and three sisters. The family settled on 18 sideroad, Warwick, that part of the country being then a dense bush. At the age of 20 she married Duncan Dunlop, of Warwick, who predeceased her thirteen years ago. Together they passed through all the trials and hardships incident to a pioneer life. There were thirteen children born to them and all but one survive her. Since her husband's death she has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Jonas Zavitz, of Brooke.

Kindly natured and of a bright disposition, Mrs. Dunlop made firm friends of all with whom she made acquaintance. She was a woman of saintly memory. Her large-heartedness was always in evidence, and friends in trouble found practical help and ready sympathy at her hands. Early in her youth she united with the Congregational church, and although deprived of fellowship with the church of her choice she maintained until the very last day of her long life a deep love for her Bible and her Saviour. The interest she acquired in youth in all things pertaining to the church and the cause of God, also the welfare of her friends, remained with her until the day of her death. The Rev. D. Brittain, while pastor of the Alvinston and Brooke churches, visited her often, and there grew up a friendship which made her feel that when the end came she would prefer him to perform the last rites. So, in accordance with her desire, Mr. Brittain, now of Caledonia, came at the request of the friends, and on Sunday, assisted by the Rev. J. Pollock, of Alvinston, the service was held at the home of her daughter. A large concourse of friends gathered to pay their last respects to a grand and noble life. Mr. Brittain took for his text II. Cor. 5:1. The remains were taken to Arkona and there left to rest until the resurrection, when the trumpet shall sound and loved ones shall again be united. The pall bearers were Jonas Zavitz, Shedrick Gale, sons-in-law, and four sons, Charles, James, John and Malcolm Dunlop.

Of the thirteen children born to Mr. and Mrs. Dunlop only one, William, of Warwick is dead. The surviving members of the family are Mrs. Eliza Beards, Bailey, Mich.; Mrs. Jonas Zavitz, Brooke; Mrs. Andrew Cutler, Gardena, Sask.; Mrs. N. Boyd, Forest; Mrs. Jas. Spearman, Bosanquet; Mrs. Rufus Russell, Arkona; Mrs. S. T. S. Gale, London; A. S. Dundy, Chatham; Malcolm, Windsor; Charles, Forest; James, Forest, and John, Kinglake, Ont. Deceased is also survived by 60 grandchildren, ninety-five great-grandchildren and 13 great-great-grandchildren, also by one sister, Mrs. William Maxfield, of McLeod, Alberta.

The Old Man

Backward, turn backward,
O time, in thy flight,
Make me a boy again,
So I can fight.
Make me a boy again
Just Twenty-One,
So I can shoulder
A knapsack and gun,
Give me the muscles
I had years ago,
Give me the step that's
Not wobbly and slow,
Give me the strength that
I may play my part
All that I have now for
War is my heart,
Give me the vim and
That vigor of youth,
I'll fight until doomsday, and
That is the truth.
Turn back the decades and
Give me a chance
To sail with the legions for
Far-away France,
What a chastisement it
is to be told:
"Back to the fireside,
You're no good—too old."
Time, you're a criminal,
That's plain to see,
You've made a confounded
Old slacker of me.
