

Aylwin, Que., to that field as a missionary. The reason advanced is Mr. Taylor's business ability. As an instance of Mr. Taylor's work, we may add that during the last three months the church at Aylwin has been repaired and a porch added, at a total cost of about $280, all of which has been raised.

The Rev. A. Lee, B. D., Kamloops, B. C., one of our graduates, is this year Moderator of the Synod of B. C. As such he has written a pastoral letter on family religion, which has been published in our church papers and favorably commented upon. Mr. Lee is now in his sixth year as pastor of Kamloops congregation. He received on Christmas Day a beautiful gold headed cane, as a mark of esteem, from his people. Mr. Lee is also Convener of Home Missions for his Presbytery, and has done much for the development of the Presbyterian cause in the interior of B. C. He also remembers his Alma Mater, and has sent us two students to study for the ministry.

Among other graduates who were remembered by their congregations during the festive season, we may mention the following: The Rev. J. P. Bruneau, of the French Church in Quebec, who was presented with a beautiful set of furs. The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Scott, of Hull, Que., also received a substantial token of the high esteem in which they are held by the members of the congregation. The Rev. D. Hutchison, of Cumberland, Ont., was presented with a beautiful fur coat, by the Rockland congregation, and a purse of money with which to purchase a sleigh and robes, by the Cumberland congregation. The Rev. S. F. MacCusker, of St. Louis de Gonzague, Que., was presented by his congregation with a fur coat and an address expressing their respect and appreciation of his earnest efforts for their good.

The Rev. W. T. D. Moss, B. A., of Marshfield, P. E. I., was also the recipient of a handsome fur coat and an address expressing the high esteem in which Mr. Moss is held by all who know him.

A new pipe organ costing $1,200 has lately been erected in St. Paul's Church, Simcoe, Ont. Special opening services were held on Sunday, Nov. 25th, when the Rev. Principal Caven, of Knox College, occupied the pulpit. This church has prospered spiritually and financially under the Rev. W. J. Dey, M. A., who became its pastor in 1890. Mr. Dey has the happy faculty of making those under his care work together for the good of the church. The societies of the church are well organized and contribute much to the success of the congregation. After graduating, Mr. Dey held the pastorate of Spencerville congregation for seven years, after which he was called to this college as lecturer in Greek and Latin and Dean of Residence, which position he held for four years.
