the yield?"
"As to the total yield I cannot yet say, but it is now evident that the yield per acre will be much more than last year and heavier than was at first yield per acre will be much more than anticipated. I should say that a very conservative estimate would be 25 bushels to the acre and in many cases 30 bushels would be nearer the mark Speaking of the movement Mr. Leonard said that it was unfortunate that only about one-half of the amount delivered by farmers was being ship-amount of wheat at some points. "We have cars to spare on the west-ern division now," said the general superintendent, in fact, we have so many we are blocking our own lines."

Packing Company Branching Out.

J. Y. Griffin & Co., pork packers, Winnipeg, have decided to establish a branch factory at Calgary, Alberta. Winnipeg, have decided to establish a branch factory at Calgary, Alberta. Mr. Griffin returned last week from a trip to that point, where he held a consultation with his brother, Joseph Griffin, of St. Thomas, Ontario, and R. Robertson, the firm's representative in the Kootenay country, as a result of which this new de-result of which this new deresult of which this new de-parture was decided upon. It is the intention to erect a solid stone building, 50x130, two building, 50x130, two stories and a basement. Plans are now being prepared, and in addition to packing hogs, they will deal extensively in butter, eiggs, cheese and poultry, etc., exactly in the same lines which they have been as the same lines which they are the progressive poil; and they unbounded faith in the west. They are the ploneers in the pork-packing trade at ploneers in the pork-packing trade at ploneers in the pork-packing trade at the progressive poil; and they unbounded the surplus from their packing house here. Some years ago they established branch warehouses at both Vancouver and warehouses at both Vancouver and warehouses at both Vancouver and addition to their Winnipeg plant is now being made, which will increase their hog killing capacity very much. This addition they expect to have completed by December 1.
