(Continued from first page) As to these matters Mr. Heare had nothing to say, beyond the general atstement that they were abound, opeaking of the Davitt dis lisures, Mr. Van Cost, post caster of New York, said that there was a private ditistive named Newcombs employed in the Past Office about the commo employed in the Las off is added the time mentioned by Davit, but he had never heard of any such obarges being brought againt him. H: did not remember any such man as Matt O Brien. According to Davitt's story t is man O Brien had obarge of the keys and stan ps, which enabled him t) open what boxes he pleased in the building and use the state scamps of the department for # to purpose of the B-ltish scoret service. Mr. Van Cott said this was impossible.

THE "PORIS" STATEMENTS TO DAVIIT.

So f. r is the c'aracter of McDerm at is con

So f.r s the c' sractor of McDerm ::t is con-cerned this was the commencing to make himself conspications the manager of the Post Printing a:d Publishing Oo at once made in-vertigations, the results of which were published at the time. The following extracts were from the isaus of July 29, 1883 :--Suspecting his true character the Post set to work to discover who he was and what were his antecedents. By communicating with several of the most prominent Irishmon in New York and Brooklyp of all Irish political shades, it was accertained that he was distrusted on all sides, while a charge of being an informer was havging over his head. A leading man wrote : "We have heard stories of McDermott but have not seen any positive proof that would in-dicate him to have been the criminal connected with the arrest of thom in Cork, and while with the arrest of those men in Cork, and while he may not have been by any means been conne may noo nave been by any means been con-sidered a model man or patriot, we would hard-ly care to say he is guily of what has been attributed to him without better knowledge that we now have. Some parties here, I understand, claim to have proof against MoDer-most whom we have simply knowa as an able, reckless journalist and pulticina of unblenching basis and audacity who has had some word cheek and aulacity, who has had some good points too and worked for Ireland in ways that weemed to him no doubt the proper ones. While an outspoken advocate of various means of warfare against England McDarmott has not, so far as we can learn, been admitted to the cours 1 of any section of the Revolutionary Party." Another very prominent Irishman wrote: "Your telegram and letter received. The telegram I answered yesterday. McDer-moto is reported by Rosaa's people here (with whom he was all isted) to have been the in-former in the Fatherstone Cork dynamite affsir. James McDermott, of Brooklyn, the man meant by Davist, and the one at present in Montreal is a Kubarnian and a hold unserturn. Montreal, is a Bohemian, and a bold unscrupa-lous ruttian. He was John O'Mahony's evil genius and a man to be avoided by any selfgonius and a man to be avoided by any self-respecting man." The manager of this paper while in communi-cation with Michael D.vvitb arranging for a seties of arbioles on Irish subjects from that gentleman, took occasion to erquire what the nature of McDermott's business was while in Europe. Mr. Davist thought it sufficiently im-portant to immediately cable the following despatch: "Letter received. McDormott is reported to be a opy and has probably organized those so called dynamics plots in Montreal, as he is believed to have organized those in London and Cork." This, of course, confinated our suspicions, but the nature of the evi-dence against the man was not suffi-cient to warrant us in making any direc-obarge, altbough we certainly would have done so had, we not known that even if M. McDermott was an informer he would find nothing to inform on here. . . . Unless M: McDermott was an informer he would find nothing to inform on here. . . Unless McDermott concosted information to give the Government, his mission here was a most un profitable one, insamuch as there were positive-iy no such plots ever existing, as are referred to in the despatch from the Daily Telegraph (This was a cable stating that McDormott was in the city, closely watched by the police, and was one of a secret society, having for its object the destruction of public buldungs in the chief was one of a secret society, having for its object the de-truction of public buildings in the chief oities of Canada.) H., h wever, undoubtedly abbempted to organize a secred: society in Mon-treal which would have for its object the collec-tion of funds to be used for revolutionary pur-poses. Two with sees can prove this fact as well as a proposition he made to pull down or blow up the Queen's statute on Victoria Square This proposition was so about that the men he made it to laughed in his face and treated the upster as a juke more than anything else. He Dermots was here that two informal machines were found in the Court House window, the powder in one of these proving sufficient to blow a log on Logan's Park to splinters. He says that the machines were found by a loafer, who thought that they were some strange kink of clocks, and that the ignoramos nearly ex-ploded one by cleaning out the powder-dyna-mite-with an old nail.

LONDON, October 11.-Michael Davitt re-iterates his charge that Hoare supplied "Jim" McDermott with money and

SENT HIM TO MONTEAL

SENT HIM TO MONTEAL to get up a dynamite agilation, and also hin's at further charges. Upon reading Hoare's denial Davitt said to a reporter: "I repeat as emphatically as Hoare denies that every word of my charges is true, and I challenge Hoare to put the truth or falsebood of the statement to a test by proceedings at law. I undertake on my part to prove each one of my charges and to press them to the bilt on the sworn cestimony of arents actually employed by Hoare and big of agents actually employed by Hoare and his predecessor, Architald, if I only get a chance to do so, and I thenk this might serve as a plain hint to Hoare, with whom I have not yet finished. I have something more so say about this gentleman aud his record in connection with the Pigebb Times conspiracy, and I can assure him I do not intend to mince my words. I am very anxies to get an opp rtunity of lay-ing bare to the word the whole infernal system of plots and plans whereby the secret service money of the British foreign office has been ex-vert in Am rise in the amplument of Mc. money of the British foreign office has been expent in Am rica in the employment of Mc D-rmote, the Pinkertons and others, and if Hoare will give me this opportunity I shall be devoutly grateful to hum " devoutly grateful to him."

HALIFAX, Oct. 13 .- The Gloucester fishing HALIFAX, Oct. 13.—The Gloncester heling sonoouer Sanuel K. Orane arrived at North Sydney to-day, having in tow the British tor pedo boat No. 62, which she picked up adrift at sea. This is one of the finest torpedo boats in the British navy, and her salvage value to the American schooner will probably be $25,000, which will be divided among the owners of the Orane, her skipper and the crew. The craw of the Orane know nothing of the fate of the crew of the ourpedo boat.

Admiral Watson immediately despatched the watship Buzzard to North Sydney to tow the torpedo boat to Halfax. The Admiral says she is one of the two torpedo boats brought across the Atlantic last year forspecial service with the North Arminor scunder. Each torrych boat North American equadron. Each torped boab oarries a lieutenaut and crew of twenty men. The warship Pelican was to have left New-foundiand last week for Halifax with the torpedo boat in tow. Admiral W.tson's advices are that her holds were battened down and he is convinced that the crew it safe on board the Despatches from Cape Breton late to night say the warship Pelican has arrived there in search of the lost torpedo boat which broke away from her yesterday during a severe gale The Pelican is from the Newfoundland fishery service, not Bermuda, as reported. The war-ship is now breating with the captain of the Orane as to the amount of salvage.

A DETECTIVE'S EXPERIENCE.

Detective Cullen, of the Montreal Police force, in a published statement says that he ac-cidentally discovered the identity of ', Red Jim'' when the latter was attempting to put up a job on Mr. Campbell, General Superinteudent of Police of Brouklyn. It seems that a few weeks Police of Brocklyn. It seems that a few weeks Police of Brocklyn. It seems that a few weeks previous to the period alluded to a Brocklyn school board offisial named Stewart had field to M ntreal with his family, leaving a heavy deficit behind. Stewart consulted a Montreal lawyer, who advised him to get out of Canada, and the defaulter with his fainly embarked for Europ3 on a saling vessel. By some means McDermott learned these facts and wired to Sups. Campbell to come to Montreal, where be would meet Stewart and McDermott at the St. Lawrence Hall. The tel gram was signed "R hach" Supt. Campbell was too wary, how-ever, to become a tool of McDermott, and suspected that it was one of 'Red Jim's" trick, and telegraphed Mr. Cullen to investigate. The detective soon traced the decoy despatch to Mo. detective soon traced the decoy despatch to Mo. Dermott, and came to the conclusion that it was part of "Rad Jim's" plan for making the "physical force" sympathizers here believe that he was a genuine Fenan, and of such impor tance that even Superintendent Campbell was after him.

Mr. Callen shadowed "Red Jim," and he says he used to see him holding conferences with English secret service men then in Montreal The Ohief Detective then set him down as " British spy, 'but an empty headed one at that who, having hean successful in small aff irs was who, having other successful is sinker all free was getting dizzy in attempting something big. He did things too openly to succeed, said Mr. Cullen. A friend of the Chief Detective played stolp ligeon on "Red Jim," but as he was a loyal subject who had subscribed to the Queen's statue, McDermott's proposition to blow up the s atue and the Court House staggered him, and converting his courted to up of the understad s atuo aud the Court House staggered him, and forgetting bis assumed character he protested that such outrages would not help the struggle for Home Rule. In reply to this is declared that McDermott with a volley of prifanity, eaid, "but is will insult the Queen." Mr. Collear's friend kept far enough away from "Red Jim" from that time out. The Chief detective states that an enemy of McDermott's ls understood to have come to Montreal to remove the epy, but failing to get a suitable op-portunity he returned to New York and a decoy despatch was concerted, which caused "the egy him there is a matter of history. Mr. Cullen thinks that it was while Mc.

A young man named Alfred Morin was on Toursday night shot in the arm, assaulted by two unknown men, and robbid of a gold ubain in Montreal. Morin had trouble some time ago with two men who assaulted him, and being prozecuted for this woru given a short term in goal. He was airaid that they would again attack him and had deolded to go to Boston. He placed his nephew in churge of the Row. #### Great Fire in Montreal.

The Pillow-Hersey Manufacturing Company Rolling Mills on Conde street were toesly des-troyed by fire on Friday night. Thousands of dollars' worsh of property were destroyed and three hundred men will be out of employment. About midnight one of the workmen discovered fire in the main workshop and the Company's private alarm communication with No. 9 station private alarm communicating with No. 9 station on Island street was sounded and a general alarm, tollowed by a second and a bird, was seen out from No. 9, bringing the whole brigade to the scene of the fire in a short time. About ten minutes after the first alarm was sounded part of the roof fell in, but all the employees had escaped and no one was hurt. A short time after, however, Fireman O'Rourke was struck on the head with a burning beam and had a be removed home. The fire was fought from
