THREE MONTHS MORE IN WHICH TO EARN A LOTHROP LITERATURE PRIZE.

FOR WHAT?

For excellent writing: the best thought expressed in the best way.

FOR WHOM?

For all in any way connected with American schools (which includes British American) public or private, secular or religious. The C. I. S. C. is considered a school, also all educational business institutions. College presidents, primary scholars, committee men and women, class poets, boys and girls, professors, teachers, scholars, all are on a level. If a little girl of ten, or her big brother or sister of sixteen, write bright things, we can assure them that they will be treated with attention.

As likely as not a boy who studies in a sad schoolhouse, in the far West, will carry off an L. L. Prize. To be sure, the Harvard Annex girls, and Wellesley and Vassar, the Latin schools and High schools, the young men in Yale and Harvard, and Michigan University, are "very much stirred up" about the competition—but genius is genius wherever the sun shines.

WHAT TO WRITE ABOUT.

It may be an essay, story, anecdote, poem, verse, sentiment, proverb, sentence, a bright and pithy saying, a humorous trifle, a happy hit—a bit of description, natural, unaffected, apt and adequate, stands as good a chance to get a prize as the most ambitious performance.

For particulars about the competition, amount of each prize (the whole amount set aside for distribution is $2,000), etc., get the June, July, August and September numbers of WIDE AWAKE. 20 cents each.

Anything important to Americans that people are talking about. Pick up your newspaper. There is politics. Young people would read politics if some common-sense articles were written for them. We would like an article of two thousand words that would show the benefits a TARIFF is supposed to ensure us, and another (same length) that would show the advantages of FREE TRADE. Make both theories clear to us, please.

Subjects are as thick as blackberries. Who will describe the CAUCUS? Who will tell about the machinery of the TOWN MEETING? Neither of these manuscripts must be over a thousand words long.

WIDE AWAKE wants some good, stirring, ringing stories of school life. A serial story of thirty-five to forty thousand words, or short stories of individual experiences, are alike desirable in this competition. On one of the vexing questions of school-life there are always two opinions and great confusion. Shall a pupil speak up, or not, when a teacher requests the school to inform him of the author of a culpable deed? Is it honorable or dishonorable to tell? This is one of the subjects on which prize essays are invited both from instructors and pupils.

We want a good, bright plan for a Weekly News Class in the Grammar and High Schools, with the use of maps. We want a good practical article on "The use of the Newspaper in School." We want a good helpful article showing our young folks how to use the libraries in connection with their studies. Probably this class of manuscripts must come from the teachers instead of the pupils.
