

"Canadian Youth Perspectives on Sustainable Development" was written by a youth intern from a youth perspective in consultation with the various youth organizations listed at the end. The monograph was not intended to reflect the official views of the Canadian government, but rather to reflect the opinions and suggestions of a wide range of Canadian youths active in promoting sustainable development.