Flowers, Vegetables Will Be on View

Tempting Prizes Are Offered by High Park Horticultural Society.

The High Park Horticultural Society will hold its flower and vegetable show in the Howard Park School, Howard Park avenue, on Saturday, August 23. All exhibits must be in place at 4 p.m., after which the judges, Prof. Hunt of Guelph and Rodrick Cameron, of Toronto, as well as other prominent horticulturists will perform their duties.

At seven o'clock the doors will be thrown open to the public for free admission. The Howard Park orchestra will supply music, and the ladies' committee will supply refreshments.

The High Park Horticultural Society besides holding several flower shows each summer, gives prizes for the best kept lawns and premises. The first prize is a large loving cup, which can be won for the year, entitling the holder to have his name engraved thereon, and to retain it for that year.

Gold, silver and bronze medals are also donated, and engraved shields for minor prizes.

Vegetables included. This exhibit is held under different conditions from those in past years. Special prizes will be given for all vegetables have been added to the list, and it is expected that the western part of the city will show what they can do along this line.

Every resident of the west is free to exhibit his flowers and vegetables. Special prizes will be given for all varieties of cut flowers and vegetables. A large streamer has been placed across Roncesvalles avenue and with bills and cards, the show is well advertised.

When cooking beef in a fireless cooker do not put salt on until the beef is done.

If fruits are canned as soon as they are picked there will be less loss by fermenting.

A coat of clear varnish is a good thing to give straw matting before it is laid.

It was a woman who made the first entry for the National Exhibition of 1913. This was away in March last, and from that time until during the last few weeks the rush in has been fast and furious, so many wanting space and opportunity to take a prize in our great annual contest.

There are a thousand more entries than there were last year, and taking this as the unit of standard for the entire exhibits, we can form some estimate of the increase of interest awakened during the last 12 months.

Women are born housekeepers. This is no news, as The World was not surprised to learn that the women's exhibit is a new decoration in the form of a handsome frieze in plaster. The work is by Osborne and is a series of plaques representing Grace Darling, the Sister of Charity, Florence Nightingale and other eminent women.

Central Group. The central group are personations of commerce, industries, prose, poetry, science and music, with good Queen Victoria as the leading figure, the whole suggestive of the activities of women and of the things to be demonstrated and shown during the coming exhibition. Under the frieze is a tablet bearing the names of those who are evidently regarded by the women who have the affairs of the exhibit in hand as types of the best in art and literature. The honor roll has Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Lady Gairdner, Sarah Bernhardt, Baroness Budge, Countess, Sister Dora, George Eliot, Pauline Johnson, Rosa Bonheur.

Serve Tea and Lunches. As last year, the Women's World Depository will serve tea and lunch in the women's building, and the very Hall Association will have a tea party where refreshments will be
