TORONTONIANS PROTEST TO CELEBRATE -----E IN THE FREDERENKO CASE

Resolution Passed that Minister of Justice Refuse to Consent ot Extradition to Russia.

"Resolved that we, the citizens of Toronto, protest against the extradition of Sarva Federenko on the grounds that there is every evidence to show that Russia seeks the extradition of this man for reasons of a political character:

"Further, be it resolved that this meeting views with abhorrence the tyrannical conditions now prevailing in Russia, and urge upon the Minister of Justice to protect this noble exile from a government which denies the right to teach the principles of con-

Let it never be said of the British flag that is could not protect, or it would not protect, a man who had fled to its colors, who had committed no crime in the sight of God or man. I hope that such a disgrace will never be made of the British flag," said Mr. Wright, in conclusion.

Other speeches were delivered by Rev. Dr. Shearer. Edmund Bristol, M.P. William Glockling, Mrs. Shore and Dr. Margaret Gordon.

A collection was taken up to assist in securing legal talent to assist Fedorenke, which amounted to $128. A finance committee was appointed, composed of Edmund Bristol, M.P., A. W. Wright, Mayor Geary, William Glockling and J. G. O'Donoghue.

Father Minehan's View.

In a letter expressing sympathy with the object of the meeting. Father L. Minehan said that he would be untrue to all the traditions of his race if he did not enter a word of protest against giving Fedorenke up. He aded: "To show how far my repugnance to a surrender of this kind goes, I will take what I regard to be one of the worst political crimes of the last century, namely the Phoenix Park murders in Dublin, Ireland, in the year 1882. I can remember distinctly that occurrence and the horror it excited. But were the principals in that terrible crime to escape to a foreign land, I would oppose their extradition as vigorously as I could. Why? Not because I sympathize with crime, but because I hold that when a government by brutal coercion maddens men to crime, it should be let bear the consequences."

President Falconer, in explaining his non-attendance, wrote: "I believe that the cause of freedom, as we understand it, should be extended as widely as possible, and therefore that in any doubtful cases our authorities should be very sure as to the nature of the offence before extradition is granted."

dreams with words of truth and soberness.

Annexation is dead, and if it ever were a living issue in Canada your tariff laws would have killed it. We desire friendly relations and just trade agreements. We will buy with you, sell with you, talk with you, walk with you, eat with you, drink with you, pray with you, but we will not join your republic or follow your flag.

As a Peace Keeper.

"Canada's part is that of peace-keeper.

"She stands for peace, not for her own sake alone, but for thes ake of the Anglo-Saxon ideal, and for the world's sake. She will not even consider the possibility of war in the Anglo-Saxon family. The military-man who talks of a senals and fortifications on the great lakes we mock at and laugh out of court. We repudiate as a guilty fallacy the notion that in peace we should prepare for war, Canada's maxim, is: In peace prepare for more peace. This century of peace along the international boundary is the pledge and the prelude of an enduring peace more vital, more helpful, more beneficial to both nations and to the world than as yet has been dreamed.

"The peace for which Canada stands" and reciprocity are at present largely represented in university teachings. If this is so, surely an explanation is due from the university authorities. No state university across the line, nor would Queen's or McGill tolerate such rubbish as this 'nationalism.' Let the university rather teach of the lessons to be learned from the trouble-some times before confederation, or the various first and second university bills, the causes of the burning of the parliament buildings in Montreal, the struggle for responsible government and the progress of confederation, and it will be found that there is no room for 'nationalism' in Ontario. "If there was any Canadlan spirit in the rank and file of the University Literary Society, as of old, they would arise and ask for the resignation of the entire executive who are responsible for the Lavergne invitation. They should recall what happened once here to Wm. O'Brien.'5

TRINITY CONVOCATION

Rev. Dr. Boyle Delivers the Annual Sermon to the Students.

The annual convocation of Trinity College opened last night with a service in the chapel, which held a large gathering of the students of Trinity and St. Hilda Colleges, in their academic robes. In an eloquent address by Rev. II S. Boyle, D.D., of the faculty of Trinity, he urged strongly upon hearers the need of a larger tolera of religious viewe, and for a sympa-thetic understanding of every different view and aspect of Christianity. The service was conducted by Right Rev. Bishop Reeve; Rev. Prof. Duck-worth, dean of the college; Provost Macklem, and Prof. Cosgrave. The business session will begin this afternoon, when the executive committee will report that the efforts to effect amalgamation with Wycliffe College were unfruitful. "The report will contain an expression of regret and the hope that Wycliffe College may even yet be willing to co-operate," said the provost last night. He added that the business ?) be dealt with was of routine character.
