GENERAL RAIN IN KANSAS GAVE WEAK TONE TO WHEAT

general rains thruout Kansas and Nebraska where drought and heat had mare the crop situation critical. Prices broke as much as 2 5-8c and closed unsettled, 1 7-8c under last night. ished with a met loss of 3-4c to 2 3-8c. The outcome for oats was a decline of 3-4c to 1 1-8c, and for provisions a standing range from yesterday's final level to 5c below.

Notwithstanding the severe drop in prices the wheat market was on the rally when trade stopped. Much of the buying that caused the late reaction came from shorts who were securing profits. Nevertheless, an imi portant share of the purchasing originated with leading bulls said to believe that the help from the rains in the west had not been complete. It was also a fact that many speculators had foreseen the probability of a downpour and were prepared to take holdings sacrificed on stoploss orders by dealers less alert.

Corn Options Pounded.

Short sellers of corn who for a long time have not been within halling distance of a profit had an inning in earnest to-day. Such traders took advatage of the wheat weakness and visorously pounded down prices. There was much liquidation by tired longs of all classes. Weather conditions were regarded as highly favorable.

Outs declined materially but not to

Oats declined materially but not to the same extent as corn. Country buying kept the bears from being so aggressive as in the coarser grain.

Steadiness developed in the provision pit on account of covering by the larger shorts whom the grain weakness had given freedom for this manceuvre. When the day ended prices were within 5c of last night.

The average serge suit is a commonplace in men's clothes. It is made by all tailors, worn by nearly all men, and its chief characteristic is an irritating resemblance to its fellows. Its most distinguishing difference is the quality of the fabrics. It has remained for Broderick's to redeem the serge suit from the danger of living on its past reputation, and to tailor it with those distinctive touches which have come to be the special province of the Broderick

No Activity in Percupine Stocks at Week-End - Pearl Lake Continues Upward Swing, and Other Active Securities Show Responsible Undertone.

Saturday Evening, June 1.
While there was no particular activity in evidence in the mining stocks in the local exchanges to-day, nevertheless the market developed a firm tone which could only be accepted as a good augury in view of the dearth of speculation on the part of the outside element. Quotations were advanced in certain of the more prominent issues, and tho such changes as were made were too small to attract any material interest, yet the fact that the price tendency was upward affected sentiment favorably, and this was reflected in the feeling of confidence existent in brokerage circles after the close of the ses-

of Patricia Should Contain Important Mineral

Deposits.

Professor Willet G. Miller, previncial geologist, in a preliminary report on the new district of Patricia, recently added to the Province of Ontario, states that the region holds forth good promise of containing important mineral deposits and should prove a happy hunting ground for the prospector. He says in part:

There is thus much virgin territory to article the property confined their attention practically to the watercourses. There is thus much virgin territory to entice the prospector. Judging from what is known of the geology, the district should contain important mineral deposits. There are large areas underlain by rocks similar to those which in the older northern districts contained deposits of 30 gold, fron and other ores. Then there are rocks similar to those in which occur the nickel deposits of Sudbury. Associations of rocks are also found which produce conditions similar to those at Cobalt or in the older sliver mining area, near the head of Lake Superior. Limestone and other rocks along the coast may contain deposits of petroleum, natural gas, gypsum, sait and other valuable minerals.
