committee at a former meeting as to the utter impossibility of having the men do this. They ruled that the man should be given the course while at work. A letter had been sent to Drs. Merchant and Seath, pointing this out but the letter was ignored. Yesterday a committee, consisting of Trustees Noble and Edmunds and outside members, Bancroft, Richards and McKinnon, was appointed to wait upon the two doctors, to lay the matter before them and ask them to visit the schools and see why the former course was impossible.
School Without Coal.

Alexander McKay, who has charge of the technical schools, brought up the coal question. He stated than at the Central Technical School they no soft coal at all and with the hard coal they had it was utterly impossible to heat the rooms, let alone get power to run the machinery. The highest temperature that could be got in the rooms on Tuesday was 56 degrees, and in some rooms it was only 50 degrees. He said that he had considered closing the school, but that they had man-struction work at Halifax would be aged to stand it for that day, but the only work proceeded with. could not do it for another. Archbishop Matheson Tells Laymen Spiritual Life is Being Neglected.

A united service of intercession of all the Anglican churches in the city was beld in the Church of the Re-deemer last night. The body of the church was filled with men, while a few women were in the gallery. The opening prayers were read by the lord bishop of Toronto, while the lesson was read by the bishop of Archbishop Matheson, of Winnipeg, the primate of Canada, was de-layed, but arrived in time to preach an eloquent and powerful sermon, taking as his text, 2 Timothy, 1-18: "I desire, therefore, that the men pray in every place." He said that St. Paul learned at his conversion the difference between saying his prayers and praying. It was necessary for them to pray at all times and in an places in order that the atmosphere of God might be about them, no matter how secular their work. He said too much was left for the clergy, that it was necessary for the laymen to do more of the praying. The press also was too secular, he said. As the mouthpieces of Christian communi-ties, he said, the newspapers ought or that committee and had been present at very few of the meetings of that committee. I am opposed to it on principle," said Trustee Edmunds, "I am not opposed to the man at all." All objections were overfuled, however, and Mr. Brigden was elected, Trustee Edmunds being the only one who voted against him.

"We'll let the legal points take care of themselves," commented Representative J. Richards.

Surprise Visit Paid by Many Sir Knights From Hamilton Conclave.

Lionel Clarke, chairman of the harbor board; E. L. Cousins, chief engineer; R. S. Gourlay and John Laxton, members of the harbor board, are in Ottawa at present conferfing with Hon. F. B. Carvell, minister of public works, to see what course the sovernment intends to take about proceeding with the harbor improvements in this city. Mr. Carvell has announced that the appropriations this year will contain only maintenance charges, and that the reconstruction work at Halifax would be the only work proceeded with.

"If the harbor development work is held up it will be a most serious blow for this city," said acting Mayor O'Neill yesterday. "Unless the development is proceeded with the harbor board will be unable to commercialize their investment. That would involve a severe strain on the financing of the project, and consequently on the city."

Lionel Clarke, chairman of the harbor board will be unable to commender; E. L. Cousins, chief engineer; R. S. Gourlay and John Laxton. Act of the investment of the investment of the conclave showed a remarkable increase in the finances, and the recent smoking concert was a great success. It was stated that a series of entertainments had been arranged for the coming season.

Fire Chief Smith, it is expected, will call a meeting of the new firemen's pension fund committee some time this week to elect a chairman and outline a policy for the coming year's work. Since the elections, two weeks ago, the new committee has not heid any meetings, and many of the firemen are becoming impatient at the delay in putting the fund on a sound financial basis.

In the meantime the newly-elected representatives of the men on the committee refuse to commit themselves on the policy which they think should be adopted. "I would not like to express my personal opinion yet," said District Chief Corbett. "The chief will probably call a meeting for this week, when we will elect a chairman. After we have elected a chairman we can call our own meetings."
