IT'S FOR YOU to take the trouble to come and look my stock over to see what I mean by my own ideas.

I AM NOT going to sell for less than I paid for any of the cars. I have no use for that kind of bunk advertising. The only time one has to do that is when he feels he has to get "out from under" or that he did not use good judgment in buying.

I AM SATISFIED to own what I have in stock, but I have some salesmen who are dead anxious to see things move at this season, and I am therefore going to make it interesting for all.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

Locally on the Union Stock Yards market the week just closing has shown a notable increase in buying strength in practically all lines. While the good to choice butcher class, showing weight, fat and quality, were considerably higher, the medium butchers were in better demand, and sold at relatively higher prices. The only exception possibly to this was in the light stockers and feeders, for which there is not very much demand as yet, but this is not to be wondered at when we take into account the season of the year, with the farmers all head over heels in work, and the burning up of the Ontario pasture lands generally.

Starting the week on Monday with receipts of 3758 cattle, there was an appreciable advance on good butchers, which sold at about 25c higher, with good cows and good butcher bulls wanted and stronger. The common butcher cattle were likewise stronger, and in the minds of some of the commission houses, when spoken to yesterday, the close of the week shows an advance from 50c to 75c over the close of the last week.

Receipts were about normal all week, and this, coupled with the fact that the buyers for all the leading packing houses were on the job and looking for all classes, accounts of course for the generally active trade, and the good clean-up.

The outlook for the next couple of weeks at least is undoubtedly for a steady market at prevailing levels, and this view is shared generally by all the commission houses doing business on the exchange. On Thursday, with 400 or thereabouts, business was pretty well over long before noon. On the whole we must regard the week's cattle trade, with the possible exception, as stated, of stockers and feeders, as very satisfactory.

With about 4000 sheep and lambs on the market this week, 2000 of them on Monday, the market has shown a good deal of strength all week, on Tuesday a big bunch of lambs being sold by a local house at 18¾c per lb. This, of course, is an exceptionally high price, the bulk of the stuff going out at from 18c to 18¼c. Choice yearlings sold from $12.50 to $14; and light handy sheep from $9.50 to $10.50, while the heavy fat sheep and bucks were selling from $7.50 to $8.50. The lamb market was however weaker on Thursday, selling off 50c, or down around 18c for the best.

Calves have been selling strong all week, choice veal selling from 20c to 22c, medium calves from 17½c to 19c, and grassers and common calves from 8c to 12c. There seems to be a good demand for all classes of calves, more especially the choice veal.

The hog market seems to have got over what some of the market reporters described as a deadlock, and to have got down to a basis of give and take. In other words the packers are bidding less money and the shippers are taking it.

Deliveries of hogs at the yards during the week amounted to over 5000 head. Up to and including Monday, they sold steady with last week, since which time they have been selling at 22¾c f.o.b., and 23¾c fed and watered, with a corresponding decline to 22¼c to the farmer, and 24c weighed off. The outlook is now for lower prices, the packers quoting 22¼c f.o.b., a decline of 50c from last week for Saturday's loading. Just whether they will succeed or not is another thing, but that hog prices have been and are abnormally high is of course acknowledged on all hands, and it would not be surprising if still lower prices will prevail. Buyers for the local Canadian plants say that the prices obtaining here are out of harmony with those on the other side of the line.

FALL WHEAT MAKES NEW YIELD RECORD

Ottawa Reports Canadian Average of Twenty-Eight Bushels Per Acre.

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—The preliminary estimate of the yield per acre of fall wheat for Canada is 28 3-4 bushels, as compared with 19 bushels last year, and with 22 1-2 bushels, the decennial average for the years 1909-1918. The yield per acre for 1919 is therefore the highest average on record, the previous record being 23 1-2 bushels in 1915. Upon the harvested area of 797,750 acres, the total yield is 22,875,300 bushels, as compared with 7,942,800 bushels last year, and with 29,320,600 bushels, the record fall wheat yield of 1915. In Ontario, where the bulk of the fall wheat crop is produced the total yield for 1919 is 21,762,000 bushels from 744,000 acres, an average yield per acre of 29 1-2 bushels. Last year the Ontario yield was only 7,054,800 bushels from 362,616 acres, an average per acre of 19 1-4 bushels.

The total yield of hay and clover in Canada is estimated at 17,408,800 tons from 10,562,870 acres, an average per acre of 1.63 tons. The total yield is the highest on record, and compares with last year's record yield of 14,772,300 tons. Of alfalfa, the total yield is 290,300 tons as against 446,400 tons last year.

Western Reports.

In consequence of continued drought the conditions of grain crops in Saskatchewan and Alberta at the end of July was worse by from 8 to 10 points than at the end of June. Thus the condition of wheat in Saskatchewan on July 31 was 73 per cent. of the decennial average as against 91 per cent. on June 30. In Alberta the July percentage for wheat was 70 as, compared with 80 in June. In Manitoba, spring wheat, owing to a general outbreak of rust has deteriorated by 8 points, so that the condition is expressed by 92 per cent. or 8 below average, as compared with 100, or the promise of an average yield a month ago.

In the maritime province conditions continue favorable, the per centage for wheat being 103 in Prince Edward Island, 101 in Nova Scotia, and 96 in New Brunswick. In Quebec the conditions of a month ago have been maintained or even improved wheat being 98 for both months, and oats being 102 for July, as against 99 for June. In Ontario spring wheat is 85 for July, as against 87 in June, and oats are 80 as against 85.
