Opening New Goods

every day adds to the interest of shopping and breaks the monotony of January sales. The song of the nail-puller fills the receiving room, and the gathering of Spring stocks goes vigorously forward. Our purpose is to give Canada not only the best values but the newest goods well in advance of the need. The public take us at our word and then add a stimulus by demanding constantly and imperatively more novelties here than anywhere.

The Way We Sell Watches

is just right for you but pretty tough on the jewellers. It's a question who to consider—the thousands who want watches, or the few who have them to sell. We believe your interests are served and our interests are served by selling Jewellery the same as Dry Goods, and that conclusion turns to your advantage in such prices as these:—

Brand new Watches, made with solid nickel case, thick French round glass, stem wind and set, fitted with reliable Waltham or Elgin movement, our usual price $7; on sale Tuesday morning at $4.75

The same kind of a watch in solid silver case will only cost $6.40, and values are equally attractive the stock through. We buy in sufficiently large quantities to get prices down and get as near as possible to the actual cost of production. Mail orders filled promptly and qualities guaranteed exactly as represented.

Another Big Day

to-morrow to equal the activity of last Tuesday. The store will cease to be itself when there is pause in its progress. We therefore challenge our own record with a fresh arrangement of fresh things. There's a vast amount of warming-up stale left-overs in the markets generally. Catch words of many sorts are applied, but they don't make the old trash savory. A change of name is not a change of nature, and stupid exaggeration won't alter the facts.

Come in the morning if you want best choice. To-morrow we shall sell:

ALMOST BRAINED HIM.
A Six-Year Old Boy Accidentally Falls Under His Father's Axe.
Paris, Ont., Jan. 18.—A bad accident, which may prove fatal, occurred here last night, in which a six-year-old boy, son of Thomas Cavan, of Paris station, was nearly killed by his father with an axe. It appears that Mr. Cavan was splitting wood in the yard, the young lad, while picking up chips, slipped under the descending axe, which dealt him a tremendous blow, cutting through the skull and injuring the membrane of the brain. There is some hope of his recovery.

Widower's Head Baptized Church.
The seventh annual meeting of the Widower's Head Baptist Church was held on Friday last. The meeting convened at 3:30 o'clock, with Pastor W. W. Weeks in the chair, and reports of the various departments of the church were read, all of which tended to show the healthy condition of the church. At 5:30 an adjournment was made for tea, and at 7 o'clock a large attendance of members gathered for the evening session. The clerk's report was read, which showed that during

WHERE DOES THE CONSERVATIVE PARTY FIND ITSELF?

The Conservative party in Canada is in a state of confusion and uncertainty. It is, to use a phrase of the day, being "jollied along." By whom? Let us recall a few events. At the last session of Parliament, that of 1895, the members were met by a new Premier in Sir Mackenzie Bowell, successor of Sir John Thompson. The Manitoba school question opened the session as a first one, and every one thought the last one of the present Parliament. But the question had to be handled, even if an election were at hand. The Conservative caucus and tried to come to a decision. No decision was reached, but the Government gave a solemn pledge to their followers that nothing would be done in regard to this question without first consulting caucus. The school question still pressed for settlement and the Government announced in Parliament—ignoring the pledge—that at a sixth session would be held and a bill based on the Remedial Order would be introduced by the Administration. But this decision was come to by three of the French Ministers had resigned unless an explicit statement were made. That quieted the feeling only for a moment. Two constituents were elected in the Remedial Order, and they both went against the Government that had issued it, namely, Antigonish (Con.) and St. John's (Lib.). The French Catholics constituted a direct appeal was made to sustain a Government that had favored their views on the school question.

Then came the bye-elections. In Ontario, North Ontario was won by the Conservatives by simply "jollied" them along with the old story. But to-day John McGilivray, M.P. for the "jollied" along" with a promise that Manitoba would fix it all right. Ministers stated this most explicitly to some of their friends.

from this course? Nothing but one way upon another hath followed the testing of this "jollied" policy. When the Cabinet crisis of Jan. 4 came, it was hoped that a reconstruction of the Ministry on the lines of the general sentiment of the party toward the school issue would take place; but those who tried to effect this did not quite succeed, and they are not in any better standing in the "jollied" section because of their course. But they have no fear of ultimately succeeding and saving the Conservative party from going to pieces. The Conservative opinion of Ontario is with them; the sentiment of Toronto is with them, and wherever the people of the Dominion have spoken, it is in the same direction. The Remedial Bill to which the Government stands pledged will not be carried by Conservative votes. With a large majority in the House of less than forty, and thirty odd Conservatives, the Government is in a position to vote against such a measure, it follows that it can only be carried by the votes of the Liberals of Quebec, the French of Ontario, and the English of Ontario. But if the bill does go through, where will the Conservative party and the Conservative Government be in the general election? If the party went to the front, the Conservatives must come then—but it will come after the mischief has been done—always provided that Mr. Laurier's followers are not the cause of the school-tax issue. It would have been much better for the Conservative party if reconstruction had taken place before this. But one thing has come to an end, and the Cabinet is now a mere shadow. It is, viz., that the "jollied" tactics must cease. They are face to face with the people and are rendering an account to the people of Canada in a general election. And the majority of the Canadian people are against consoling Manitoba.

SINGLE TAX EXTRAVAGANCES.
A single tax primer has been published by Messrs. Funk and Wagners of New York and Toronto. The author is Mr. J. W. Bengough of this city. The primer is in words of one syllable, with illustrations. It is intended for school children.

minish the number of beggars or decrease the number of men looking for a job very much doubt. Whatever the readjustment might be under single tax, matters would soon swing round to where they had been. The single tax will never introduce the millennium of political economy. The single tax people of Toronto are prosecuting the work with a great deal of vigor, but they desire too much. They ought to turn out and take an active part in some of the movements that are right in line with their theory. The municipalization of such public services as electric lighting, for instance, is a practical feature of the single tax theory. Yet when an opportunity was presented for taking a valuable public service out of the hands of the city, it was not taken. The city of Toronto, in the late mayoralty campaign, it is said to have been switched over to Mayor Fleming. How it was brought about matters not, but the colored man and brother never gives "something for nothing," and is now pressing for his reward. It takes the form of the appointment of one of them to the police force, and is apparently meeting with favor in many quarters. The person that hopes to secure the coveted municipal plum is a gentlemanly Pullman car porter named Spence.

A petition praying for his appointment is in circulation, but it is not the one that was at first drafted and typewritten by Mr. Ward, who is managing the alleged deal. It is related that the first one drawn up was so worded that it implied an obligation on the part of Mayor Fleming to support the appointment of Mr. Spence to the police force. Mr. Fleming, when questioned about the matter, denied any knowledge of Mr. Spence, but said he thought that the appointment of a qualified colored man would meet with general approval from the Police Board, of which he is again a member.

CAMPES IN A PATRIOT.
He Sinks His Own Feelings in Order That Spain May Not Be Weakened.
Madrid, Jan. 18.—Premier Canovas has received a lengthy despatch from General Martinez Campos, the military hero of Cuba, with regard to the latter's recall by the Spanish Cabinet. The despatch is as follows: "I have no sense of failing power. I have not feared opposition of any kind, for I always know how to face it. I could not resign, of my own free will, yielding to pressure, in the presence of an enemy. I have no intention of making any decision, which may oblige me to do so. JUBILATION IN GERMANY.

THE EMPIRE HAS EXISTED FOR TWENTY-FIVE YEARS.

Berlin, Jan. 18.—To-day the 25th anniversary of the proclamation of the German Empire is observed in Berlin and throughout the empire. Services were held in all the churches and services in the city and in the public buildings, and private houses were decorated with flags, the effect of which, however, was greatly marred by the drizzling rain and fog which prevailed.

Besides the imperial ceremonies in the White Hall of the Schone, there were many feasts and ceremonies, public and private, throughout the empire. The Kaiser, in an oration in the universities this afternoon, and the Academician, 250 students will meet at a banquet at the Friedrichshagen brewery and there will also be a veterans' banquet at the Concordia Festsalle, which houses were decorated with flags. Four thousand tickets have been sold.

Prince Luitpold, Regent of Bavaria, wired to the Kaiser this morning, to which the Kaiser replied, to the effect that he was proud to be a German.

The Imperial and Prussian Ministers, with their families, were in the White Hall and proceeded to the Kaiser's apartment.

Shortly after they reached the White Hall, Prince Hohenzollern announced the coming of the Kaiser's family.
