SEVEN FROM STATES, ONLY TWO CANADIANS

The lads from the United States out-umbered the Canadians nearly four to ne in recruiting at the armories on Chicago and only two from this vicinity. All were found fit for some branch of the service. The men from across the border went to the 7th Overseas Company and to the Constructon Company, and the others to the Army Medical Corps and the Army Service Corps.

Today two men reported from St. Louis, where another recruiting depot of the British Recruiting Mission has been established.

The following are the names of those who offered themselves, together with the units to which they went: W. McNeilly, 7th Overseas Company; G. Brown, Construction Company; W. Y. Rankin, 7th Overseas Company; J.

F. D. McKay, Toronto, treasurer of the Canadian Independent Telephone Association, stated that the organization had won two important battles with the Bell monopoly in the Legislature the last session. One was the compulsory connection for long-distance work with rural lines, and the other was long-distance connection without compensation. All agreements in future would be standardized, giving every company the right to do business with the Bell Company. The monopoly was fast dying out.

Col. T. R. Mayberry, ex-M.P.P. Ingersoll, paid a tribue to the work done by the Independent Association.

Conditions were improving so far as rural lines were concerned.

EARLY MORNING SEND OFF TO DRAFT OF THE A. M. C.

At 5:45 this morning another drait of 60 men, in charge of Lieut. A. McKay, assisted by Lieut. M. T. Graham, from the Army Medical Corps Training Depot No. 1, left via the G.T.R. for an eastern training point. The Penman Mills, Paris, have closed a deal for the top floor of the National Pool Room, and will open a branch of their underwear manufacturing department here.

This will give employment to from 50 to 60 women and girls. This is the second branch opened here during the past few months. The other was for the manufacture of hosiery, and already more than 50 girls are at work.

It is possible that the firm will make further extensions in London.
